Aldermen and School Committee Disagree On Teachers' Salaries

School Committee Insists That $2000 Should Be The Maximum For Grade Schools

The calm and placid relations, the beautiful friendship which has existed between the Newton Board of Aldermen and the Newton School Committee for many years bids fair to become somewhat ruptured. Within the memory of the present generation these two bodies of Newton's public servants who donate their time and energies gratis in the cause of their city and its citizens have worked in unity, amity, harmony and brotherly love. It is one of the functions of the Board of Aldermen to devise ways and means to raise the mazuma to run the affairs of this charming burg. Another one of the functions of the Aldermen is to decide how the coin thus procured shall be expended. It is the function of the School Committee to determine the educational policies of the public schools of Newton; to decide what the children of this city will learn—and how. The School Committee does not have to worry about the little matter of "raising the dough." Neither does it have to defer much to the Aldermen regarding the spending of it, so far as the schools are concerned. Some years ago legislation was enacted in this state which made school committees quite independent of aldermen and selectmen. While the schools were being given protection from pernicious political influence, school boards were vested with power to have a free hand so far as determining the educational programs in their respective communities and the aldermen and selectmen have had to assume the responsibilities of financing the new and improved methods of education.

In Newton friction between the Aldermen and School Committee has been almost unknown, a happy condition which did not exist in many other communities. Although the Aldermen have had the authority to decide where schools shall be located and how much shall be expended on the construction of these buildings they have endeavored in the past to meet the desires of School Committees regarding new schools. The Aldermen in recent years also co-operated in the institution of the Junior High system in Newton by appropriating money for the erection of such schools although some members of recent Boards considered junior high schools extrava-

New Baptist Home At Chestnut Hill

Fine New Building Dedicated With Appropriate Exercises

About two hundred persons were present at the formal dedication of the new Home for Aged Baptists last Monday afternoon. The new building is located at 70 Commonwealth avenue, Chestnut Hill.

Walter S. Ray, president of the home, had general charge of the exercises. Rev. Dr. Walter Calley of Boston, who has been living in Florida, came from the south to make the dedicatory address. The prayer that preceded Rev. Dr. Calley's address was given by Rev. Charles H. Moss, chaplain of the State Senate.

Dr. Joseph Perry of Weston gave the invocation, and Mr. Ray and Mayor Childs of Newton welcomed the guests. Hugh H. Heath, general secretary of the Massachusetts Baptists' State convention, spoke briefly and presented the congratulations of the convention.

The keys to the building were handed to William E. Blodgett, chairman of the building committee, by H. K. Kendall, the architect. Mr. Blodgett then delivered the keys to Edgar Rhodes, the well-known Boston grocer, who, with his brother, Leonard Rhodes, were the chief contributors to the $300,000 fund which was needed to erect the building.

Rev. Dr. Calley and Rev. Mr. Moss are vice presidents of the home. Harry A. Gilman is the clerk and Leslie Langill is treasurer.

At the meeting of the Aldermen on April 16th, when the budget was acted upon, this matter of the increase in salaries for grade teachers was hotly debated. All the members of the Finance Committee, with one exception, were opposed to it. They argued that the cost of running the schools in Newton has increased out of proportion in recent years; so much so that other departments of the city have not been receiving their just share of the revenues for much needed improvements. Our streets, in many places require resurfacing; many new drains are wanted to care for the rapid development of the city; extension of playground work is hampered because of lack of funds; residents on unaccepted streets are clamoring for the laying out and acceptance of these streets and the placing of sewers in them. All these needs, according to the aldermen, have been and are being unfilled because of the diversion of so great a percentage of the city's income to the schools.

In the course of the arguments against the salary increase to the teachers it was contended the School Department has been "hogging" the revenues of Newton; that the teachers here have been "jockeying" with those in Brookline to obtain salary increases in both places; that many of the grade teachers are now receiving more than $2000 because of the institution of the junior high school system here; that if the teachers in the lower grades are given the increase, teachers in the junior high and high schools will have to receive proportionate increases which will eventually add $40,000 to the salary cost of the present number of teachers; that Newton's teachers rank 2nd or 3rd in the state under the present salary scale and are well paid; that if the School Committee insists on this increase, the building program planned must be curtailed to some extent to protect the taxpayers of the city from a too high jump in the tax rate.

Chamber of Commerce Plans Annual Meeting

Program Includes Apartment Houses And Action on Unaccepted Streets

In choosing the topics for discussion at the annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce—which will be held at the Newton Club, Newtonville, on Monday evening, May 14—the committee in charge of the arrangements for that event believe two of the subjects most in the public mind, as far as Newton is concerned, are the proposal to modify the Building Code so as to encourage the construction of apartment houses in Newton, and the problem of what Newton can do with the eighty miles of unaccepted streets within the city limits.

The apartment house question is one which has been discussed several times by the business men's organizations of the city, but it is believed that a great many citizens not eligible to attend these meetings, or too busy to attend hearings at City Hall, will find a great deal in the subject that is new and interesting, especially those as yet unfamiliar with the unique and apparently practical plan under consideration by the Claims and Rules Committee of the Newton Board of Aldermen. If adopted, this plan is expected to reduce the cost of apartment house construction in certain restricted areas, either in or contiguous to the business districts of the city. The Chamber is inviting an expression of opinion on this important subject from the members of the Chamber.

The discussion on streets is planned as a general discussion of the entire subject, although it is anticipated that the problem of unaccepted streets will be early brought to the surface and probably dominate the balance of the discussion. Because of the large area of Newton and the unusual street mileage, with an unusually large proportion in the widely scattered business and residential districts, the street situation in Newton is at all times one of the most difficult in New England. That a difficult job is being done by the Street Department, with an appropriation that is scrutinized with a great deal of care, seems to be the opinion of a great number of citizens. The unaccepted street situation, however, because of large number and total mileage of these thoroughfares, constitute a problem almost impossible of quick solution. More inquiries for information and requests for assistance come from members of the Chamber than on any other subject.

The speakers on the Apartment House question will be ex-Alderman John C. Madden, former vice-president of the Board and chairman of the 1927 Claims and Rules Committee; Henry Whitmore of West Newton, a prominent Boston realtor and an ex-president of the Boston Real Estate Exchange; and Alderman William B. Baker, present chairman of the Aldermanic committee on claims and rules. The speakers on the street situation will be Commissioner of Streets, George E. Stuart, and Alderman William E. Earle, chairman of the Public Works Committee of that body. There will be a general discussion on both subjects in which all who desire to do so may participate.

The usual dinner will precede the meeting. This will be served at 6:30 o'clock. Reservation for dinner tickets must reach the Chamber office not later than noon on Saturday, May 5. Members will be permitted to entertain guests at both dinner and meeting if they so desire.

New Pastor Installed At Auburndale Church

Rev. Cornelius E. Clark is Pastor of Congregational Church

The Churches of the Suffolk West Association together with certain other churches and individuals formed a council and met at the Congregational Church, Thursday afternoon for the purpose of installing Rev. Cornelius E. Clark as the minister of that church.

The organization of the Council, the statement of Christian experience and faith by Mr. Clark, and the action of the Council occupied the time for the afternoon session.

The members of the Council were guests at a dinner served in the Chapel after the session and at half past seven in the evening the service of installation took place in the auditorium. The invocation was given by Reverend Christopher W. Collier of Lexington and the Scripture Lesson was read by Rev. David N. Beach of Belmont. Rev. Edward M. Noyes D.D., of Newton Centre, delivered the sermon. The Installing Prayer was fittingly made by Rev. Calvin M. Clark D.D., father of Mr. Clark and professor in Bangor, Maine.

The Charge to the Pastor was made by Rev. Frederick E. Emrich, D.D., of Boston, and the charge to the people by Rev. Edward P. Drew D.D., of West Newton, and formerly pastor of this church, after which Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald of Waban, extended the right hand of Fellowship.

$1,000,000 APARTMENT BUILDING

A $1,000,000 apartment building, which in attractiveness and modern appointments would vie with Alden Park Manor in Brookline, is being planned for Newton Centre by the Kenmore Realty Trust. The location of this structure would be on Beacon street east of Union street. According to the tentative plans now prepared this building will be six stories high, of brick and cast stone and of fireproof construction throughout. The front will be of limestone and the structure is planned around a courtyard which will set back 80 feet from the street. About eighty apartments of from 3 to 7 rooms would be contained in the building and every modern convenience would be furnished the tenants. Whether or not this building will be erected, will largely depend on the action which it is expected will soon be taken by the Board of Aldermen regarding the limitation of areas in which apartment buildings may be erected and whether or not the building code will be modified.

WOMAN INJURED

Mrs. Mary McDonald, 84 Bowers street, Newtonville, an occupant of a car driven by Susan Fanning of the same address, was injured Sunday night when that car collided with one driven by Joseph Samberger of Concord, at Walnut street and Lowell avenue, Newtonville. According to the police the accident was caused by the Fanning car skidding.

"Only slightly less offensive than the one-story store, are the large number of poorly-designed and poorly built two family houses which disfigure some of the finest sections of Newton. As a general principle it may fairly be said that speculative building is one of the greatest menaces of our country. Even the most rigid and restrictive building regulations that we have cannot guarantee well built and properly designed buildings. The only way to accomplish this is some form of architectural control of private property. A pamphlet on this subject is published by the National Conference of City Planning of 1927.

"There is a legitimate demand for a certain number of properly designed and properly built apartment houses in Newton. There should be ample and side yards of generous dimensions,

The Apartment House Problem Discussed at Informal Hearing

Well Known Newton Architects Interviewed On This Important Matter

The Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen held a conference Tuesday night at City Hall with prominent architects and members of the Board of Appeal to discuss the increasingly important question of "apartment buildings in Newton. The matter was talked over at considerable length and while the views of those present differed in some respects, all agreed that apartments should be restricted in this city and not allowed to intrude into residential sections. With the approval of Chairman William B. Baker of the Claims and Rules Committee the GRAPHIC will present the views of some of the gentlemen who attended the conference. The following statement is by Hubert G. Ripley of Birch Hill road, Newtonville, a Boston architect, who planned a number of buildings in this city including the Stearns School at Nonantum and the Levi Warren School at West Newton.

Mr. Ralph C. Henry of Nonantum street, Newton, a member of the Playground Commission and a leading Boston architect, who planned the new Hamilton School at Newton Lower Falls, expresses the following views:

"It is my opinion that the areas within our city upon which apartment houses may be erected should be very carefully restricted and circumscribed. I would not entirely exclude their building as there are many desirable citizens, sometimes old and highly respected residents, who prefer the accessibility and cosiness of small apartments, free from elaborate problems of housekeeping and other care. On the other hand we need look no further than our neighboring towns to see the effect socially, and from the point of view of physical congestion of apartment building on a large scale. They are an invitation to a nomadic population which is seldom composed of taxpayers. Such population has no roots in the soil. It is rare that apartment house tenants 'stay put' over a year. Three years is a long tenancy according to the testimony of at least one of the men who held the attention of the aldermanic Committee on Claims and Rules at the meeting last Tuesday evening. They are not as a rule citizens who develop civic pride and capacity for public service."

"Newton is an exceptionally beautiful city of private homes. It is almost unique as such. It is constantly growing, and at a surprising rate. It is not thinkable that we should pay such poor interest upon our inheritance as not to preserve it in essentially its present characteristics."

"In comparison with other similar municipalities, it has suffered less from cheap politics and the selfish aggrandizement of the speculative builder than any other residential city I know."

"It is not surprising, therefore, that a well-attended meeting of representative citizens, called into consultation with their aldermanic committee, should be of one voice in their desire to see restrictions imposed upon a class of building that does not tend to encourage the highest type of population."

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON SWAMPS ST. MARK'S 19-2

With Arthur Wilson and Swett leading a batting attack which netted eighteen hits against four St. Mark's pitchers the Newton high nine swamped the St. Mark's school under a 19 to 2 score at Southboro Wednesday afternoon. Wilson hit safely three times in five trips to the plate while Swett, filling at third base for Edgar Warren who has been ill for a few days, collected three safeties in six appearances. Both Wilson and Swett hit two baggers. Allie Fletcher also got one two-base blow and a single in four official times at bat with deMille and Frank Spain having a similar record. Captain deMille was the leading run scorer, crossing the plate four times. Spain and Swett each tallied three times.

Coombs pitched a nice game for Newton until with a safe lead Coach Sullivan sent Leslie Church into the box. The two Newton twirlers allowed but four hits between them with Tom Palmer, St. Mark's shortstop, getting three of them. Coombs fanned seven and issued no passes while Church retired two by the strikeout route and passed but one.

Last Saturday the heavy rain prevented Newton and Medford from crossing bats on Claffin Field. Whether or not the game will be played off later on in the season is as yet undetermined.

Tomorrow the orange and black plays its third Suburban league game of the season when it faces its ancient rival, Brookline high, on the diamond at Newtonville. Newton has two league victories to its credit and is at the top of the standing. Somerville, having played but one game in which it was the victor, is tied with Newton with 1,000. Brookline has won one game and lost one and is in third place with a 55% percentage. The remaining teams, Everett, Rindge and Cambridge Latin have each won a single game and lost two, making a triple tie for the cellar berth of .333. It is expected that the real battle for the championship will be staged between Newton and Somerville which meet for the first time this season a week from tomorrow on Claffin Field.

Next Wednesday, between the Brookline and Somerville games Newton will tackle another league member when they go to Russell field to face Rindge Tech. With nine players on the squad, six of them regulars, batting over .300 in six games the opposing pitchers have no easy task in stopping the Newton attack. Coach Sullivan's aggregation is hitting the ball hard and frequently and any one of the players is liable to break up the ball game in the pinch. In the field they are playing good ball and the two pitching aces, Bill Reilly and Don Wilson are in fine form. If they can continue to hold off the opponents their teammates will put enough runs across to win. The Newton team apparently will battle to the final out as many of its rallies, notably those against Everett and Waltham, have occurred with two down. Spain has recovered from the effects of the spike wound in his right hand which he got in the Waltham game while it is only a question of a few days before Warren will be back on third base although it is a question whether or not he will take the field tomorrow.

SPORT NOTES

COUNTRY DAY WINS

Wednesday afternoon Country Day school defeated Belmont Hill school of Belmont on the Newton private school diamond 7 to 5 after overcoming 5 to 1 lead. Merrill, Belmont pitcher, was in fine form for five innings but in the 6th the Newton team staged a three run rally and in the seventh tied the score and took the lead. Another tally in the eighth made the game safe. Douglas, Bottomly, Greene, Gleason and Ritchie each found Merrill for two hits, although Douglas being for two bases.

Country Day Tennis Team Wins

Country Day school tennis team went to Concord Wednesday afternoon to open the season for the Middlesex school team. At the close of play the Newton private school players had won three matches while losing two. Robbins and Wilbur each won their singles matches for Country Day with the latter being forced to a third set while Appleton of Middlesex defeated Foster. The doubles matches were split with Robbins and Foster pairing up to win from Appleton and Underwood and Talbot and Wilbur losing to Hoguet and Russell.

CROWLEY BACK ON SQUAD

Leo Crowley, Northeastern University sophomore pitching ace, would have been the Huskies' pitcher in the game with Rhode Island State College last Saturday but for the head rule which necessitated calling it off. Crowley, who has been ineligible for a month, is expected to bolster Coach Rufus Bond's hurling staff materially.

Crowley met with a 2 to 0 defeat at the hands of the New Hampshire Wildcats on Tuesday when he returned to the Huskies' lineup. He held the Durham team to six hits and kept them scoreless until the eighth inning when two hits, a pass and an error accounted for the two tallies. Coach Bond's team went hitless until the ninth when two hits drove Evans to the showers. Slayton who relieved him, although touched for two more hits, was lucky in not being scored upon.

OLMSTED TO COACH GROTON

Robert Olmsted, former Newton high and Bowdoin college athlete, has been named as a teacher-coach at Groton School. Olmsted graduated from Bowdoin last June and this past year has been on the faculty of Andover Academy where he was an assistant football coach and head hockey coach. He will probably handle both of these sports at Groton.

Hardy Repeats Star Performance

Several weeks ago in a handicap meet of the track squad at M. L. T., Phil Hardy, freshman and a former Newton high athlete, scored 17 points in five events as the outstanding performer. Wednesday afternoon the freshman team held a dual meet with the Tufts yearlings with the former swamping their opponents under a 98 to 24 score. Hardy repeated his earlier performance, scoring 17 points for the engineers. He won the high hurdles and discus, placed second in the low hurdles and shot put and took third in the hammer. His time over the high barriers was 17.25s and his winning heave of the discus was 125 ft. 6 in.

TRACK TEAM RUNS AT WORCESTER

In recent years there have been a number of interscholastic track meets held during the month of May by various prep schools and colleges with the result that dates have conflicted. Such is the case this year. Tomorrow Worcester Tech and Harvard are both conducting interscholastic meetings while on next Saturday both Yale and Boston College will do likewise. Newton will enter the Worcester meet tomorrow and the Yale meet the following Saturday. Coach Enoch has decided in favor of these meets because of the fact that they are for high schools only while the Harvard and B. C. affairs allow prep schools to enter. The entry of the latter detracts from whatever chances the high schools have as a team, although the individual stars have point scoring chances. All the average high school runners or field event man does in these meets is to run heat and then go and dress whereas in the meets where the prep schools, with their older and more experienced athletes, are excluded, the lad has a chance to not only have some real fun but has the additional chance to score for his school.

TENNIS TEAM IN FOURTH VICTORY

The Newton high tennis team seems to be well on its way in keeping the standard set by the various orange and black athletic teams in the scholastic sport world. Coach Smith's outfit hung up its fourth consecutive victory of the season by taking over Malden high yesterday afternoon in a league match 9 to 0.

The season began on April 13th with a victory over the Milton Academy team. A match scheduled for the 25th with Huntington school was called off on account of the weather. Last Friday, in the first league match of the season Somerville was Newton's victim.

Newton High won its opening league tennis match and hung up its second victory in as many starts last Friday by shutting out the Somerville High School racquet wielders, 7 to 0 on the Claffin Field courts. All but one match was won in straight sets with Gluck losing the first set to Howard of Somerville and then taking the next two for the match.

Singles—Noble (N.) defeated Townsend (S.), 6—1, 6—0; Scott (N.) defeated King (S.), 8—6, 6—1; Payne (N.) defeated Wilson (S.), 6—4, 6—2; Harris (N.) defeated Williams (S.), 6—1, 6—0; Gluck (N.) defeated Howard (S.), 4—6, 6—1, 7—5.

Doubles—Noble and Scott (N.) defeated Townsend and King (S.), 6—4, 7—5; Harris and Payne (N.), 6—2, 6—0.

Tuesday afternoon on the Newton courts Captain David Scott and his teammates displayed great form in whitewashing the Boston English High school racqueters, 9 to 0. The closest English high came to winning a match was in the doubles when Payne and Harris of Newton were forced to 20 games in the third set before pulling out an 11-9 victory over Wiseberg and Mineo, who took the second set 6-2. Wiseberg also forced Gluck of Newton to an extra set before the match went to the Newton lad, 7-5, 2-6, 6-4.

Malden was the second victim of the week to receive a coat of whitewash from Captain Scott, Noble et al. This match was played yesterday afternoon on the Claffin Field courts and was Newton's second league victory. Newton was far superior in every match and the visitors did not even have the satisfaction of winning a solitary set.

Coach Wendell Smith has the members of the Newton team striving continually for the

RED CROSS LIFE SAVING COURSES

An usually large turnout indicates the interest among the younger men of Newton in the Life Saving courses offered by the American Red Cross.

More than sixty men and boys 17 years and over were on hand 7:30 Monday evening at the opening of the Red Cross Life Saving Class given in the Y. M. C. A. pool. Of this number fifty were enrolled for the "Senior" Test and twelve who had previously passed this test satisfactorily, were trying for their "Examiner's" rating.

Monday evening practically all the eligibility tests were completed and only a few applicants failed to pass all of these. Tuesday evening the class was divided into squads; one or two men trying for their examiners' rating being in charge of a squad trying for their senior tests.

This week will complete the demonstrations which are given by Mr. Britton F. Boughner, who is conducting the classes for the Red Cross.

Next week the class will practice the various points and the final tests will be given on Friday, May 11th, and possibly Saturday afternoon, May 12th. Mr. Boughner had charge of Life Saving classes at Crystal Lake and Auburndale last summer and is at present Athletic Instructor at the Dexter School in Brookline.

THREE WISE FOOLS

After the successes of the Phidelian Rice Players during the past three Saturday nights at the Newton Opera House, all Wise men and women will hasten to secure tickets for the coming play of "Three Wise Fools" to be given next Saturday, May 5th.

Newton may feel that it has its own "stock company" as long as the Rice Players are at the Opera House. They are a group of young College folks who have been trained by Mr. Phidelian Rice, Dean of the Leland Powers School, in his own dramatic school at Martha's Vineyard and they are preparing these successive plays under his direction. The plays themselves are clever and truly entertaining, and are exceptionally well presented. Those who were at the Opera House last Saturday evening to see "Cousin Kate" enjoyed a rare treat. The young curate in his solemn black received a round of applause from the audience, who recognized in him the versatile plumber and the irresistible "Johnnie White" of previous evenings. Miss Geraldyn True as Cousin Kate was even more convincing than in either of the earlier casts, while Miss Elizabeth Hunt proved that she could be demure as well as coquettish. Mr. Hines as Heath Desmond made an excellent lover, and the other parts while not so noteworthy were very well taken.

Not the least of the advantages of these charming little plays in our own corner of Newton is the ease with which one may reach them and the comfortable hour at which one is again at home.

The Y. W. C. A. certainly deserves a vote of thanks for its enterprise in putting this series of plays before the Newton public.

DR. ANDERSON EXPLAINS

To the Editor of the Graphic, I wish to express publicly my hearty appreciation of the Graphic's strong and consistent support of my candidacy for delegate at large at the Primaries on April 24. No doubt my great vote in Newton was in considerable part due to the Graphic.

All the more strange is it that on your first page April 27, in narrating the results of the Primary, some one said,

"Dr. Anderson made a gallant but futile fight as an independent and received 2967 votes, fourth place in the city and, as will be seen from the table, even losing his own ward."

The fight in the city was surely not "futile," if I "gained fourth place," which was a victory of the first water, and which, if maintained throughout the State, would have triumphantly elected me. 2967 votes out of a total of 4660 votes cast in Newton is by my arithmetic a majority and a good one.

As to "losing his own ward," in Ward 6, precincts one and two, which is Newton Center, and hardly me 639 votes out of 866, and gave me third place. This meant the complete success of my ticket, Butler, Gillett and Anderson. Ward 1, precinct 2 and 5, precinct 1, gave my ticket the same victory. If precinct 3 of Ward 6 is added (Chestnut Hill), I had 683 votes out of 1010 in my own ward, a sure way out and got fourth place. That could hardly mean "losing his own ward." I acknowledge my pride is my Newton vote and I cannot allow even my best friend to fail to see the facts.

FREDERICK L. ANDERSON.

WOMAN'S ASSOCIATION MEETS

"Play Day" is an occasion of good comradeship, and the meeting Wednesday, May 2, was one of the enjoyable events of the calendar of the Woman's Association of Central Church. A group came early and made surgical dressings under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Vose. There were several tables containing articles remaining from the sale at the home of Mrs. Charles R. Lynde. "A clean sweep" was the aim of the enterprising chairman, Mrs. Robert Kelley.

Mrs. Lottie McCertney and Mrs. Otto Bachmann, with their committee, served luncheon at 12:30, which was followed by a program arranged by the president Mrs. George W. Ayransen. She asked "What are the crowning achievements of the year in our association?" The question was answered by a new member, Mrs. R. E. Chambers, and a charter member, Mrs. Wallace C. Boyden. Mrs. Chambers commented on the spirit of friendliness with which she had been received and which she felt was characteristic of the association. Mrs. Boyden rejoiced in the discovery of leadership among the younger members, exemplified in Mrs. Robert Kelley, who had so ably piloted the fair that the proceeds mount towards the $1000 mark.

"Let us look into the future and see what can be accomplished another year," said Mrs. Ayransen in introducing Mrs. Gorham W. Harris. "Can softer voices be cultivated?" was the query of Mrs. Harris, referring to the sociable hubbub that prevails at the luncheon tables. Miss Wilcox quoted the method used at Wellesley College when voices become strident. Some one at each table lowers hers almost to a whisper and the desired effect is produced. Mrs. Harris advocated the giving of definite information in regard to the objects of benevolence thus stimulating more intelligent giving. She also recommended the holding of occasional inter-church meetings, which would promote a larger acquaintance between like minded women. Work for a local object like the Welfare Bureau would be a suitable interest at such times. She suggested a membership drive and the appointment of delegates to attend the monthly meetings at Pilgrim Hall.

Mrs. W. A. Vosburg gave the report of the Finance Committee. Included in the gifts were the salary of Miss Mary Kinney of Scutari, Turkey; memorials to Mrs. Eleanor Nagle and Mrs. W. H. Allen; contributions to Lincoln and Talladega universities. It was voted to send two young people to summer camp and a delegate to the Northfield conference.

The C. C. C. girls entertained in the afternoon, giving a short play entitled "America for the Americans." This showed what dismay would be caused should foreigners "bag and baggage" be deported. It was very amusing and suggestive to see the removal of most articles of furniture, including radio, telephone, china and rugs, which would be confiscated that they might be returned to the land whence they or their inventors had come. Only the Indian would remain. Those taking part were Lois Stafford, Louise Kimball, Judith Andress, Margaret Morse and Eleanor Brown. Eleanor Murray read "Scum of the Earth." Mrs. Ernest Nichols played delightfully three piano solos.

ALL-NEWTON vs. THE NEWTONS

At the Annual Meeting of the Newton Central Council to be held at the Bonnar-Atwood Studio, Newtonville, on Friday evening, May 4th, at a quarter to eight, there will be an open discussion on affairs which concern the welfare of the city, led by representatives of various civic organizations.

Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson will speak on current projects of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Guy M. Winslow on the Good Government Club of Auburndale, Mrs. J. Porter Russell on the plans and accomplishments of the Newton Federation of Women's Clubs. Representatives of the Rotary, Kiwanis, and other welfare and civic organizations will be heard, in addition to brief reports from various village improvement societies.

Light refreshments will be served after the meeting. All interested in the betterment of Newton are cordially invited to be present.

LODGES

The Masons of the Fifth Masonic district will attend Central Church in a body on Sunday, May 20th.

Newton Chapter, Order of DeMolay, will hold a military dance and prize drill this evening in the State armory.

The 10th anniversary of the founding of Odd Fellowship will be observed today at Odd Fellows' Hall, West Newton, by Garden City Encampment, Newton, and Waban Lodges, Summer, P. Lawrence and Tennyson Rebekah Lodges and the Odd Fellows' Building Association.

BRIDGE AND WHIST PARTY

A Bridge and Whist Party in aid of the degree staff of Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F. will be held next Monday night, May 7, in Nonantum. A. A. Hall, Dalby street, Nonantum. Miss Catherine A. McDermott and Miss Gladys Quinan will conduct the affair.

MANY NEW GARAGES

The Franchises and Licenses Committee held a meeting Wednesday night and among other things discussed the granting of petitions of 48 applicants for private garage permits. There were objections to but two of these and at the next meeting of the Board of Aldermen the other 46 permits will be granted.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The Rummage Sale at old Library, West Newton, promises many bargains on Friday, May 4th, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. in charge of Mrs. William E. Earle, chairman of Ways and Means Committee.

Another neighborhood whist was held at the home of Mrs. Mary C. Wolfe, 133 Webster street, West Newton, Thursday, May 3rd. These home whist help members to get better acquainted with their neighbors from all the Newtons, as well as being a source of revenue.

The first "Scholarship Fund" whist was held Friday evening, April 27, at Elks Hall, with 300 in attendance. Mrs. Grace Cahill Carey, chairman, and the members of Community Service Committee are keenly interested in making this permanent "scholarship fund for the child of a world war veteran, large enough that from year to year it can assure a sufficient award to enable an ambitious scholar the means to "carry on."

A complimentary "Membership Whist" is to be held on Friday, May 11th at 8 p.m. at the General Electric Club, Room 729, Boylston street, Boston, for auxiliary members, their husbands or brothers, and one or more eligible auxiliary members.

Tickets will be supplied free of charge by applying to the Membership Chairman, Mrs. George Henriksen, 34 Summer street, Newton Centre, phone Centre Newton 0569-M.

The American Legion of Newton Post No. 48, have accorded the auxiliary the privilege to dispose of candy at the Grand concert to be given at Norumbega Park, May 20th, at 8 o'clock.

SCHOOL NOTES

F. A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Margaret Callanan Wins Speaking Cup

Only a comparatively small number of matters remain for the consideration of the General Court. If it were not for the investigation of the official conduct of Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Read and the possible instituting of impeachment proceedings the date of prorogation could be fairly well estimated, even with the elevated legislation not finally disposed of. The extended session, which now seems inevitable, will be due to the Attorney General matter. It was the last week in April, when the 1927 Legislature prorogued. This year it is more likely to be the last week in June or maybe July.

The House this week began holding two sessions in one day. It voted Tuesday that morning and afternoon sessions will be held each week on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

On the veto of the bill petitioned for by Mayor Nichols and which would have required the Civil Service Commission to state its reasons for rejecting any appointment to public office submitted by the Mayor of Boston, the four Newton members of the House voted to sustain the Governor, which was the final judgment of that branch.

The Newton members voted with the Governor when on Wednesday the House sustained the Governor's veto of a resolve for an investigation by the Metropolitan District Commission of the plan for allowing weekly half-holidays to employees of pumping stations controlled by the commission.

There was considerable surprise expressed when the House overrode the Governor's veto of the bill for an investigation by a special commission of the plans for an additional Cambridge Tunnel station at the junction of Charles and Cambridge streets, Boston.

Representatives Hollis, Saito and Thompson voted to sustain the Governor and Representative Lutwiler was not recorded.

Yesterday the House passed to be engrossed the bill introduced by Representative Hollis on the petition of Mayor Childs allowing the city to pay a pension to the widow of the late Leonard Jackson. It now goes to the Senate. The bill follows:

"For the purpose of promoting the public good, the city of Newton may pay to the widow of Leonard D. Jackson, formerly inspector of the Board of Health in said city, who died on Jan. 30, 1928, as a result of an injury received by him Jan. 30, 1928, while in the performance of his official duties, the amount to which said widow would be entitled if sections 69 to 75 inclusive of chapter 152 of the General Laws, as amended, had been in effect in said city at the time of said death shall take effect upon its passage."

A hearing on the bill was held Tuesday by the Committee on Pensions which immediately afterwards voted to report favorably. The speakers in favor were Representative Hollis, City Solicitor Bartlett, Alderman Baker, Dr. Curtis, chairman of the Board of Health, and Police Inspector John H. Shaughnessy. They told of the efficiency of Mr. Jackson and emphasized the fact that he was killed while performing his duties. There was no opposition.

Rev. Robert L. Rae, pastor of the North Evangelical Church of this city, officiated as chaplain of the House at the opening of last Tuesday's session in the absence of the chaplain, Rev. Harry W. Kimball of Needham.

All attempts to change the laws of the State governing dogs, their licensing and restraint have ended in nothing as far as this year's General Court is concerned. Bills were introduced at the beginning of the session for various amendments to the existing statutes. Then came the decision to allow the Director of Animal Industry to prepare such legislation as he deemed advisable. This he did but the Committee on Agriculture rejected his bill in favor of a resolve for an investigation by a special commission of the entire subject. When the resolve came into the House it had the disapproval of the Ways and Means Committee. The House followed the latter committee's recommendation and the resolve was killed. In other words, our dog laws are just as they were and will not be altered by this year's Legislature.

The death Tuesday of Representative Ezra W. Clark of Brockton, the oldest member of the House in point of years, makes a total of seven deaths in the 1927-28 General Court, an unusual number. The passing of the Clerk of the House, James W. Kimball, adds to the list of splendid public servants who have passed on.

The resignation of a member of the House last month makes a total of eight vacancies in the lower branch since the present organization first convened in January, 1927.

Favorable action by both branches on the bill to provide for an investigation by the Metropolitan District Commission with reference to the route of the proposed Hammond Pond Parkway in this city and Brookline, undoubtedly that something will be accomplished this year in making preliminary plans for this much-discussed project.

Legislation to regulate the parking of automobiles in the vicinity of apartment houses, intended as a fire prevention, is not of any great interest or importance to Newton and is not likely to be for some time to come judging from present indications.

The bill, which would have given the Supreme Court authority to remove Mayors of cities for cause, was passed by the House but rejected by the Senate. From time to time efforts have been made to have some legislation of this character enacted without success. The bill would have merely added Mayors to the list of public officials which the Supreme Court may remove.

STEARNS SCHOOL

Wednesday, May 2nd, was a notable day for Stearns School. At 1:30 p. m. Miss Parker representing the New England Society for the Preservation of Wildflowers, gave an illustrated talk on "The Vanishing Wildflowers of New England." By the use of beautifully colored slides the flowers of the field, forest, pond and swamp were shown and their attractions called to mind. Miss Parker asked for the co-operation of all the children in the preserving these flowers wherever found.

On the same afternoon in the Assembly Hall before the upper four grades Mr. N. K. Dhalwani of Bombay, India, gave a lecture on the Social Life and Customs in India. Mr. Dhalwani who has been studying in this country for several years was accompanied by his wife and little daughter both of whom assisted in his lecture. Mr. Dhalwani and his family were all dressed in native costume giving the children a splendid chance to visualize the dress of the Indian people. During the course of his lecture many beautiful costumes and household articles were displayed.

High spots in the program were eating soup with his hands, wrapping a big turban around his head, speaking several different Hindu languages, singing songs with native words and music. Mrs. Dhalwani illustrated how the Indian women dress and used a simple costume consisting of a piece of silk cloth 50 feet long. At the close of the lecture the children had a chance to ask questions of the lecturer.

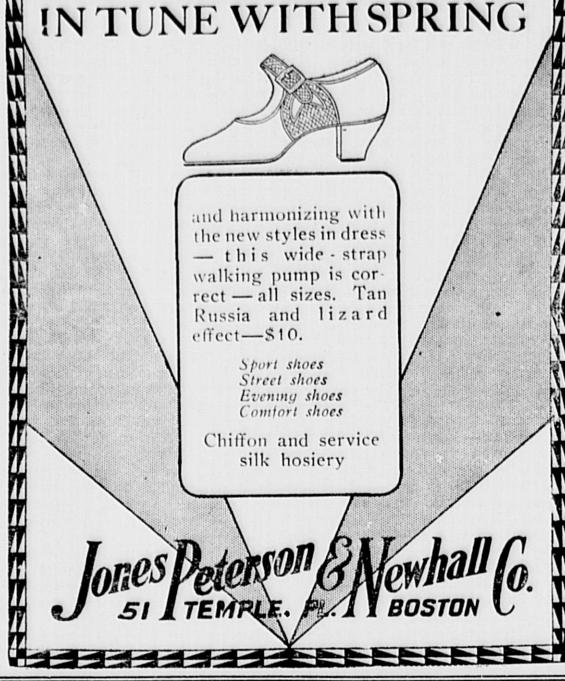

Child Health Day will be observed by the Stearns School on Wednesday, May 9th. The Committee who are making plans are the Misses Marsh, Thurston and Parker. A play, "The Quest of the Fountain of Health," as arranged by the New England Dairy and Food Council is being prepared by a cast from the 3rd, 4th and 5th grades. If the weather is favorable, this play will be presented out of doors on the afternoon of the 16th.

At this time the children will be presented with awards for physical fitness and health achievements. The parents and friends of the children will be welcome to attend this performance.

In the 4th grade room taught by Miss Walker a Broadcasting Program was recently given. The broadcasting of songs and recitations was given from the coatroom. Later the performance was repeated for Miss Thurston's room.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Two of the most efficient patrolmen on the Newton police force received tokens of appreciation from some of their young lady admirers on Wednesday morning. Patrolman John McNeil who protects the school children in the Bigelow district from traffic at Park and Vernon streets, and Patrolman Michael Keating who acts in a similar capacity at Eldredge and Vernon streets were the recipients of May Baskets from little girls who attend the Underwood School.

The work of repairing the Centre street bridge at Newton Corner has been practically completed. Much inconvenience to traffic has resulted during the many months repairs have been made—and delayed on this structure.

There is a cellar near Winchester road in the Cabot Park section which was dug a couple of years ago and on which no house has been built. It is frequently filled with water and is both a menace to small children of the neighborhood and to the health of that section.

The tremendous building boom in Newton the past 5 or 6 years has caused the sale of boggy land which previously was regarded as unfit for residential purposes. Speculative builders from outside of the city have bought such land and erected thereon houses which have been purchased by persons apparently possessing little knowledge of real estate. Otherwise, it is probable they would not have purchased homes in such locations. After having purchased homes on unaccepted streets located in erstwhile swampy places, they discover that cesspools rapidly fill up and overflow there. Then they seek relief by petitioning the Board of Aldermen to appropriate money for the placing of sewers in unfinished streets recently opened up. In some cases to such low lying places would involve a tremendous cost which must be borne in large part by the taxpayers of the city. If the Commissioner of Buildings could legally refuse building permits to dwellings in localities of this type such action would benefit not only the persons who make a mistake by purchasing homes in boggy places, but also the citizens in general of Newton.

There is little danger that this city will deteriorate into an apartment house community. There is no questioning the fact that the reason thousands of new residents have built and bought homes in Newton is because the city was carefully zoned in 1922 and assurance seemed to be offered to its residents that it will continue as a high class residential section of attractive homes with plenty of open spaces to afford fresh air and sunlight. It is also a fact that a limited number of better type apartment buildings, carefully restricted as to setbacks and construction, should be permitted contiguous to the business zones in some of the larger villages. Many older residents of Newton, members of families which have lived here for generations, find it necessary because of advancing age to move from the large single houses where they have dwelled. They need small apartments in well appointed modern structures. They cannot find such quarters in Newton and are forced to leave this city. The apartment house question is meeting with increasing attention, which is proper. The present Board of Aldermen can be depended upon to deal carefully with this important matter and to assure the continuance of Newton as Boston's finest suburb.

Consort of Napoleon Made Baths Popular

This business of taking a daily bath, although now pretty well established as a hygiene measure, really got its start not as an aid to health, but as a beauty fad. The woman who made the bathtub famous was none less than the little West Indian Creole, born as Tascher de la Pagerie, who rose to be Empress Josephine.

Before the advent of the Nineteenth century baths had exclusively been a sign of ill health, an eccentricity, in fact, indulged in only on medical advice. Josephine's habit of bathing every day in chiseled silver bathtubs, and of constantly washing in silver basins of all shapes and sizes, therefore, surprised France not inconsiderably.

It does seem that Josephine carried the bathing business a little far. According to the records she spent three hours each morning at her toilette, what with selecting the day's make-up, costume and accessories. But as social arbiter of the day she did establish the bath as a fashionable practice in the European courts.

Apparently it wasn't to preserve that schoolgirl complexion that Napoleon's consort went to such ends. The records reveal that she spent 3,000 francs a year for rouge, or approximately $300 translated into prices of today—a considerable sum of rouge!—Baron De Meyer in Harper's Bazaar.

A Poor Excuse

Housewife—Why, Mary! What do you mean by looking through the keyhole?

Maid—Well, I—er—er—er—er—er was dusting, and I thought I'd look and see if there was any cobwebs in it, ma.

Safety First!

Car Salesman—If your wife drives she'll appreciate this splendid rear view mirror.

Mr. Gump—Would it be possible to move it to the back seat—so she'd get a glimpse of the road occasionally?

IN THE DUMPS

Wifey—Why did you bring me to this dump?

PIANOFORTE RECITAL

HARMONICA BAND GATHERS FOR SPECIAL REHEARSAL

Last Thursday evening, at the Newton Center Woman's Clubhouse, Miss Margaret Reeves presented her pupils in their annual recital of pianoforte music to a large and enthusiastic audience. The reception room, with its soft shaded lights, was tastefully decorated with forsythia and gladioli, making an effective background for the dainty, flower-like frocks of the little folks as they approached the piano.

It was evident that each student had been trained to realize that although artistic and intelligent interpretation was always commendable, it was indeed, poise and ease of manner that gave charm to the performance.

The programme was well-balanced including some moderns as well as the old classics. Among those participating were: Harvard H. Crabtree, Jr., Jane Hutchinson, Constance Wheeler, Lorraine Horblit, George Young, Constance Crabtree, Virginia Lichtner, Priscilla Young, Paul Woods, Helen Carrier, Margaret Mackin, Bayla Horblit, Thomas Mackin, Beatrice Young, Helen Boyd, Pauline MacMinn and Alicia Jones. Miss Reeves contributed several numbers at the close of the programme.

Awards of merit for exceptional work during the season were given to Constance Wheeler, Helen Carrier, Margaret Mackin, Virginia Lichtner and George Young. Little Jane Hutchinson, the class baby, was also included in the prize winners. Miss Reeves, who is an artist pupil of Dai Buell, is well known in Boston's musical clubs and has appeared on various programmes during the past season.

TWO DEATHS IN FAMILY

On last Monday death visited twice the household at 220 Chapel street, Newton. Monday morning Thomas D. Nolan, 63, of that address died of pneumonia following an illness of several days. He was a native of this city, the son of the late Daniel and Elizabeth Nolan, and was employed at the Walker & Pratt foundry at Watertown. Mr. Nolan was unmarried and is survived by two sisters, Katherine A. and Margaret E. Nolan. Monday night Mrs. Margaret Horther Hynes, who had resided with the Nolan family since infancy died at St. Elizabeth's Hospital of peritonitis, resulting from a ruptured appendix. She was the wife of John Hynes of the Stuart Chevrolet Company and was in her 29th year. Besides her husband she is survived by twin children, Mary and Joseph 5 years old, an infant son, John Hynes, Jr., her father, George Horther of Roxbury, and a brother, George Horther, Jr., of Boston.

The funeral of Mr. Nolan and Mrs. Hynes was held yesterday morning from their late residence. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated at the Church of Our Lady by Rev. Walter Roche assisted by Rev. Robert Mantle and Rev. Russell Healy. Burials were in Calvary Cemetery, Waltham. Prayers at the graves were read by Rev. M. Joseph Burke of Cambridge and Rev. Charles Bryson of West Roxbury.

The Taste Test

Walter and Lawrence were in the habit of saving a part of their dessert from the evening dinner for consumption the next afternoon, and, in accordance with this custom, two small cakes had been placed in the cracker jar for them. William, being the first on the scene the next afternoon, went to the jar. He found only one cake, and a large piece had been bitten out of that. Full of wrath, he went up stairs and roused his brother.

"Say," he demanded, "I want to know who took that big bite out of my cake?"

"I did," sleepily answered Lawrence.

"What'd you do that for?"

"Well, when I tasted it I found it was your cake, and so I ate the other one."

Hospital in Lonely Spot

What is probably the loneliest hospital is on the Victoria river and serves the vast cattle raising district of northern Australia. The nearest railway and post office is 80 miles away, and it is 400 miles to the nearest doctor, dentist or druggist. Mail for the nurses stationed there arrives every six weeks and supplies are brought in once a year. There virtually is no road to the institution, and it requires teams of 40 mules each to haul these supplies for the last 80 miles. Because of the loneliness, two years is all the nurses are allowed to remain on duty.

Explaining Myopia

Some justification for calling a near-sighted motorist a "poor fish," was advanced recently at the convention of the American Academy of Optometry. It was said that near-sightedness, or myopia, is prevalent because man has not yet completely lost some of the characteristics of a fish. His eyes naturally diverge to the right and left instead of looking straight ahead. The inner muscles of the eye, in trying to correct this and retain the parallelism of the vision, subject the eyes to a strain which produces myopia.

The repairs on the Centre street bridge which have been in process for nearly a year have been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Jones have returned from Honolulu where they have been spending the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. John R. Lankenau and daughter, Miss Nancy, have returned from Bermuda where they have been spending a short vacation.

The last meeting, until fall, of the Grace Fellowship was held Sunday evening, April 29, in the Parish house. This was followed by a service of admission given in the church during the regular Sunday evening service.

Mrs. John G. Godding of Centre street, has been in Concord, N. H., this week where she was a delegate from New Hampshire's Daughters to the annual meeting of the New Hampshire Federation of Women's clubs.

The May meeting of the Newton Business Associates will take place next Thursday evening at Vernon Court Hotel. Mr. Martin Campbell, director of the Boston Credit Men's Association will speak on credit matters.

At the recent annual meeting of the Channing Guild, these officers were elected: president, Harriet Murray; vice president, Edward Mellus; treasurer, Jack Alden; recording secretary, Alva Wilson; corresponding secretary, Marion Mellus; director, Ann Scofield.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Douglas Farrington entertained their friends at a musicale in their home, "Sharsted House," Sunday, April 29. Selections on the flute, played by George Laurent, the violin, by Gaston Elenz and the harp and piano, by Bernard Zighera with some vocal selections by Mrs. Farrington constituted the program, followed by a tea.

At the annual meeting of the Elton Woman's Association on Tuesday the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: for president, Miss Grace Weston; vice presidents, Mrs. J. G. Barnes, Mrs. C. D. Kepner and Mrs. Roger Hodges; recording secretary, Mrs. George Lincoln Parker; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Howard R. Mason; treasurer, Mrs. Fred L. Trowbridge; auditor, Miss Emma Walker.

Mr. George Calhoun Bradley, the son of Mrs. Charles W. Bradley died last Saturday at Cactus, Arizona, where he has been for his health. Mr. Bradley is survived by his widow and four sisters, Mrs. Henry D. Lloyd of Amherst, N. S., Mrs. George M. Wells of Montclair, N. J., and Mrs. John Dunlap of Moncton, N. B. Funeral services were held from Mrs. Bradley's home on Wesley street on Wednesday. Rev. Newton A. Merritt, Jr., of Immanuel Church officiating.

—The death of Mrs. Josephine M. Hiltz, the wife of St. Paul's Hiltz of 6 Columbus street, took place on Sunday evening. Besides her husband, she leaves three daughters, Misses Evelyn, Caroline and Mildred Hiltz. The funeral service was held on Tuesday evening. Rev. Mr. Farrar officiated assisted by Rev. Mr. Phipps.

—The annual meeting of the Unitarian Church will be held next Monday evening at Arts Theatre Boston, on Friday May 11. By means of the proceeds from this play the Young People's Fellowship in Massachusetts will send its representative to the Triennial National Conference of Episcopal young people to be held in Sewall, Tennessee, in August. Miss Helen A. Bosworth of the Messiah Young People's Fellowship has been selected as the Massachusetts representative.

CONTEST WILL OF HIGHLANDS MAN

A contest against the will of the late Vincent M. Bowen of Newton Highlands was started Tuesday at the Middlesex Probate Court, Cambridge, by his two sons, Earl W. and Harold V. Bowen. By the terms of the will they were left $1000 each. Most of the estate was bequeathed to Mrs. Grace Morrell who had been Mr. Bowen's housekeeper. She was bequeathed the home, furnishings, an automobile, stocks, and other property the value estimated around $40,000. The sons claim that when the will was executed that their father was of unsound mind and that undue influence was used by Mrs. Morrell.

Dr. Fred Withee and Dr. Caroline Wentworth testified that in their opinions Mr. Bowen was of sound mind when he signed the will.

Those interested in forming a Newton Y. M. C. A. baseball team will practice on Wednesday evening and Saturday afternoon. Those interested in playing baseball but who do not care to try for the team will report on the field on Tuesday and Friday evenings.

The annual election of officers of the Association will be held on Monday evening, May 7th, at 7:30 p. m.

On Thursday, May 3rd, the Newton Y. M. C. A. team is bowling a match with the Worcester Y. M. C. A. using candlepins. On April 26th the Y. M. C. A. lost to Newburyport 3 to 1 on Boston pins. The total pinfall was 1548 to 1543.

About 25 men attended the Sunday morning breakfast last week. Mr. George King played for the singing which is a feature of these gatherings. Mr. Charles D. Mills, Mr. Yoel Yohanan and John F. Devlin are in charge of the breakfast next Sunday morning.

On Sunday, May 6, at 4 o'clock, Eastern Standard Time, Dr. S. Parkes Cadman will broadcast an address which will be delivered at the Bedford Branch of the Y. M. C. A., Brooklyn, and the topic will be "The Noble Crusade for Youth." This address will be broadcast by eighteen stations and may be heard from WEAF, WEEL, and other nearby stations. The Y. M. C. A. building will be open from 2:5 and all who wish are invited to come and hear the address over the radio which is installed in the lobby.

GIRL SCOUTS

The highest possible corps award in Massachusetts has been won by the Newton Girl Scout Bugle and Drum Corps. At the competitive try out held in the Cadet Armory Boston on Saturday, April 28th, the Newton Corps was judged one of the two best corps in the State. These honors are shared with the Holyoke Corps while the Needham Corps received third place. Over 700 girls in 25 different corps took part in the try outs and the competition was keen and close up to the very end of the day.

The corps were judged on bugling, drumming, marching and posture by a small army of specially qualified judges. Newton went on the field with a slight handicap because of the sudden illness of Bugler Elsie Stephen, of Troop 14, Waban, but Marguerite Brandy of Troop 15, West Newton, made a splendid substitute, even though she had to discard her drum for a bugle, and the demonstration went on without a hitch from "Call to Quarters" to the formation of the large letter "N" in the fancy drill.

Great credit for the good showing of the corps should go to its Drum Major, Armada Lemont, of Troop 13, Newton Centre, and to its officers Captain Redfield of West Newton, and Lieutenant Nagle of Newton. The girls have practiced hard and faithfully at the West Newton Armory every Saturday morning during the winter and the results of their work were apparent in the finished and spirited drill that they gave on Saturday.

In the individual competitions for State Champion Bugle and Drummer, Doris Benson of Troop 15, West Newton, placed among the first three drummers, and Eola Niles of Troop 3, Newton Centre tried out three times for third place in bugling with a contestant from Needham. An interesting feature of the scene at the Armory was the first official appearance of the new Girl Scout uniform of grey green and the corps from Holyoke, Springfield and Bedford.

Championship banners will be awarded to the Newton and Holyoke Corps at the State Review in the Arena on May 12th, and these two corps and the Needham Corps will have a large share in the program which will be put on for an audience of over 6000 Girl Scouts from all parts of Massachusetts, as well as several thousand of the general public.

A rummage sale will be given by the Troop Committee of the Newton Centre Girl Scouts on Saturday, May 5th, from nine to five at 221 Washington street, Newton. The proceeds of this sale will be used to finish the Newton Centre quota of the All Newton Girl Scout Budget.

On Saturday, April 21st, Troop 21 of Newton Highlands, started the season at Camp Mary Day with an overnight hike which ended in a snow storm.

This is what Mary Carrick, the troop scribe, tells about the trip.

On Saturday, April 21st at 2 o'clock, ten girls from Troop 21, led by their Captain, Miss Mildred Moore, started for Camp Mary Day to spend the night. Upon their arrival each patrol was assigned a task. Beds were set up in the Camp house, and wood and water were supplied for the night. Supper was cooked by patrol one in the Council Bowl and consisted of hunters stew, rolls, cake and milk. Miss Freeman, the camp director was a guest at this meal. After the dishes were washed a novel radio program (static and all) was produced by patrol two. Marshmallows were toasted and by ten o'clock the camp was still, that is to say it was supposed to be still. When we woke in the morning we were surprised to find that winter had come back. Breakfast was served in the house by patrol three, and the morning was spent in rolling packs, putting beds away, cleaning the camp house and reading. Dinner was prepared by patrol two, and by 2 o'clock we were journeying home leaving the camp in good order for the next group of campers.

WOMEN'S GUILD INSTALLATION

Newton, Newton Centre and Watertown Branches of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild held a joint reception of new members and installation of officers Monday evening at St. Patrick's Hall, Watertown, in the presence of State Chaplain, the Right Reverend Monseigneur Roache. Among the large number attending were many neighboring branches and State officers, including State Deputy Mrs. Margaret Drennan, who was in charge of the Newton Branch, assisted by State Regent Mrs. Alice M. Hall, who installed the following officers of the Newton Branch:

Regent, Mrs. Katherine Powers; Vice Regent, Mrs. Annie Kehoe; Prophetess, Mrs. Rose Meehan; Monitor, Mrs. Angela Sharkey; Organizer, Mrs. Alice Navien; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Etta Haverty; Financial Secretary, Miss Delta Dunn; Treasurer, Miss May Miskella; Sentinel Mrs. Ellen Connelly; Directors, Mrs. Etta Mullhall, Mrs. Nellie Manning and Mrs. Mary Drew.

In appreciation of her interest and services Mrs. Hall, State Regent, was presented with an exquisite console set, gift of the several branches; Mrs. Drennan, Deputy, receiving a bouquet of beautiful carnations. Mrs. Powers, newly installed regent, received a large bouquet of roses from the Vice Regent. Mrs. Kehoe, who spoke in commendation of the unvarying interest of the recipient. Mrs. Navien, who retires after ten years of faithful and efficient service, was presented with a substantial purse of gold and a bouquet from the State Organizer, Mrs. Dooley, who expressed the sentiments of the Newton Branch in her presentation speech.

An interesting program arranged by Mrs. Marshall Hall of Watertown was followed by an appetizing buffet lunch.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

Newton Highlands C. L. S. C.

May 7th is the date of the Annual Meeting of the Newton Highlands C. L. S. C. and a pleasant celebration is planned in a luncheon at the Blue Room on Lincoln street, after which the Club members will repair to the home of their president, Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, 4 Chester street, for the business meeting at 2:30 o'clock, and election of officers for the coming year.

Christian Era Study Club

The Annual Meeting of the Christian Era Study Club will be held on Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the president, Miss Ella B. Smith, 15 Vista avenue, Auburndale. There will be the usual annual reports, election of new officers, and the presentation of the program for the coming year. Miss Alice Ranlett, a member of the Club hopes to be able to be present, and the members are anticipating an author's reading by her.

Newton Mothers' Club

The annual meeting of the Newton Mothers' Club takes place on Monday, May 7th, at 1 o'clock. Luncheon will be served at "Green Tops" in Wayland Village. Automobile transportation for members will be arranged by the committee in charge, including Mrs. Herbert M. Andrews, Mrs. Leon B. Rogers and Mrs. Irving J. Fisher.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Garden Club of the Newtonville Woman's Club holds its meeting with Mrs. A. W. Church, 59 Judkins street, on Wednesday, May 9th, at 2:30 o'clock. A variety of subjects will come under consideration including "Spraying," "Transplanting," and "Wild Gardens."

Plans are well under way for the Children's May Party to be held in Temple Hall on the afternoon of May 19th. This attractive party is open to the public, and parents and children will hardly need urging to come. There will be a small admission fee to defray expenses.

State Federation

Listeners may tune in at WNAZ next Wednesday at 10:30 o'clock for the Federation Broadcast on May 9th, for a greeting from Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, fourth vice-president. At 10:35 Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, General Federation director from Massachusetts, will broadcast features of the San Antonio biennial. Musical numbers are to be on the air at 10:45 when Mrs. Anne C. Handy, soprano, Mrs. Caroline D. Newbegin, contralto and Mrs. Mabel B. Wheeler, accompanist, may be heard in a group of selections.

Newton Community Club

The Public Health Committee and the Conservation Committee of the Newton Community Club have arranged some most attractive outings for this month. On Thursday, May 10th, there is to be an all-day trip to Wachusett Mountain. The meeting place for those who plan to go is on Eldridge street, outside the Underwood School at 9 o'clock. Members of the party are to bring a sandwich lunch, and hot coffee or cold drinks, as preferred, in thermos bottle. There will be about half an hour climb up the mountain, which is promised as not being difficult, cars being parked at half-way point. There is also the wise and comforting suggestion of a warm sweater or wind-breaker. The return will be about 5 o'clock. Telephone to Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, N. N. 2582 M for reservations.

On May 17th, there is to be an all-day trip to Sharon for bird study in the bird sanctuary. For this knicker-ers are "au fait" and well-worn shoes with low heels, woolen stockings, and various sensible preparations for swampy places, which will doubtless be invaded, are advised. Miss Margaret Ball, N. N. 1542 M has these arrangements in charge.

Newton Community Club

The Newton Community Club held its Annual Meeting in the Underwood School Hall on Thursday afternoon, April 26th. Mrs. Harry W. Flits, the president, presided. The following officers for the coming year were elected: president, Mrs. Harry W. Flits; first vice-president, Miss Dorothy Dean; second vice-president, Mrs. Clarence E. Allen; third vice-president, Mrs. Chester A. Drummond; recording secretary, Mrs. Everett L. Olds; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Arthur J. Mansfield; treasurer, Miss Margaret H. Aubin; auditor, Miss Emma E. Walker, directors until 1931, Mrs. William G. Lennox, Mrs. Grosvenor Calkins; and Nominating Committee for 1929, Mrs. Frank P. Scofield, chairman, Mrs. Raymond G. Coppins, Mrs. Harry L. Dexter, Jr., Mrs. Henry A. Nealey and Mrs. Newton A. Merritt.

Reports which were bright and entertaining were read by the retiring officers and chairmen of standing committees. Mrs. Raymond Coppins, corresponding secretary reported 48 new members, 7 resignations owing to illness or removal from Newton, and 544 members at present with dues paid, where a year ago there were 522. Mrs. Coppins has served the Club most faithfully for two years and retires from office with sincere regrets of Club members. Mrs. Harold Moore, recording secretary, stated there had been nine well attended Executive Board meetings, when most thoughtful consideration had been given to all Club matters, and twelve regular Club meetings, at six of which refreshments had been served. She called attention to the faithfulness of the president, Mrs. Flits, who has presided at all. A detailed and perfect report of the treasurer Miss Margaret Aubin was audited as carefully by Miss Emma E. Walker. The Americanization Committee, Mrs. David Black, chairman, reported a happy and profitable winter, with each member directing her attention to some one line of service: Mrs. E. A. Howe in charge of four interesting "parents' afternoons" at Stearns School; Mrs. Wales in charge of musical features of each occasion; Mrs. F. E. Harwood directing the English Class; Mrs. J. K. Williams giving time to the Stearns School Mothers' Club, she and Mrs. Peter Turchen opening their homes evenings for the study of better homes; and Mrs. G. Raymond Lehrer is planning the last event of the year, a drive around historic Boston.

Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, chairman of American Home, said there have been at least 50 enthusiastic souls working for various home betterment objects, having as close association as possible with American Home Makers Inc., Priscilla Proving Plant, the High School Household Arts; purchasing professional books, and giving courses from hemstitching to "bedetting."

The Conservation Committee, Miss Margaret S. Ball, chairman, reported meetings and conferences, gave warnings against fires started while camping or on picnics and to save the wild flowers, and stated the Committee sent $10 and the Club $15 to the $400,000 needed to help save Franconia Notch from destruction for business purposes—an end for which all patriotic societies and Clubs have been working. She also warned anew of the danger which always is pending at this time of year from careless throwing of matches and lighted cigar or cigarette stubs while driving through country and forest.

The afternoon's program was in charge of Mrs. LeRoy P. Guion, chairman of American Home, and a very inspiring talk on this subject was given by Mrs. Harry Burnham, a General Federation chairman in this department. Mrs. Burnham made a plea for the larger viewpoint of home life with the courtesy of true hospitality. There was the warning not to lose sight of the spiritual in the pursuit of the mechanical perfection. She divided the home background into three units—the work unit, which begins at the back porch, with delivery goods and the preparing, cooking and serving of foods; the rest unit, with the bedroom, and haven of the mother for rest and repose; the recreation unit with living room, and play rooms, where elders and children could enjoy sociability, play and toys. Joining these three as connecting unit was the entrance, the hall and corridors giving forth friendly cheer to all who enter, and these should have the spirit of repose and ease, and also of welcome. The pillars of the home she gave as three, also—courtesy, courage, and conversation—the last, alas!, an almost forgotten art in degeneration to chatter.

Appropriate to the talk, Mrs. Joseph Otis recited a poem of Edgar Guest's, "It Takes a Heap of Livin' to Make a House a Home," and a delightful accompaniment was played softly on the violin by Miss Ellen Guion.

An outstanding item of business was the vote of the delegates to make the American Home Committee one of the standing committees, it having been a special committee from its inception in 1925.

And then, there is a most delightful outing for May 23-24-25 (Wednesday through Friday) in a trip over the road via Newburyport Turnpike to East Wolfboro, where the night will be spent at Birchmont Camps, with the climbing of Chocorua Mountain the next day, and the return by motor from Birchmont on Friday. This is said to be a three-mile climb in three hours. The probable expense of the trip is from $8 to $10. Those interested should communicate with Mrs. Ernest G. Hapgood, 4 Chester street, for the business meeting at 2:30 o'clock, and election of officers for the coming year.

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

A great many Newton people read with much interest not long ago of the number of books actually stolen from the Boston Public Library. I wonder if they are aware that our own Free Library is not immune. And I wonder how many good people of Newton know we have some—far too many—bad people in Newton who have no hesitation in actually carrying off library volumes of more than ordinary value.

In this column I once wrote of the loathsome practice of marking extensively books taken from the Free Library. I called attention to the liberal use of a lead pencil with which whole paragraphs were struck out and also marginal notes made. Bad taste and evidence of a selfish nature to be sure.

Since then I have learned with astonishment that marking books in this way is as nothing compared with the other forms of malicious mischief to which books from our Free Library shelves are submitted. Incredible as it may seem to the readers of the Graphic, books are stolen from our Free Library while some are left after having been mutilated shamefully. I was shown two splendid volumes of historical matter from which several whole-page illustrations had been cut. A knife had been used, with such clumsiness as to cut through other pages as well as to extract the illustrations. The pictures no doubt appealed to this bookish outlaw, who had no scruples in slandering the whole volume in order to gratify his covetousness.

Taking books from the shelves in the reference rooms and never returning them is not uncommon, strange as that may seem. These thieves seem to have no conscience about it and certainly no regard for other people.

What can be done to stop it? Running down the borrower who defaces a book is out of the question. The alibi is certain to be, "The book was all right when I had it." To make an inspection of every book returned would require an extra number of assistant librarians. And as far as that goes it is the reference book that is usually the one damaged or stolen.

If the reference room was in view of the main desk instead of being shut off by partitions the assistant librarians might detect the operations of these unknown book-destroyers. You can't very well put an assistant librarian in every room to watch all who come in. That would mean a great force of employees engaged as combination librarians and detectives.

Still, the problem is a live one and has got to be faced. However you may characterize these miscreants you can't stop them by simply calling names. They must be checked and severely dealt with for the benefit and good name of the vast majority of decent-minded and appreciative people to whom our Free Library is both a convenience and a blessing.

It seems to me that it is the duty of every citizen to report immediately any instance of book mutilation or attempt to steal that comes under his observation. The protection of property owned by the taxpayers is as vital as guarding one's own. It is a community matter and affects us all.

The zone-making troubles. With "singles" and "doubles," are causing a stir in the town, with argument bitter, likewise frequent bitter. They try to talk each other down: Our Aldermen busy, would never get dizzy, with such matters, week after week, if only each dweller, in mansion or cellar, could pitch his own zone, so to speak.

I hasten to nominate for honors as a hero the man who can control his temper when the telephone rings at 2 a.m., and he answers promptly only to find he has been called by mistake. However, the average man stands little chance to become famous for his heroism under such circumstances. It just isn't natural that he restrain himself. If ever there was a time for cutting loose it is such an occasion as stated.

Personally I claim the qualifications of an expert on this being pulled out of bed to answer the telephone. But I haven't grounds for much complaint as usually the call was for me. That, however, was because of the character of my daily (and nightly) occupation and in a metropolitan newspaper office it is just as much daytime at 2 a.m. as at any other hour.

Still, I can sympathize with the man who told me the other day that he was the victim one of those false alarms. It isn't hard to imagine the situation. Sound asleep in a comfortable bed; nothing going on indoors or outdoors to disturb the quiet. The heating apparatus has been adjusted for the night, the chamber windows opened sufficiently to admit an adequate amount of fresh air and all is peaceful. There is no good reason why one should not slumber and absolutely no reason at all why one should be disturbed.

Ding, ding, ding, ding, ding, ding. The sleeper sleeps on.

Ding, ding, ding, etc., etc.

The sleeper is conscious of a strange noise and awakens slowly.

Ding, etc., etc., etc.

The sleeper is coming to, but not very quickly.

Again the racket. The sleeper turns over. The noise continues. The sleeper's mind is at last aroused.

"That must be the telephone," he says, "I wonder what the trouble is!"

With fear and apprehension he tumbles out of bed, shoves on his slippers, grabs his bathrobe and paters out to the telephone.

"Hello!" he breathes in husky tones. "Hello, what is it, what's wanted?"

"Hello, is this you Harry?"

The man in the pajamas is mystified. "Did you say 'Harry'?"

"Yes, is it you?"

"What number did you call?" demands the awakened one.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

That the greatest one act of Christ was to die on the cross was decided at the meeting of the Young People's Forum of Waban Sunday in the Union Church. Eleanor Denham was the leader on the subject "What is the Greatest Thing That Christ Did for the World?"

Among other "great things" that Christ did for mankind were listed the following:

To improve the relations between God and man by showing that God is as great in Love as in power.

To set an example to the world by living a "Perfect Life."

There followed a discussion on whether or not it is possible today to live the "Golden Rule" and as to whether Christ was super-human or a genius of genius.

"How should we honor Jesus?" was the next question. Is there any difference between worship and love? and can we have "ye" without the other?

Next week Richard Souther will lead the Forum in a discussion of "How we should use our money." The meeting will begin at 6:30. Sunday preceded at 6:10 by supper. Parents and friends of the Forum will be cordially welcomed.

An Executive Meeting was held at the home of Mr. Rufus P. Cushman Sunday afternoon at which plans for next year were taken over. "We want," said Mr. Cushman, "to have one program at least, during the year, which will suit everybody. We hope next year to have another Church Institute like the one which proved so popular this year, and to have several other series of correlated meetings besides innovations in the line of philanthropic and civic work. Next year our membership will probably be doubled and we shall have a large group with many new interests.

It is no particular trick to take the same tour twice, once in reality and the second time in memory, but with the aid of the maps there is even a third chance to take that particular trip—take it in anticipation. And that's almost as much fun as taking it in the flesh. Who hasn't propped the road maps up on the dining room table, trotted out the blue and green books, and, gathering the family about, set out to plan the most direct route from where you are to where you're going and back again? If anyone lives who hasn't done so he has missed one of the greatest forms of fun ever devised for the help and amusement of mankind.

It is no particular trick to take the same tour twice, once in reality and the second time in memory, but with the aid of the maps there is even a third chance to take that particular trip—take it in anticipation. And that's almost as much fun as taking it in the flesh. If anyone lives who hasn't done so he has missed one of the greatest forms of fun ever devised for the help and amusement of mankind.

Turn right at the Soldiers' monument, veer left with car tracks." How familiar that sentence sounds to most of us. I do believe I've said that in my sleep on the eve of an auto tour. And who hasn't?

Why should a map be so fascinating? Frankly, I can only venture a guess. It is the challenge it contains and the background behind it, the romance and adventure of its entire history. Maps, what wondrous details have been done to make them, what perilous trials have been followed by land and by sea at their best, what bitter wars have been fought to extend their limits? Some of these I know, many I do not know.

But this I do know. That I have never been able to look at one without experiencing that feeling of conquest and adventure which went into the making. Nor have I ever looked at one without wanting to get out and follow to the last wavering line the beckoning finger which calls me on and on to new places.

So get out your maps and your pencils and try it, if you never have before. It's the greatest little sport in the world.

The new law designed for this year only and under the provisions of which voters were able to write their preferences for candidate for President seemed to have gone to the heads of some voters. They preferred to make it a joke and proceeded to cut loose with their pencil. Instead of writing the name of a man known to be a party candidate for President or one who might logically be nominated, they put down the names of men prominent in the news for other reasons.

"Andy Gump," the hero of many a cartoon, was one man. Will Rogers, a live humorist, was another. "Bossy" Gillis, the Mayor of Newburyport was also voted for and so on until it seemed that all comic possibilities had been exhausted.

Strange as it may seem every one of these names has been seriously considered by the Secretary of State's office and a complete tabulation made. This fact, combined with the many variations of the name of Gov. Smith of New York and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, would make it appear that the Secretary of State's office will be months in getting a complete list.

I wonder if the funny men, or women, if the latter are guilty of this kind of humor, have any idea of what this is going to cost the State. It is costly as clerks must be engaged to make a faithful record of every name written. I can hardly agree that it is practical joke, for such antics are hardly practical when they involve spending taxpayers' money.

The increasing patronage of the series of Saturday evening performances by the Philadelphia Rice Players must be a source of satisfaction to the Y. W. C. A. and all interested in that cause. Not only is the work of the performers finding more appreciation but the piano solos between the acts by Mrs. Anna Hadden are greeted with enthusiastic applause. Mrs. Hadden is an accomplished player to whom one listens with pleasure.

"Hello!" he breathes in husky tones. "Hello, what is it, what's wanted?"

"Hello, is this you Harry?"

The man in the pajamas is mystified.

"Did you say 'Harry'?"

"Yes, is it you?"

"What number did you call?" demands the awakened one.

WOMEN'S CLUBS

seven meetings, and was proud to say had kept within budget allowance. The Christmas Seal, Mrs. C. C. Smith, chairman, was gratified at the response of $1,164.70 on their 1,400 appeals. The Bulletin Committee, Mrs. William W. Colton, chairman, stated six meetings for exchange of ideas and made "a bigger, better, and newsier Bulletin." This Club is the only one in the Twelfth District to have a Bulletin, and she paid tribute to the Newton Corner business men who had made it possible financially. The Public Health Committee, Mrs. John Patterson, chairman, told of the various activities that her sub-chairman had carried through, the health and amusement giving array including horse back riding with Miss Marion Stone, hiking with Mrs. Ralph C. Henry, tennis with Mrs. Penshaw Smith, swimming with Mrs. F. Carroll Thompson, gym with Mrs. William Brewster, bowling with Mrs. Daniel Goodrich and Mrs. William Somerby. Publicity was handled for these features by Mrs. C. C. Smith. News publicity for all Club matters for the Newton and Boston papers has been handled most ably and faithfully by the Press Committee, Miss Caroline R. Braman, chairman. The Education Committee, Mrs. Nathaniel Heard, chairman, told of an interesting address by Mr. Herman, director of playgrounds, for their first meeting, at which all Education chairman of the Newton Clubs were guests, of an open meeting when the season's books were discussed, of lectures on banking facilities that were most profitable, and finally of the division of the Scholarship Fund so that two college aspirants could share in the benefit one the recipient of last year who is doing meritorious work at Boston University, and the other a promising young girl about to graduate with honors from Newton High School.

Announcements of interesting outings will be found listed under Coming Events for this Club.

Two groups of songs, "Spring Songs" and "Children's Songs," delightfully sung by Mrs. Wallace Wales, were much enjoyed and appreciated by Club members.

Tea was served during the social hour which followed.

West Newton Women's Educational Club

The Annual Meeting and luncheon held in the Unitarian Parish House on Friday, April 27th, marked the end of the 47th year of this Club. Luncheon was served at 12:30 o'clock. The head table was presided over by the president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, and on either side of her were her officers and the three guests of honor, Mrs. Joseph Congdon, 12th district director, Mrs. George Phipps, and Mrs. Ella Mason, honorary members of this Club. To the three honor guests fell the added tribute of beautiful bouquets of pansies, which they found at their plates. The tables were very attractive with their lovely decorations of pink and yellow "Jack Horner Pies," from which were streamers of white ribbon to every plate, and at the end of each was a dainty nosegay of sweetpeas. At the appointed time each guest pulled the streamer and was rewarded with a dainty favor. All this work was done by Mrs. Clarence Angel and her committee.

Miss Hazel Hallet, National Prize Winner in Music for young artists, rendered most pleasingly a group of piano selections. Mrs. Blanchard called upon Mrs. Alvah Jordan to act as toastmistress. In spite of a roll of papers displayed to the audience, Mrs. Jordan insisted that she was unprepared to act as such, and provoked a great deal of laughter with her responses. She called upon Mrs. Charles Cunningham who responded to "the past presidents," Mrs. Frederick A. Cole to "the honorary members," Mrs. George Jackson to "the older members," Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson to "the younger members," and Mrs. Malcolm Warren to "the junior members." Mrs. Blanchard read a story by Mrs. Bernard Early, concerning the founding of this Club. This was written for a story contest which ran in the Federation Topics, and was given honorable mention. The author was very modest and did not wish her name divulged, but amidst clamors for "author, author" she was obliged to reveal her identity.

Mrs. Joseph Congdon, who is always a welcome guest, brought the Club a pleasant and helpful message, telling of the friendliness she has found in this Club and in other Clubs with which she has come in contact. Mrs. Charles E. Cunningham, the retiring recording secretary, gave a splendid report of the year's programs in the well-carried-out thought of twilight, rising of the evening star and moon, and the dawn, picturing a "beautiful night." She was then presented with a wonderful bouquet of flowers in behalf of the Club, by Mrs. Bernard Early, and responded to it in a charming and gracious manner. Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson, corresponding secretary, then gave the report of her year's work. Mrs. Charles L. Anderson gave a detailed treasurer's report, followed by the report of the auditor, Mrs. Adam Haug. Brief reports were given by chairmen of the standing committees, leaders of the Home Economics and Travel Classes, and the director of the juniors. The Press Correspondent reported 32 advance notices to 4 papers, and 28 write-ups to the two Newton papers.

Following the report of the junior director, Mrs. Blanchard was presented with a gift from the juniors, by the junior president, Miss Constance Hartwell. She was very much surprised and greatly pleased with her gift. In accepting it she thanked them, expressed her love for "her" juniors, and hoped that they would give their loyalty and help to the new president.

The following names were presented by the Nominating Committee, Edwin Wolley, chairman, and were elected for the ensuing year as officers of this Club: president, Mrs. Joseph A. Otis; first vice-president, Mrs. Charles E. Cunningham; second vice-president, Mrs. Malcolm A. Warren; recording secretary, Mrs. Ernest F. Robinson; treasurer, Mrs. Charles L. Anderson; auditor, Mrs. D. Earle Brackett; directors for three years, Mrs. B. Howard Lester, Mrs. Wilson C. Dort and Mrs. A. F. Ellwell.

The president, Mrs. Fred M. Blanchard, gave a brief resume of the year's work. After expressing her gratitude for the privilege and honor of having served as president of this Club, which she did loyally and faithfully, she presented the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Otis, who accepted this instrument, telling of the honor which she felt was conferred upon her as so new a member of this organization. The retiring president was presented with a beautiful bouquet of flowers, to which was attached greeting cards from every member of the Club, and the Federation pin. As is the custom, the meeting closed with the clasping of hands and the singing of "Auld Lang Syne."

Newton Centre Woman's Club

The annual luncheon of the Newton Centre Woman's Club followed by the reports of the year's work and the announcement of the next year's officers took place on May 3rd at the Club house. The following officers were elected: president, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr.; first vice president, Mrs. George H. Crosbie; second vice president, Mrs. Harry C. Gibson; recording secretary, Mrs. Elias B. Bishop; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Robert F. Hayden; treasurer, Mrs. George J. Murphy; assistant treasurer, Mrs. George F. Richardson, Jr.; auditor, Miss Helen L. Tolman; directors for three years, Mrs. W. Thatcher Hollis, Mrs. Frederick D. Robinson and Mrs. David W. Tibbott; and Nominating Committee for 1929, Mrs. Mahlon G. Bailey, chairman; Mrs. Nehemiah Boynton, Jr., Mrs. Albert M. Forte, Miss Addie B. Pitch, Mrs. John R. Lotz, Mrs. S. Hardy Mitchell, and Mrs. Alden H. Speare.

The last moving picture of the spring will be given on May 26th at the clubhouse, the regular schedule of Tuesday evenings and Saturday afternoons and evenings being kept up until then—and in the fall the schedule will begin again on Labor Day.

JOINS CHEVROLET FORCE

William F. Ryan of Washington street, West Newton, for some years engaged in the automotive industry in Newton, has become a member of the sales force of the Stuart Chevrolet Company of Newton.

THOMAS A. FRANEY

Thomas A. Franey of 162 Melrose street, Auburndale, a well known resident of this city, died suddenly early Saturday morning of heart failure. Mr. Franey, who had been in the undertaking business for some years, conducted a funeral the previous afternoon and that night attended a committee meeting of the American Legion Post of Newton. He had suffered previous heart attacks in recent months. He was a life-long resident of the Auburndale section, born there 41 years ago, the son of John and the late Bridget Franey. During the war he served in the infantry branch of the Army and he helped organize Newton Post of the Legion. He had been very active in Legion affairs, serving as Commander of the post and at the time of his death he was chairman of the welfare committee of the post. He also had been prominent in the affairs of Newton Lodge of Elks of which body he was chairman of the Entertainment Committee. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Hazel Franey, his father, John Franey, and three sisters, Sister Julia of the Sisters of Charity, Halifax, Nova Scotia; Miss Bridget Franey of Auburndale, and Mrs. Margaret Smith of Woburn.

His funeral services were held Tuesday morning at Corpus Christi Church, Auburndale. An escort of members of Newton Post, American Legion, headed by Commander Donald Hill, escorted the remains from the late home of Mr. Franey to the church, preceded by a firing squad from Company C, 101st Infantry. Also in line were delegations from St. Bernard's Court, M. C. O. F. and Newton Lodge of Elks. A solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Thomas McManamon, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Michael O'Connor of Framingham as deacon, and Rev. E. J. Ronan as sub-deacon. Present in the sanctuary was Rev. Joseph of Pepperell. The pallbearers were past commanders of Newton Post, Capt. Edward Edmunds, Jr., Maj. C. R. Cabot, Col. Sinclair Weeks, Col. Henry Comeralls, Lieut. Frank Wilcox, Levi Libby, Harold Marion and Julius Ramm. Among those present in the church were Mayor Childs and a number of city officials: Rev. Gil Wilson, National Chaplain of the Legion, and Rev. Herbert McCombe. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery where prayers were read by Rev. William Farrell of Woburn.

DEATH OF MR. BAKER

Mr. Stephen Baker, who died Saturday at the home of his daughter Mrs. Joseph E. Johling of Daniel street, Newton Centre, was in his 94th year.

Mr. Baker was a native of Dorchester and resided there until four years ago.

He was born Dec. 11, 1834, and was a direct descendant of William Vose, soldier who was with Gen. Washington at Valley Forge. He was a descendant also of Richard Baker, who came to Boston in 1635 as mate of the bark Bachelor, a ship from London that brought passengers and supplies. The first Baker settled in Dorchester, became a Selectman of the town and was a member of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery. The succeeding generations remained in Dorchester, and many members of the family took important parts in the wars of the colonies. Mr. Baker's generation was the seventh in Dorchester. Twenty years ago he retired from his business of painter and decorator.

Besides his daughter, Mr. Baker is survived by a son, Mr. Harry Baker of Newton Centre.

Funeral services were held Monday at the home of his daughter and were conducted by Rev. Christopher R. Eliot of Arlington, a former pastor of the First Church of Dorchester.

Newton Centre Woman KILLED

Miss Mary Convey, 49, of 48 Oxford road, Newton Centre, was found dead just after daylight last Friday morning on the ground outside St. Elizabeth's Hospital at Brighton. She entered the hospital as a patient the preceding day and was to have undergone an operation on Friday. Her room was on the third floor of the building and she is believed to have fallen from a window during the night. Her funeral was held Sunday afternoon from her late residence. She is survived by three sisters and a brother.

UNCLE CATCHES RUNAWAY

Vincent Sullivan, 16, son of John Sullivan of Upper Falls, ran away from home Wednesday afternoon and was detected by his uncle, Francis Gauthier, as the latter was riding along the turnpike near Newburyport. The boy was taken to the Newburyport police station and held until a member of his family came to take him home. Young Sullivan stated he did not want to go to school and he had started to go to Maine to work.

POLICE NEWS

Oliver Pacutti, 17, of Framingham, was fined $100 in the Newton court last Thursday for sneaking away after an automobile accident without making himself known. On Sunday, April 15, a car driven by Pacutti collided at Watertown and Walnut streets, Newtonton, with a car driven by George Read of Parmenter road, Waltham. Although Read's car was tipped over, Pacutti drove away. Another autoist chased him and though unable to catch up, managed to obtain the registration numbers on Pacutti's car.

Edward Hicks of Williams street, Newton, and Paul James of Newton street, Waltham, drivers of the two cars that hit Miss Mary Monaghan of Centre street, Newton, on the night of March 22, at Washington street, opposite Jewett street, Newton, were found not guilty by Judge Bacon in court last Friday. On the night of March 22, Miss Monaghan, 70, and partially crippled, was on her way to church. She had come over the church street bridge and was partly across Washington street when she was hit by a car driven by Hicks. There is an incandescent light on the bridge side of Washington street at this point and an arc light directly opposite on the other side of the street. Hicks testified he did not see the old lady. When questioned after the accident it was learned he was driving without a license. On this charge he was fined $25. Judge Bacon found Hicks not guilty on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

When the Monaghan woman was knocked down by Hicks' car Patrick Donahue of West Newton, who was driving towards Newtonton, stopped his car and hastened to her assistance. Another motorist also stopped his car and also was preparing to go to help the victim. As Donahue reached the woman she had raised herself to a sitting posture. As he placed his arms about her to lift her, the car driven by James came along and hit both. James testified he did not see Miss Monaghan and Donahue before hitting them. It was a rainy night. There was no windshield wiper on James' car. Judge Bacon found James not guilty of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Miss Monaghan was taken into Dr. O'Leary's office nearby and the police ambulance sent for, but she died before it arrived.

Giuseppe Madonia, an Oak Hill builder, who was in the Newton court recently charged with failure to pay employee's wages, was ordered to be in court last Friday with $100 as part payment of these wages. When he appeared without the $100, he was placed in a cell and given the alternative of securing the money or going to jail.

Joseph Winters of Western avenue, Brighton, was arrested early Friday by Patrolman Hammell charged with driving while under the influence of liquor. His case will be tried May 15.

Janet Hoch of Belmont was fined $10 in the Newton court Friday for speeding.

Parmello Brigandini of River street, West Newton, was fined $50 in court Saturday, for assault and battery on Ben Lipinski of Mattapan. Brigandini has been building a house in this city and Lipinski's father had the plumbing contract. According to testimony given in court Lipinski's senior placed a caveat on the mortgage of the house until he would have received all the money for the plumbing work. Ill feelings developed which resulted in Brigandini striking the younger Lipinski with what was alleged to be a crowbar, but which Attorney Finelli for the defense showed was merely a pinchbar. Lipinski's counsel stated that Brigandini had made threats against the two Lipinskis.

Cars driven by Alexander Blackett of Wellesley and Joseph Squires of Waltham, chauffeur for Stephen Richards of Needham, collided Friday at Beacon and Chestnut streets, Waban. Anna Blackett received injuries to her legs; she was taken to the Newton Hospital.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. Benjamin S. Hinckley was the speaker at the usual Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held at the Woodland Golf Club. He had as his subject the proposed new pension act which is now being considered by the Legislature.

Mr. Hinckley, who has just retired as an alderman of the City of Newton, had been in charge of this pension matter and was able to give the members present a clear and concise account of what it is proposed to do.

BUSINESS MEN TO HEAR CREDIT MANAGER

The May meeting of the Newton Business Associates will be held next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Vernon Court Hotel. The speaker will be violin, piano and cello solos and be orchestra selections.

Newton Central Council Has Done Much in Various Welfare Fields

Reports of Work Accomplished Presented At Annual Meeting In Newtonville Last Friday

The annual meeting of the Newton Central Council was held on Friday evening, May 4th, at the Bonnar Atwood Studio. Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, the President of the Council, presided. Reports were given by the Clerk, Mr. H. W. Bascom, and the Secretary, Miss Louise Peloubet. In the absence of the Treasurer, Mr. J. N. Eaton, the Treasurer's report was read by Miss Peloubet. Mrs. Palmer reported for the Civic Division Chairman, Mr. Ernest G. Haggard, on the investigation made by the Council of the Central Post Office situation in Newton; Dr. J. Mace Andress reported on the progress of the Pre-School Clinics inaugurated last spring; and Mrs. Louis H. Marshall told of the activities of the Welfare Division.

The reports as a whole showed that the Council has accomplished much in various fields by providing a centralized service for Newton welfare work. The office had given informational service, had co-operated with churches, clubs, and welfare organizations in various ways; had conducted a Volunteer Service Clearing House, a Community Calendar and a Christmas Clearing House, besides assisting in the research work of the survey of Boy and Girl Life.

The Welfare Division under a special committee and with special funds, had conducted an experiment in Big Brother and Big Sister work. Meetings had been held under their auspices on local publicity, on the Social Service Exchange, and jointly with the Health Division, on the subject of Communicable Diseases and the value of a Public Health Service.

The report of the Nominating Committee was accepted and the following officers and delegates elected:

President, Mrs. Irving O. Palmer; Vice-President, Mrs. Ellis Spear, Jr.; Clerk, Paul D. Elcker; Treasurer, John N. Eaton.

Elective Members of the Executive Committee: Mrs. Louis W. Arnold, William F. Chase, Jesse B. Davis, Rev. Ray A. Eusden, James Kingman, Horace W. Orr, Leon B. Rogers, Mrs. J. Porter Russell, Mrs. Stephen E. Wright.

Delegates-At-Large: Philip W. Carter, Rev. Timothy A. Curtin, Mrs. Irving J. Fisher, Charles B. Floyd, Gorham W. Harris, Mrs. Virginia M. Hutchinson, Albert R. Speare, Mrs. Bertrand E. Taylor, Miss M. Louise Walworth, Donald D. Williams, Rev. Percival M. Wood.

Nominating Committee for 1929: William H. Rice, Chairman; Grosvenor Calkins, Mrs. H. H. Longfellow, Mrs. J. Porter Russell.

Members of the Civic Division were called upon in groups to report on their aims and activities. Mr. Donald W. Hill, Commander of the American Legion, told of the various patriotic activities of that organization which included the encouragement of patriotism in the schools, work with the Boy Scouts and the furthering of the idea of a Soldiers' Memorial. Mr. G. Wilbur Thompson, President of the Chamber of Commerce, outlined the many civic activities of that organization including much work on the improvement of zoning, traffic and building activities in Newton.

The Improvement Associations of the various villages gave reports on what they were doing for the improvement of their localities. Newton Cen-

Newton Businessmen Hear Talk on Credit

Monthly Meeting Held Last Night
In Vernon Court

The May meeting of the Newton Business Associates was held last evening in Vernon Court with Mr. Martin Campbell, credit manager of the American Motor Equipment Co., and a director in the Boston Credit Men's Association, as the principal guest and speaker. Mr. Campbell gave a most interesting talk on credit and its various problems.

Credit granting is a most peculiar and yet most interesting problem because of the fact that no two persons are alike and each must be approached and handled in an entirely different way. Credit means the power to borrow, to seek goods or services on a promise to pay from time to time on a specified date. Granting of credit is based largely upon three principles—the character, the capacity and the capital of the person seeking it. Character is what you are—not what you appear to be. The speaker told of instances wherein the credit-seeker appeared to be a desirable prospect only to eventually learn, sometimes an expensive lesson, that he had no character. Capacity is what you do with the knowledge and ability that one has not by the amount of business you do. Capital is what you make and it is not always measured in terms of money in fact while money is a part of capital is by no means all.

Charge accounts are one of the finest assets any man may have. While one may have the reputation of paying cash the time may come when having credit becomes not only a desirable but an important factor in a business way and never having had a charge account that person often finds it a problem to get credit. The rapid growth of chain stores, doing business on the cash and carry plan, and other business methods have made an imperious need for a more cautious, more earnest study of credit granting than ever before. Installment accounts are desirable up to a certain limit. Here the question of a drop in prices enters when payments are not kept up and goods taken back at a depreciated value.

During the business session which followed the dinner President Moore was authorized to appoint a committee to handle all details in regard to the annual outing which will take place in July. Motion was also passed for the reappointment of last year's committee of three in regard to the closing of stores on Wednesday afternoons during June, July and August with the exception of weeks in which holidays occur.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

NEWTON FACES STIFF FOE IN SOMERVILLE

Claflin Field will be the scene of the big school boy game tomorrow afternoon when Newton high and Somerville high cross bats in the first game between the two this season to date the orange and black is undefeated while Somerville was handed its first defeat of the season by Everett last Saturday in a league affair. Newton is leading the Suburban league by virtue of its victories over Cambridge, Everett, Brookline and Rindge and is confident of sending Coach Dickerman's men back still lower in the race. The game marks the completion of the first round of the league play and a victory will make Newton the outstanding team of the season. Despite the defeat by Everett, Somerville is a worthy opponent and the stiffest Newton has been called upon to face this year.

Coach Sullivan has Bill Reilly ready to go against the Dickerman outfit and if he is in his usual form, Somerville should not get far. Reilly has hung up four wins, two of them shut outs while the two other opponents have scored but six runs. In 34 innings the West Newton boy has allowed but sixteen hits, has fanned twenty-four and issued but five "Annie Oakleys." Both Cambridge and Brookline were held to three hits each and were shut out, 5 to 0, and 6 to 0. In the seven inning game, the first of the season, Newton defeated Malden 9 to 4, with Reilly in the box. Considering the cold, raw day and the dusty conditions under which the game was played Reilly performed well as errors contributed to Malden's tallies. Since that game Newton has been backing up Reilly in great style and has made his task far easier. Defensively Newton is capable of holding Somerville. Newton's offense is one of the strongest in recent years.

Somerville High is holding undivided possession of second place in the league standing through its 6 to 2 victory Wednesday afternoon over Coach MacDonald's Cambridge Latin nine. Everett sprung a surprise and threw an obstacle in Somerville's path by taking advantage of the loose-playing of the Dickerman coached outfit and bunching hits to win from them last Saturday 4 to 1. This was Somerville's first defeat of the season and leaves Newton and Boston English high as the two undefeated school teams in this part of the state. English dropped a game to Milton Academy but has yet to be outpointed by a public school nine.

Al Blanche, Somerville's premier twirler, was on the mound in the Everett game and John "Lefty" Murphy toed the rubber against the Cambridge. Both are considered fine schoolboy pitchers although Blanche has not been as effective this year as last season. He will undoubtedly start again Newton with Murphy, a dangerous batter, playing in right field.

Somerville's other league victory was at the expense of Brookline high which was on the short end of an 11 to 3 score.

Previously to Wednesday's game with Rindge nine of Newton's first string players were batting over .300 with Phil Andres leading the list with .444. Of the nine only Sweet and Mullen had not played regularly. Facing a left-hander was a new proposition for the Newton team this year and as a result Dyer's effectiveness caused a considerable drop in batting averages. Fletcher and Warren were the only two to increase their marks while Spain and Mullen dropped from .332 to .286. Fletcher's two hits raised him to .433 in a tie with Andres for top honors. Art Wilson and deMille lost a few points while Sweet and Reilly into the fray too late to appear at the plate. Powers was not with the squad, having been out of school on account of illness.

With such a stiff array of hitters Blanche may find himself in trouble before the game is far along. The outcome is a toss-up and a great pitching battle seems to be in store for the spectators.

BURR TENNIS ASSOCIATION

At the Annual Meeting of the Burr Tennis Association held last Monday evening, the following officers were elected:—President, Katherine Sprague; Vice-President, Gordon Naylor; Treasurer, Charles H. Clark; Secretary, Lawrence W. Trowbridge; Executive Committee, Guy S. Baker, Jacob Canter, Austin Chute, Beatrice Colby, Ralph C. Henry, and Elizabeth Lane.

The Burr Tennis Association has been in existence since 1922. Its aim is to increase neighborhood spirit and encourage amateur tennis. The tournaments are run for the new-comers who have no one to play with, for those who are new at the game, for those who are out of practice, and for the capable players who wish to improve their game.

All residents of Wards 1 and 7 are eligible for membership.

In the Spring Tournament, competition in the Men's Singles and Women's Singles is for the permanent trophies presented by local clubs. Medals will be awarded to the winners of all other tournaments. These other tournaments consist of Boys' Singles, Girls' Singles, Men's Doubles, and Mixed Doubles.

Application blanks for membership and entry into the tournaments may be obtained from the Secretary, 14 Hollis street, at Hahn's Specialty Shop opposite the station, and at the Burr Playground. Entries for all tournaments are to close Monday, May 14th.

REILLY SHUTS OUT BROOKLINE

With Bill Reilly pitching shut-out ball Newton had little difficulty in defeating Brookline high 6 to 0 in its third Suburban league game last Saturday on Claffin Field. Reilly was master of the situation throughout the game fanning eight, passing one, and allowing two singles and a triple, and setting Brookline down in order six times. But to turn the spotlight onto Newton's pitcher detracts from the brand of ball the entire team displayed. In the field they backed up Reilly brilliantly and cut short any threatening rally.

After fanning Cannon and taking Nyan's pop fly, Reilly was Nicked for a hit by Stranahan who poked one into deep short out of Swett's reach. Andres, by a perfect peg to Spain, nipped him stealing. Newton scored a run in the first on deMille's single and Fletcher's double. Reilly issued his only pass in the second to Sovrensky. Two were down and Swett threw out the next batter. Although Andres singled, Swett walked and both moved up on a wild pitch, neither Gatchell nor Reilly could bring them in. In Newton's half, Fletcher grabbed two pop flies and Reilly fanned Cannon in Brookline's third. Newton also went down in order. Wilson backed up against the canvas and made a spectacular catch of Nyan's high fly in the fourth with Brookline again going down in order. Art Wilson's double was wasted for Newton.

Sovensky got a life when Fletcher fumbled his grounder with one down in the fifth. The next two batters were easy outs. Newton scored twice in its half. Gatchell was thrown out by the pitcher. Reilly and Spain singled and Mullen was hit by a pitched ball to fill the bases. Captain deMille came through with a solid single to left to score Reilly and Spain. With one down in the sixth Cannon got a life on Spain's wide throw to first but died stealing. Nyan fanned to end the inning. Newton went down in order in its half.

Swett made a nice catch of Stranahan's foul fly in the seventh with Reilly and Fletcher taking care of the next two batters. Shapiro, Brookline catcher, handled Newton an easy run by making three passed balls after Spain had drawn a base on balls.

In Brookline's eighth Sovensky fanned. Lynch singled past Spain, Brookline's second hit of the game, and Captain Jim Ryan came to bat for Shapiro. The Brookline star had been out the weather for a few days so he did not start the game. Reilly went to work on him and he hit to Spain for a force out and the latter threw to deMille to complete a pretty double play. Newton ran its total to six in its half. Andres hit for two bases and came home on Swett's three base blow. Swett tallied on Sutcliffe's single. Sutcliffe hit for Gatchell. Reilly fanned McDonnell and Cannon to start Brookline's ninth. Nyan clicked one to left field and it rolled under the canvas for three bases. Spain grabbed Stranahan's fly to end the game and save a run.

RINDGE TECH IS EIGHTH VICTIM

Newton high stretched its string of consecutive victories to eight on Wednesday afternoon by taking Rindge Tech into camp, 5 to 2, in a Suburban league game which keeps the orange and black at the top of the standing with four wins in four starts. Newton now has a win over every team in the league except Somerville which comes to Claffin Field tomorrow.

Don Wilson was on the mound for Newton and hung up his third victory of the season. Although inclined to have to work on him and he hit to Spain for a force out and the latter threw to deMille to complete a pretty double play. Newton ran its total to six in its half. Andres hit for two bases and came home on Swett's three base blow. Swett tallied on Sutcliffe's single. Sutcliffe hit for Gatchell. Reilly fanned McDonnell and Cannon to start Brookline's ninth. Nyan clicked one to left field and it rolled under the canvas for three bases. Spain grabbed Stranahan's fly to end the game and save a run.

Newton scored a run in the first inning. Meeker hit Spain and Mullen scored. DeMille drew a pass and Fletcher served Spain with a single. DeMille was cut down at the plate on Art Wilson's rap and Andres fouled out to end the inning. Rindge tied it in their half. Burke drew a pass, second on the next batter's out at first and scored when Warren threw wild to first, Versackas going to second. The latter tried to count on Sullivan's hit to left field but Art Wilson's peg was a gem and Andres blocked him off.

Newton scored a run in the second. Warren beat out an infield hit. Meeker hit Spain and Mullen scored. Spain's rap went through Loud, Rindge shortstop, and Warren scored. Meeker passed Mullen and Dyer went to the rubber. He hit deMille, forcing in Gatchell before he found the plate to fan Fletcher and forced Art Wilson to fly to right. Dyer gave Newton another run in the fifth by hitting Fletcher and letting him go to second by throwing wild in an effort to catch him napping. Art Wilson laid down a sacrifice and Andres hit a long fly to left which Burke got on the run, Fletcher scoring after the catch.

Rindge scored an earned run in the ninth. Andres took Sliders' high fly in front of the plate but Loud singled. Dyer made the second out on a foul fly to Andres. Wilson walked Kelley and Burke singled, scoring Loud. With the best hitters on the list coming up with the tying run possible Coach Sullivan decided to take no chances of a rally and sent Reilly in for Wilson. Reilly fanned Phillips to turn back Rindge.

ALDERMEN MEET

The outstanding features at the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, held Monday night, were the discussion of a number of amendments to the Building Code which will tend to allow more modern and less expensive methods of construction used in buildings in Newton, and the passage of a motion to authorize Chief Randlett to ask for bids for the new fire alarm signal system, which, with the building to house it, will cost around $250,000.

Both President Weeks and Vice-President Ball of the Board were absent, so City Clerk Grant called the meeting to order, and Alderman Collins was chosen as temporary presiding officer. The first hearing on the docket was on the petition of the Highland Oil Company to increase the storage capacity of tanks at its Needham street station from 40,000 to 60,000 gallons, and to keep and store gasoline at the rear of Needham and Easy streets. No person appeared to oppose this petition. Neither did opposition develop to the petition of Joseph Scalise, who asked for a permit to keep 500 gallons of gasoline at 182 River street, West Newton, or to that of Stephen Moran, who wants a permit to increase the capacity of his station at 123 River street by 1000 gallons.

Attorney James P. Gallagher, appearing for Joseph Rooney, owner of the Newtonville Motor Mart, formerly known as the Central Garage, asked that the Zoning Ordinance be amended to permit paint shop being conducted in that building in conjunction with a garage repair shop. According to the General Laws, a paint shop may be conducted, and the Newton ordinance should be consistent with these laws. Mr. Gallagher told the Board that the objections which owners of nearby residential property had raised against Mr. Rooney being granted a permit for a repair shop in the building had been withdrawn since the latter has agreed not to use the Walnut terrace entrance of the building, between the hours of 7:30 p.m. and 7 a.m. Joseph W. Crowell, owner of the Collonna Apartments, located near the automobile building, stated that he had withdrawn his opposition since he has learned that Mr. Rooney will do everything possible to conduct the business in a quiet manner. This large garage had, heretofore, been the cause of much annoyance to nearby residents. It was claimed that when the garage permit had been granted prior to the erection of the building, a condition had been imposed which stated that "the entrances to the garage should be on the side toward Washington street, and the exits on Walnut terrace." This agreement had not been lived up to, with the result that automobiles using the garage at all hours of the night on the Walnut terrace side, awakening the neighbors.

A number of names were drawn by various aldermen from the list designated as prospective jurors. As a result, the following citizens will serve as jurors at Cambridge this month: Royal Lapham, 89 Central avenue; Fred Elliott, 30 Saxon road; James Farquhar, 524 California street; Philip Horne, 9 Barnes road. Those drawn to serve in the June sessions of the Superior Court at Cambridge were: Chester Perrin, 238 Austin street; Alexie Benoit, 21 Adams avenue; Eugene Cronin, 33 Henshaw street; Arthur Carter, 23 Trowbridge avenue; Ernest Fisher, 263 Lake avenue; Wallace Egerton, 31 Neshobe road.

On the motion of Alderman Earle, chairman of the Public Works Committee, the Board voted to authorize the opening of the attractive new bridge over the Charles River at Wales street, Lower Falls. This is a decided asset to that village and, together with the new Hamilton School, improves the appearance of one of the oldest sections of the city.

The meeting would have adjourned at 9:30, but lengthy discussions over the proposed changes in the Building Code and a long explanation of the new Fire Alarm Signal system, with resultant questions, caused the aldermen to remain until after 11:30 at City Hall. At the next meeting, on May 21st, a number of important hearings will be held, one of which will be on the proposition to take the large wooden tenement building on Washington street, near Thornton street, as a site for a new house for Engine 1 and Ladder 2.

AUBURNDALE CLUB—"VOD-VIL SUPREME"

The Vod Vil Show produced by the entertainment committee under the management of Mr. Syl Smith, was well received by good audiences Monday and Tuesday evenings. The program was as follows:

A group of harmonica boys, under the direction of James Ufford, and assisted by clog dancers; Mr. Richard L. Hill in a group of bass solos; Mr. Percy L. Bryning in pianolouges; Mr. Harold Miller, tumbling act; Mr. George E. Shattuck, cartoonist; Mr. George L. Corrigan, magician; Miss Lucille Dewing and Ruth Ufford in musical sketch, two Hebrews; Barnard and Gleason, "Just by Way of Passing," and Mary and Joe Sullivan and company in song and dance.

The proceeds of the Vod Vil and the rummage sale, amounting to between $950 and $1000, will be used for repairing and painting the clubhouse.

STEARNS SCHOOL CENTER

Monday, May 7th, the Mothers' Club entertained Mrs. David Black, Mrs. E. A. Howe, Mrs. W. Wales, Mrs. F. E. Harwood and Mrs. J. K. Williams from the Community Club, as well as Mrs. W. C. Boyden, and Mrs. G. W. Auryansen, directors of the Stearns School Centre. The Harmonica Class of the Playground first played three numbers, very well. Dominic and Jerry Morroco played harmonica and piccolo solos. The real event of the evening was the pantomime "Wild Nell" with this cast: Mrs. J. Trumbull, Mrs. F. Koch, Mrs. M. Leach, Mrs. Freeston, Mrs. J. Binks, Mrs. S. Champagne, Mrs. W. F. Champagne, Mrs. F. W. Womboldt, Miss Antoinette La Croix accompanied with "movie" music.

SERVICE OF QUALITY AND DEPENDABILITY

The petition of the New England Creamery Company for additions to its plant at 120 Farwell street, Newtonville, was granted. This company conducts the Noble Milk business and recently purchased the Willow Farm, which was located at 120 Farwell street. It desires to build another building to house milk wagons which were formerly quartered at Waltham. The Newtonville plant will be the distributing depot for this district.

Appropriations passed by the Aldermen on the recommendation of the Finance Committee were: Furnishings for the new John Ward School, $8400; furnishings for the Hamilton School, $3300; construction of streets, $36,000. This latter sum will later be cared for by a bond issue and will be eventually returned to the city under the Betterment Law. One important appropriation was that of $1000 for plans of the proposed new Fire Alarm Headquarters Building.

Among the recommendations received by the aldermen were: From the School Department, janitors' salaries—regular schools, $1450; vocational schools, $50; Fire Department, six additional men, salaries allowance $6493; Playground Department, floating wharf with runway at Crystal Lake, $700; alterations in City Hall for the City Clerk's and City Treasurer's offices, $5000.

Other petitions received were: From Henry Guerin for waiver of the set-back line at 64 Perkins street; Newton Centre Improvement Society, for traffic signs at the corner of Braeland avenue and Langley road; Rev. Albert J. Coleman, auto parking regulations, Phillips street; Haynes & Hernandez, division of sewer assessments, Forest avenue, Highland street and Leonard avenue.

Haynes & Hernandez, Inc., petitions for division of sewer and street assessments in Forest avenue, Highland street, Leonard avenue, Greylock road; Henry E. Warren & Nathan Stiles, division sewer assessment, Westminster road.

Newton Theological Institution, petition for deferring collection of sewer assessments, Cypress street.

Board of Health recommendation, connecting drain at 299 Tremont street, Ward 7, to connect with public sewer on Tremont street.

Petitions for drains and sewers, viz.: Henry E. Warren et al, for covering Edmonds Brook, from Cotton street southerly; John A. McLeod, Cotter road, from Fuller street southerly; Elizabeth G. Gray et al, Laudholm road, from Langdon street to 35 Laudholm road; H. Gertrude Corbett et al, Langdon road, from Washington street to Crafts street; Mary B. Upham, Mt. Vernon street, from end of sewer westerly toward Forest avenue; Minnie W. Hendrick, Crafts street, from California street easterly to cover No. 285; Nutting Realty Co. et al, Hammondswood road, from Monadnock road northerly; Craigie Realty Trust, Hammondswood road, from Monadnock road northeasterly to cover No. 52.

Georgiana Massee et al, laying out, grading and acceptance of Capital street, from Watertown street to Jackson road, under Betterment Law.

Haynes & Hernandez, Inc., laying out, grading and acceptance of Sheffield road, from 391 Highland street to 415 Highland street, under the General Law.

An offer was received from Joseph D'Angelo of $1000 for land owned by the city on Florence street, Thompsonville.

On the motion of Alderman Earle, chairman of the Public Works Committee, the Board voted to authorize the opening of the attractive new bridge over the Charles River at Wales street, Lower Falls. This is a decided asset to that village and, together with the new Hamilton School, improves the appearance of one of the oldest sections of the city.

POLICE NEWS

The week end was a busy one for the police and for Mrs. Grace Bostwick, Assistant Clerk of Court who functioned as Ball Commissioner in the absence of Clerk Sprague. The police arrested 16 persons who had become intoxicated, inebriated, spiltiated and mullied Saturday and Sunday despite the theory that this country is "dry." Three of the sixteen had the added charge against their names of driving while under the influence of liquor.

Charles Dazio, 18, of 108 Taylor street, Waltham, was found not guilty by Judge Bacon yesterday on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public. Dazio was the driver of an Economy Grocery truck which a few weeks ago hit and killed Thomas Delaney, 10, of Cutler street, Waltham. The accident happened on Cherry street near the Waltham line.

Leroy Crosby of Foster street, Brighton, was fined $25 in the Newton court Wednesday on the charge of driving so as to endanger the lives and safety of the public.

BREAKS HIP IN FALL

Clarence Kellogg, 74, of Dorchester, employed as a gardener in Auburndale, fell four feet on a stone wall at Auburn street and Evergreen avenue yesterday morning. He was taken to the Newton Hospital suffering from a fractured hip.

MIDDLESEX COURT WHIST

Middlesex Court, M. C. O. F., will hold a Whist and Bridge Party tonight in Elks' Hall, Newton. The affair is in charge of Miss Elizabeth Dunn, Mrs. Mary Leahy and Mrs. Mabel Moran. Many valuable awards will be given. A large delegation from Middlesex Court will attend the annual state convention of the M. C. O. F. in Pittsfield on May 22 and 23. At this convention a very favorable report of progress will be made by Miss Mary Blake, chairman of the committee active in the raising of a fund for the William H. Thomas Memorial Bed at the Holy Ghost Hospital.

"Common Cold" Cured by Freezing Process

"Feed a cold and starve a fever" is an old folk saying, but it seems that now the word "feed" should be changed to "freeze," seeing that we have good authority for stating that the best place for curing a cold, next to the Arctic regions, is the refrigerating chamber of a cold-storage establishment. In short, the best cure for a cold is—more cold.

The members of the various Antarctic expeditions associated with the names of Scott and Shackleton never caught cold when the temperature was 40 below zero, but the moment they put into a New Zealand or Australian port they began to sneeze. Ranchers and farmers in the northwest of Canada will testify to the fact that "colds," as we understand them, are almost unknown, although the cold is as intense at times as it is anywhere on the globe.

Thus it is a possibility of the future that, instead of proceeding to some hospital, the influenza patient will call an airplane on the rank and fly to Spitzbergen, Greenland, Iceland, or some other sanatorium for coughs, colds, and bronchitis, situated under the pleasant lee of an iceberg!

A ring of leather cut from the bridegroom's glove once served as a substitute. It was an elopement and the harassed lover had obtained a license, had the minister in readiness and a cab waiting, but had forgotten the ring. He took up his pocketknife, cut one from his glove and was duly married. The skipper of a tug was unable to produce the golden circle at the proper moment, though he had it in his hand when he stood before the minister. Being a very bashful man he had, in his embarrassment, put the ring in his mouth and swallowed it. One of his friends was dispatched to the tug, which was lying at a nearby wharf to see if any of the crew had a ring to lend for the occasion; as none of them possessed such an article of personal adornment, he borrowed an earring from the Portuguese cook and the knot was duly tied.—New York Times.

It was the first time the discoverer had even seen anyone emitting smoke from his mouth and nostrils and the experience so unnerved him that he almost forgot "to take possession." This is said to be the only time in the admiral's long career of discovery when he nearly failed in his important duty. There is a picture extant however, which shows clearly that, after a moment's distress, the admiral braced up and did "take possession" in the usual manner, for Ferdinand and Isabella.—Hygela Magazine.

Reason for Long Night

As the axis of the earth is inclined at an angle of 23½ degrees, the Arctic circle is not illuminated by rays from the sun during the winter period. The sun is below the horizon practically the whole of the 24 hours of the day only just touching it at one moment.

In June the converse is true the sun remaining above the horizon during the whole 24 hours and just touching it at one moment. The period of darkness in winter persists for the whole six months between September and March. On March 21 the North pole is on the boundary between light and darkness and from that date until September 23 it remains in the light. There is therefore a day of six months and a night of six months at the North pole.

Creed vs. Deed

The curious influence that men's creeds exert over their minds is carried over bodily into our social thoughts and behavior, says a writer in Scribner's Magazine. Broadly speaking, men live by their wits as individuals, while as a society they live by their creeds. For society deals largely with generalities and it is in dealing with generalities that a man consults his creed.

We have seen that when a man follows the dictates of his creed, he will often adopt general ideas and doctrines that are in direct conflict with the specific dictates of his mind and conscience. Hence, society commits itself to many propositions that are by no means representative of the way people actually feel and think.

Almost Got It

At English court balls and receptions, it is usual to have a major domo whose duty it is to announce the names and titles (if any) of the arriving guests. On one occasion an announcer, engaged only for the evening, "ailed his throat" a little too often, chuckling Percy Armitage in his memoirs, "By the Clock of St. James." Very late, Mrs. Dawson-Damer, afterward Lady Portarlington, arrived. The befuddled announcer struggled vainly to grasp her name and, giving it up, started and amused the company by shouting out at the top of his voice:

"Mrs. Dawson—damn 'er!"

On Seeing

This habitable world is a tangle of beauties, like the interlacing of the sunshine and the shadows in a summer wood when the sunlight rules the sky. A world full of loveliness, and we see it not! So many dusks and dawns nobody watches. I resent people running mad over carnivals and slighting the pageants of the morning and the night, worth a pilgrimage about our world to catch sight of once. One sunset in a decade; how thronged the way would be that led to its mountain! One in a week; who watches?—William A. Quayle, in "God's Out-of-Doors."

Made a Bad Trade

The poet Heine's sense of humor must have been a great boon to him through all his disappointments and ill health. After months of paralysis and blindness, he said one day to a visitor, records Lewis Browne in "That Man Heine":

"Ah, you find me now utterly stupid!"

"Yes," said the hook traveler. "Well," said the man of business. "I have no words in which to express my contempt for a man who has nothing better to do than travel in books."

"Then," replied the traveler, "allow me to say you are one of our dictators. It contains 50,000 words in which you can express your contempt!"—Regina Leader.

of this Chapter, the Commissioner shall order the removal of all brick from the job whether installed or not. All tests shall be contracted for by the owner or builder and no costs for such tests shall be chargeable to or payable by the City of Newton.

SECTION 10. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 377 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Concrete blocks or tile shall be made of one part Portland cement to not more than six parts of properly graded aggregate and shall have attained an age of at least thirty days before being used. The materials used shall be free from dirt and other foreign matter and shall be properly mixed and manipulated. The voids in concrete blocks or tile shall not exceed thirty-five per cent of their volume and all such blocks or tile shall be laid with the voids vertical. Concrete blocks or tile shall in all cases be marked with indented or raised letters, symbols or trade marks indicating the manufacturer's name. The ultimate compressive strength when thirty days old or when delivered to the building site must average on three samples not less than 1200 pounds per square inch of the gross cross sectional area as used in the wall. No unit shall test less than 1000 pounds per square inch over the gross area. The Commissioner may at any time require the manufacturers or users of concrete block or tile to have tests made at their own expense of such blocks or tile and of the materials used in their composition. The thicknesses of walls constructed of concrete blocks or tile shall not be less than that required for terra cotta tile, and all such walls shall be laid in cement mortar."

SECTION 11. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 389 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Concrete blocks may be used where terra cotta tile is allowed by the provisions of this chapter and subject to the same requirements, except that concrete blocks may not be used for the insulation of iron or steel members, nor for fire walls when required by the provisions of this chapter."

SECTION 14. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 444 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Concrete blocks may be used where terra cotta tile is allowed by the provisions of this chapter and subject to the same requirements, except that concrete blocks may not be used for the insulation of iron or steel members, nor for fire walls when required by the provisions of this chapter."

SECTION 15. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended, in Section 463 by adding, at the end of said section, the words "All cooking or heating apparatus, except portable, shall be connected to a chimney or vent flue" so that said section shall read as follows:

"Concrete blocks may be used where terra cotta tile is allowed by the provisions of this chapter and subject to the same requirements, except that concrete blocks may not be used for the insulation of iron or steel members, nor for fire walls when required by the provisions of this chapter."

SECTION 16. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 499 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Foundation walls for frame buildings shall be of brick, concrete block, or solid concrete, at least twelve inches thick, or bubble or block stone at least eighteen inches thick, laid in cement mortar."

SECTION 12. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 402 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Terra cotta tile in the form of hollow blocks may be used for bearing walls only in buildings where the floor load does not exceed seventy-five pounds to the square foot on any floor above the first floor; when the height of the building does not exceed forty feet and three stories, tile may be used for non-bearing walls as provided in sections 424 and 426 of this Chapter. One story structures, not for habitation, with external walls not over ten feet in height, and not over two thousand square feet in area with roof spans not exceeding twenty-six feet between the eaves, may have walls of terra cotta tile not less than eight inches thick. In all buildings in which terra cotta tile is used as non-bearing walls, the thickness of the walls shall be at least three feet above the highest point at which the chimney cuts the roof and at least six inches above any roof surface within ten feet in a horizontal line and not less than six of the top courses shall be laid in pure cement mortar and brickwork carefully bonded or anchored together unless protected by a proper coping. All flues shall be properly cleaned and all rubbish removed, the flues being left smooth on the inside. No chimney shall be built out of perpendicular more than one-third of its area and no corbel shall be built out from any four-inch wall of a chimney for any beam or girder to rest upon. All cooking or heating apparatus, except portable, shall be connected to a chimney or vent flue."

SECTION 16. Chapter XXXI of the Revised Ordinances of 1922 amended by striking out the entire Section 499 and substituting in place thereof the following:

"Every building hereafter erected two or more stories in height (except for one family not over 2½ stories in height) shall be provided with at least two independent stairways or other means of egress separated from each other as far as practicable and each accessible from all parts of the building."

"Every building which is not provided with exit facilities as prescribed in this chapter for buildings hereafter erected, and in which the exit facilities are inadequate for the safety of the occupants, shall be provided with such good and sufficient fire escapes, stairways or other means of egress in case of fire as shall be directed by the Public Buildings Commissioner."

"The owner or owners of any building upon which a fire escape is erected shall keep the same in good repair and properly painted. Fire escapes on the outside of buildings shall consist of open balconies and stairways and be constructed in accordance with or equal to the requirements of the Massachusetts District Police. Fire escapes may project not more than four feet over a public way or beyond a building line, in which case they shall have a clearance of not less than eight feet above the ground. The balcony on the top floor, except in case of an iron fire escape, shall be provided with a gooseneck ladder leading from said balcony to and above the roof."

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold for Regan and Daley to D. E. Replique of Watertown a new brick Dutch Colonial home which has just been erected on Devon road in the Waban district. The house contains seven rooms and bath, and together with the garage and 11,500 sq. ft. of land is valued at $15,000.

The Burns agency have also sold for Stuart Marshall Realty Co. to George Robert a single frame ten room home located at 401 Devonshire street, Newton. With the house there are 4,500 sq. ft. of land and a garage, and the property is valued at $10,500.

—Mr. Caleb S. Spencer for some years a former resident of Hunnewell avenue, Newton, died Tuesday morning at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital. Mr. Spencer was 71 years of age and was a resident of Brookline. He is survived by his widow, three sons, Harry L. Spencer and Platt R. Spencer of Brookline, Frank S. Spencer of Melrose, and one daughter Mrs. Anna Gould of Elizabeth, N. J.

—Miss Elizabeth Rees, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Rees of this city, has been greatly honored at her Alma Mater. Miss Rees, a member of the present Sophomore class of Elmira College, has been elected to the much coveted office of president of the Junior class. She has shown herself to be worthy of this position by her co-operation in many college activities. The class of '30 is indeed very fortunate to have Betty as its president.

—Miss Alice C. Holmes of Brookline, daughter of Mrs. Welles E. Holmes, formerly of Newton, has set Saturday, May 26, as the date for her marriage to Shepard Dudley of Montclair, N. J. The ceremony, at Grace Church, Newton, will be followed by a small reception at the home of the bride's aunt, Miss Elizabeth Holmes, 115 Shornecliffe road, Newton. Miss Frances Holmes will be her sister's only attendant, and Edwin Bradford Holmes will be flower girl. Mr. Dudley, who is the son of Mrs. Warren Preston Dudley of Belmont, will have as best man, Allan M. Cave of Brooklyn. The ushers will be Welles E. Holmes, brother of the bride; Russell Goodnow, Sydney Deane, Robert G. Hutchinson, Leonard Laird and John Goodnow. Mr. Dudley and his bride will live in Bloomfield, N. J.

ABOUT TOWN

By Edw. H. Powers

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Taffe received cards yesterday from Galway, Ireland, where they are visiting relatives of Mrs. Taffe. Ray reports an excellent trip across the Atlantic. He enjoyed more comforts than he did when he went over in 1917 with the 26th Division.

There is one improvement badly needed in this city which has been long delayed and which should not be longer deferred. This is—the covering of Laundry Brook at the Boyd Park Playground. This brook, the largest and longest in the city, has been covered for most of its length from Bullough's Pond to the playground. It carries a large volume of water after rains and when snow has thawed and is an increasing menace because of the fact that the neighborhood around Boyd Park is now thickly covered with dwellings. Until this brook is covered the playground, one of the oldest in this city, cannot be used to advantage. Many parents are afraid to allow their children to visit the playground because of the danger from the brook. One child was drowned in the brook a year ago last winter. Besides being a source of danger to the children, the open brook at this place is unhealthy. It is a repository for dead cats and deceased dogs, and serves as a breeding place for mosquitoes in the summer months when its current is sluggish.

Votive Offerings in Gratitude to Saints

Votive offerings are still a popular way of expressing gratitude, as the exhibition at Naples shows. The ancients and the early Christians made use of this custom, not only in sign of thanksgiving, but as a preventative measure. Pierre Van Paassen writes, in the Atlanta Constitution. In cases of illness they would make haste to deposit a model of the injured limb or organ in the church in full faith of obtaining a cure. As time went on the church forbade this as savoring of magic, and only officially admits to the altar thank offerings for grace received. Yet to this day, in the neighborhood of Naples, mothers weigh their children and offer the same amount of wax to the virgin or their patron saint to keep the little ones from dwindling away. In southern Italy plague, pestilence and famine, battle, murder and sudden death, tempests, earthquakes and thunderbolts are all, it is popular belief, under control of some one special saint who has power to relieve sufferers from their evil influences. Thus St. Nicholas and St. Anthony protect the cattle; St. Paul cures snake bite; St. Ercolano strengthens the legs; St. Donino cures hydrocephalus; St. Catherine, St. Raphael and St. Pasquale are fervently invoked when girls want husbands.

World's Great Had to Overcome Grave Ills

Not an individual living is absolutely free from handicaps. Some of us are physically disabled, others are mentally harassed, hundreds suffer both, writes Louis E. Bisch in the American Magazine. We struggle with deformity; we fight disease; we wrestle with doubts, feelings of inferiority, oversensitivity, uncontrollable temper, all sorts of distressing disabilities. Even the greatest among us are handicapped like that. Every human being is prevented somehow from fulfilling his highest destiny.

Many of our greatest men were handicapped by disease, and somehow surmounted it. Milton and Handel were blind. Beethoven was deaf and Keats had tuberculosis. Pope was deformed. Caesar suffered from epilepsy. Lamb and his sister were subject to repeated attacks of insanity. Fielding wrote his rollicking book, "Tom Jones," while melancholy. Florence Nightingale did some of her best executive work while bedridden. The list, indeed, is a long one. These people achieved in spite of a hardship.

Before daylight savings time was heard of swains and their sweethearts were wont to meander to Waban Hill as the stars shone above and the moon cast its romantic glow. Since daylight savings has been the accepted thing, another generation of swains and their "dearies" have motored to Waban Hill to hold hand and whisper "sweet nothings" after the sun has set over Mount Wachusett.

But, some person devoid of romance, some disgruntled "dill-pickled human," or some overzealous moral reformer has taken extreme measures to discourage youthful lovers, lovers of Nature and elderly sightseers from visiting Waban Hill. Some person with malice aforethought carpeted the upper part of Manet road which leads to the summit of Waban Hill with broken bottles. For 200 feet the surface of the street was literally covered with broken glass which has wrought havoc with scores of automobile tires. Even the stone steps leading from the street to the top of the covered reservoir had many pieces of glass strewn on them. While this glass may have destroyed the tires of some participants in "petting parties," it also ruined some tires belonging to very respectable elderly folks who unsuspectingly drove up Manet road in daylight hours. The police are investigating.

The other evening a young married woman took her three-year-old son to a church supper. Her mother was a member of the organization that was giving the supper. As the daughter and her son were about to seat themselves at one of the tables, the mother, who was helping serve, said to her daughter: "If that kid were mine I would have cleaned him up a little before I brought him here. Why didn't you wash him? His hands and face are a sight!"

"I did want to wash his face and hands," said the young ultramodern mother, "but he didn't want to be washed. I asked him if he wanted me to wash him, and he said: 'No! Didn't you, honey?'

"Sure! I don't want to be washed," agreed little youngster with an independent, self-satisfied tone of finality.—Indianapolis News.

Famous Jewish Order

The Essenes were a Jewish brotherhood which was founded probably after the Maccabees at least two centuries before Christ, existing to about 200 A. D. The records of them are not found in the Bible or rabbinical literature, but certain profane writers such as Pliny, Josephus and Philo describe them as religious separatists, having a strict code of ceremonial observances much more rigid than the ordinary ceremonials of Judaism. They also were celibate and lived in communities holding all things in common. The re lationships were conducted through the Quincy Market Cold Storage Refrigeration Plant by Mr. Mackay, who is the vice-president and manager of the system. Two warehouses and the power plant were visited and proved of great interest.

Mr. Gibbs took the party, also, through the Samoset chocolate factory.

SCHOOL NOTES

MASON SCHOOL

The Annual Meeting of the Newton Centre School Association was held in the Mason School Hall on Wednesday, May 9, at 3 P. M. Music and a Social Hour followed the business meeting.

Mason School went into first place in the Newton Grammar School Base ball League by defeating Hyde 8-6 in an exciting and well played game.

HEADQUARTERS FOR SANITEX MOTH-PROOF SERVICE

Big Court of Honor

Last Friday evening, May 4th, an outstanding Court of Honor, at which Scout Badges and Honors are awarded, was held at the Levi Warren Junior High School, at West Newton. Troop 7, Scout Master Maxwell P. Gaddis, was host at the affair; the Troop Committee under Chairman Quincy W. Wales, acted as the Reception Committee.

Mayor Speaks and Makes Eagle Award

Mayor Edwin O. Childs, who is an active member of the Troop Committee of Troop 3, Nonantum, made the award of the Eagle Badge to Scout William Emerson of Troop 7, prefacing the award with a most able exposition of the value and application of Scouting. The Mayor stated that an Eagle Scout applied during the war for service in the aviation corps, for which college work was required. The Scout had no such education, but he was appointed to the Corps and given credit for two years' college work on the basis of his work to secure the Eagle Scout Rank!

When the Mayor had completed his address, Scout Emerson was escorted half-way up the hall by two Eagle Scouts and the rest of the way, with the Council Drum and Bugle Corps playing. Mr. Gaddis presented Emerson to the Mayor who pinned on the badge.

Pantomime Playlet Given

Instead of Scouting demonstration, Troop 7, after the opening ceremony, gave a playlet, "The Eight Ages of a Scout," which showed the progress of a Boy Scout, from the candidate to the Scout Master. The manuscript was read by the Scout Master and the pantomime illustrating each step given by the Scouts. This novel and inspiring program was well received.

Council Corps Made Fine Appearance

The Council Drum and Bugle Corps, under Senior Drum Major Richard Schroeder, made its first appearance in their new and gaily-colored neckerchiefs of red and gold. They gave four ruffles as the Court of Honor, consisting of President William T. Halliday, First Vice-President G. D. Marcy, Vice-President Frank A. Day, Deputy Commissioners Bartram and Varney, Mayor Childs, Executive Board members Philip W. Carter, Examining Board members Dow and Liscomb, entered the hall. This was followed by a piece and then the Corps marched in, followed by Troop 7, who lined up and went through their color and opening ceremony, following it with their playlet. The Corps played at various times during the evening, and their training and great improvement were very obvious, volume and quality of the music being excellent.

Commissioner Takes Over Court

At the close of the Troop program Scout Master Gaddis turned over the Court to Commissioner Woodbridge, Chairman, and the awards followed. Scouts were marched up in details, for there were a great many of them, under Senior Patrol Leader Walter Brandt of Troop 7. Second Class Badges were awarded by Mr. Frank A. Day; First Class by Commissioner Woodbridge; Merit Badges by Executive Bruce and Deputy Varney; Star and Life by Mr. Marcy and the Bronze Palms by President Halliday. Each presentation was preceded by a

Nobscot Reservation Development Proceeding

The work on improving and developing the new Nobscot Reservation is proceeding apace. On Saturday last Scouts 1 and 5, under Scout Master Sloane and Assistant Scout Master Crosbie, respectively, arrived at the Reservation early in the morning with a total of about sixty Scouts. Troop 1 was assigned to cutting and cleaning along the main road, to reduce the fire hazard. Troop 5 was split in three groups, one under Ranger Ingraham, to cut and clean along the road; one under Mr. Crosbie to start cutting a trail along the northern right of way; and the third group under Professor Hudson to cut a trail along the western border.

These Scouts and leaders accomplished a great deal of work and as a result the roadside is practically all cleaned up; one trail has been started; and one trail completed.

Real Indian Mortar Discovered

Ranger Ingraham, with the help of some old-timers from the country about, has located a real Indian mortar, in which the Nobscot and perhaps the Neponit Indians used to grind corn. It has been railed off and has already drawn many Scouts and visitors. In addition search is being constantly conducted, as time allows, for Indians' graves which are said to be located somewhere on the mountain.

Bridge and Lean-To Built

Scouts Charles Frary and Fred Haynes of Troop 7 have completed the construction of a lean-to and a double-deck bridge across one of the smaller brooks, for their Pioneering Merit Badge test.

Troop 4 is at work every weekend on their cabin and the fire place

INTERCOLLEGiate DEBATE

Newton Council, K. of C., is sponsoring the second intercollegiate debate between the two Jesuit colleges of New England Sunday night, May 13, at 8 o'clock at Newton High School auditorium, Newtonville. The debate will be for the second leg of the K. of C. silver trophy won last year for the first time by Boston College.

The debaters will have for their subject one of the most vitally important public questions of the day, one particularly affecting the port of Boston, namely, "Resolved: That the St. Lawrence ship canal would be for the best interests of the United States." Holy Cross will uphold the affirmative side of the question and Boston College the negative.

Boston College will present a veterans team against Holy Cross with a decided local interest in the personnel of the B. C. team. Joseph B. Doyle of Newton, '28 will lead the Eagles for the third time against his ancient foe. Joe Doyle is a senior at Boston College and appeared in Newtonville last year against Holy Cross. Those who heard him will recall his attractive and forceful presentation. He is a veteran of the western trip and has made numberless appearances on the public platform. His work in the Al Smith debate against Harvard was masterly.

James M. Curley, Jr., son of the ex-Mayor James M. Curley will be the second man on the B. C. team. Mr. Curley is a senior and makes his second appearance against the Worcester debaters. He has made an enviable record in debating all through his high school and college career. He has participated in a great number of intercollegiate debates and has had considerable experience in public speaking before civic and fraternal organizations throughout the State. This year he won the most coveted debating honor at Boston College by winning the Fulton Prize debate medal.

Leo P. O'Keefe of Brighton, '29, a junior is the third member. He debated against Holy Cross at Worcester last year and Newtonians will recall his splendid work against the University of Pittsburg a few weeks ago, a debate also sponsored by Newton Council, K. of C. Mr. O'Keefe won high praise in the radio debate last March when broadcasted over station WNAC.

From an oratorical standpoint Holy Cross comes to Newtonville Sunday night well equipped for the forensic fray. Edward A. O'Rourke, '29, New York City won the high school oratorical contest in the New York metropolitan district. He debated against the junior B. C. team last year at Worcester. This year he won the first prize in the oratorical contest and will represent the Worcester college in the intercollegiate district finals at Amherst within a few days. He is president-elect of the dramatic society and vice-president of the debating society.

Edward M. McEntee, '28, Providence is a trained debater and was a finalist in the Holy Cross intercollegiate oratorical contest. His work was prominent in a debate with Fordham while at Providence College. He is a member of the musical clubs and treasurer of the Philomathic debating society.

James M. Carroll, '30, Springfield, also debated against Boston College last year and was one of the finalists in the intercollegiate oratorical contest. He has appeared in several exhibition debates this year.

That the debate has aroused much interest in metropolitan Boston is indicated by the increasing demand for tickets and to give their team moral and cheering support over 100 members of the Holy Cross student body and alumni have booked busses from Worcester. This showing has been unheard of in Boston College-Holy Cross debates previously proving that Holy Cross is prepared to give battle to the Eagles in every way.

Holy Cross will be well represented in the entertainment program with their Philharmonic orchestra giving a concert from 7:30 to 8 o'clock. While Mr. Daley will render bass solos, Francis S. Shea '28, Dorchester, a member of the B. C. Glee Club will sing tenor solos. The singers will precede the debate and again pending the decision of the judges.

For the first time the two teams will debate under the ENGLISH system, one followed by the English universities. Under this system the first affirmative speaker opens with a one minute main speech and closes the debate with a six minute rebuttal. All the other speakers will be allotted 18 minutes, any portion of which may be used for purposes of rebuttal.

The judges of the debate will be: Hon. Charles H. Donahue, Associate Justice of the Superior Court, B.L. Dartmouth '99, LL.B., Boston University '01; Hon. Wilfred B. Gray, Associate Justice of the Superior Court, A.B., Boston University '06, LL.B., '08, Hon. Frank Leveroni, Judge, Boston Juvenile Court, LL.B., Boston University '09.

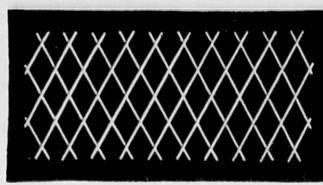

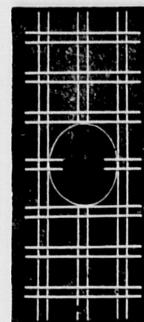

Charles E. Coyne, Deputy Grand Knight, heads the General Committee made up of the following members: Arrangements, John B. Monahan, G.K. Chayman, George Brophy, Thomas Waters, John B. Hurney, Lawrence Lombardi, Paul M. Fitzgerald, John Dunton, Joseph Callahan, William Doherty, Sr., William Meehan, Joseph Nolan, Algernon McCarthy, Frank O'Donnell, Howard O'Grady, John R. Kyte, James Messer, Timothy Hickey, John Nolan, George Linnehan.

Guests and Invitations: James P. Gallagher, Chairman, Joseph Dargan, Robert Vachon, John F. Gallagher, Neil McDonald, Henry F. Brennan, John W. Mulligan, Thomas M. Leahy, William H. Kerrigan.

WOMEN'S CLUB ACTIVITIES

COMING EVENTSShakespeare Club

Mrs. Charles H. Keeler will test the memories and wits of her fellow members of the Shakespeare Club at their next meeting on Saturday afternoon, the 12th, when she will "Quiz" them upon the entire play of Twelfth Night, in review. The program of Quiz is always most exciting and valuable. Mrs. A. L. Pratt opens her house, 67 Fisher avenue, for the meeting.

Newton Community Club

Members of the Newton Community Club who would like to visit Sharon on a trip to the Bird Sanctuary are invited to notify Miss Margaret Ball, N. N. 1542-M, in order that she may make arrangements for necessary automobile transportation. The trip is to be on May 17th, and those to whom it appeals to go to such a pleasant spot, now that spring is really blossoming in all its white glory, and enjoy a ride at the same time, are to meet on Eldredge street, near the Underwood School.

On the 23rd begins a three-day outing planned by Mrs. Ralph Henry, N. N. 2582-M, which is a most delightful sounding one, even if one does not go in much for mountain climbing, for so many other attractive features are added in the three days, besides the climbing of Mount Chocorua. A trip by automobile to East Woburn, by way of Newburyport Turnpike, starts the good time on Wednesday, the 23rd. The party will spend the night at Birchmont Camps, a beautiful spot, as attested by summer vacationists. Chocorua will be climbed on Thursday, the 24th, and the trip home will be made Friday, the 25th.

State Federation

ANNUAL MEETING. It doesn't seem possible that another year has rolled around, but it has, and once more the Annual Meeting will be held in that most convenient and attractive of locations, Swampscott, the New Ocean House, as experience has proven. The opening session convenes in the Garage at 2 o'clock, with the president, Mrs. Arthur D. Potter, presiding, on Tuesday, May 15th. Singing of "America the Beautiful," led by our enthusiastic Mrs. Mabel F. Barstow, with the Music chairman, Mrs. F. Otis Drayton, appropriately at the piano; the salute to the flag, as appropriately led by Miss Marion H. Brazier, president of the "Old Glory" Club, and the Invocation, make up the inspiring opening of a session that calls nearly 2000 dyed-in-the-wool Club women from all parts of Massachusetts. Greetings from the chairman of Selectmen, Dr. Howard K. Glidden, Mrs. Potter's address of welcome—always a delightful combination of word artistry, literary appreciation, and spiritual understanding of life's values—the Minutes, Rules, annual reports of officers—Clerk, her assistant, the corresponding secretary and treasurer, with wit and humor from the first, Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, and record of tons of statistics and mailing matter from Mrs. Allan V. Mosher and Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles, and with dizzying rows of figures from Mrs. Frederick S. Davis—will lead off the array of annual confessions followed by those from such confessions as Headquarters, by Mrs. Carl L. Schrader; Federation Pin, Mrs. George F. Lang, and Club Institutes, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, "A Message" from the Historian, Mrs. Emory D. Leighton, is bound to be also "confessions" of more than the year, that will refresh memories of Club women who have followed the Club flag for many years, and be informative for the newer enthusiast, and then more formal reports of Civil Service, by Miss Marian C. Nichols, and the district directors, Mrs. Bert S. Currier, Mrs. Walter A. Hall, Mrs. Heman A. Harding, Mrs. Walter C. Kenney and Mrs. Henry E. Robert, will contain occasional gleams of humor and joy among dependent accomplishments that will keep the listener keyed lest they miss one such saving bit of entertainment. Mrs. Robert J. Culbert, formerly a State Legislative chairman, now chairman of Resolutions, will make her first report, and business will also be expectantly awaited as to new possibilities for Club interest. This will close the afternoon session—one full of business, as will be seen. Club women, stufed with this array of a year, and wondering how a few short hours can hold so much that gives food for thought, will then have relaxation in the special features of the first day—the Music Memory Contest, which is open to all Club women, held from 5 to 6 p. m. This should give opportunity for great amusement, and the women will be put to it to prove themselves as proficient as did the school children of last year who had been in training in this music appreciation. There is the advantage of youth in the fact that fewer years have been filled with a combination of classical, hurdy-gurdy, grind-organ, musical comedy and jazz to confuse the memory as to "which is what." The audience is bound to find entertainment for tired ears and wearied minds, if only the contestants aren't too brilliant!

The evening session at 8:15 is supposed to continue play-time, but, joined with the music that will do so, is a serious address that is guaranteed to stir the intellect once more and keep the mind working, in following Dr. John Herman Randall's "The Thinking That Might Change the World." Mme. Rose Zulalian, contralto, and Margaret Kent Hubbard, accompanist, will give the musical program.

Whatever spare time remains, either before the session, after standing in line for reservations, or between sessions, will be spent in the dining-room and in strolls around the corridors to the booths of exhibits of committees, with occasional glances at the ocean. The inspiration of a big throng, of free pamphlets and suggestions from experts, of the attractive decorations of the hotel, of meeting friends and of the thought back of all this as to why it is going forward, is the backbone of the convention and must be experienced to be appreciated.

On Wednesday morning after the usual preliminaries, the director of the Ninth District, which is Hostess Mrs. Walter A. Hall, will lead off the new day in "greetings." The Nominating Committee, Mrs. Joseph C. Otis, chairman, will report the ballot which was printed in this column on March 30th. This mild excitement and fury of applause over, departmental reports, including Art, by Mrs. Henry M. Chamberlain; Music, by Mrs. F. Otis Drayton and Legislation, by Mrs. John H. Kimball, will bring much of interest and value in ideas. After the relaxation of Assembly singing, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith will draw closer the General Federation in her director's resume; Miss Allee F. Titus will make Federation Topics and her editorship of realization, and Mrs. William J. McDonald will report her work as to "Meetings." Several other departmental reports will follow: Social and Industrial Conditions, by Mrs. Alfred Bradley Carter; Co-operation with War Veterans, by Mrs. Paul A. Peters, and Literature, by Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson. There follows a message from "Our Grace Morrison Poole," recording secretary of the General Federation; the second report of the Resolutions Committee, and the report of the Credentials Committee as to delegates present, by Mrs. William H. Emerson, chairman.

It is at noon on this day that the Press Luncheon occurs, and Miss Carolyn J. Peck announces some interesting speakers for this festivity: Grace Morrison Poole, Mrs. Frederick Glazier Smith, Miss A. Gwendoline Albee, Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter, Miss Allee F. Titus, Jean Sargent of WNAC and various representatives from the newspapers. Mrs. Poole is sure to sparkle, Miss Albee to be witty, Miss Titus to be droll, Mrs. Potter to be inspiring, and curiosity is piqued as to just what the famous Jean Sargent will have to say. It would seem that in selecting speakers from the Club viewpoint, with fame as officers, a past State press chairman, the editor of Topics, the announcer of the radio publicity, and newspaper editors, that the program will be well balanced. A round table discussion is planned with a question box, and questions for this should be sent to Miss Peck, 325 Washington street, Wellesley Hills, as soon as possible.

The afternoon session holds many especially interesting reports. It starts off immediately—at 2 o'clock—with an all pleasing presentation of Past Presidents. These brilliant women who have held first honor in the past—if they manage to come for this moment of tribute—in most instances arrest attention, arouse admiration, or at least respect, and in some cases, as with Mrs. Herbert J. Gurney, give a feast for laughter in rare wit, as well as for inspiration in briefly presented idealism. Routine goes back to annual reports from Public Health, by Dr. Anna C. Palmer; Education, by Mrs. David D. Nickerson; Mothercraft and Child Welfare, by Mrs. May Dickinson Kimball, and Junior Membership, by Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr., with what they may offer of idea and entertainment. Presentation of New Clubs is always an awaiting moment, with Club women expectant of brilliancy or humor from these women who for a moment are given opportunity to shine, while telling of the Clubs they represent. That brief moment holds wonderful opportunity for lifelong fame, or for arrested attention, and some who are given it fail to grasp this second of stardom; others do and it is in expectancy of these that all wait eagerly and seize the joy they afford.

The report of International Relations, always a well-handled one by the present chairman, will have added interest this year, since it is the incoming president who appears upon the platform to face her assemblage of Club women who will on the following day give her homage as their new leader—Mrs. Azel A. Packard. There is bound to be something of the thrill of this present when she faces them in her chairmanship capacity.

In the next group of reports—from five district directors—our own part of the country is deeply concerned. Mrs. Joseph Congdon, from the 12th district, makes her last report, and she should have an ovation from her Newton associates in appreciation of her work and friendliness in her past two years of directorship. Mrs. Walter B. Leach, Mrs. J. H. Libby, Mrs. Carl L. Watson and Mrs. Edward A. Rice report for their districts, and Mrs. Leach's popularity, Mrs. Libby's friendliness and Mrs. Watson's delicious sense of humor are bound to hold attention. Department reports lead off again with our own district in evidence, and so of special interest, Press and Publicity, by Miss Carolyn J. Peck. Community Service will be reported by its chairman, Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, and American Home, by Mrs. Ralph H. Reed. And then Newton is in the limelight again, with our own Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, chairman of Conservation of Natural Resources, a subject at which she made herself a subject from the days of chairmanships in various Newton clubs. She carries her service into patriotic fields—or possibly forests would be better said—for we of the Daughters of the Revolution found it especially pleasant to aid her in the preservation of Franconia Notch—than which there can be no greater patriotic work in appreciation of our natural resources, not to add, fundamental scenery—at the fitting moment that she stepped into the regency of our local Chapter. She is sure of a welcome on the platform.

The President's Questionnaire, with its discussion as to delinquency and ineffectualness, and the other extreme of splendid record of accomplishment, is always heard with varying emotions, be it dismay, shame, and pride, leading to good resolutions for another year that won't be carried through.

Mrs. Packard again takes the floor to report as to the Shannon Fund, after which any business that needs attention leads to adjournment for the day's work.

Five o'clock Musicale by the Lancaster Theatre Group again offers relaxation to weary mind, and the evening is ushered in for the gala play night, Earl Spicer, Baritone, and Virginia Stickney, Cellist, the Brass Quartette, Belle Yeaton, Main, director, and a Harp Ensemble, with Elizabeth Norcross, Allen, Gretchen Cook, and Priscilla Smith, furnish a musical program. The Reception to Delegates and Visiting Club women in the ball room of the Hotel becomes a festivity of charming frocks and youthful merriment that would quite amaze the young generation that has a severe picture of Club women. No record is given as to the retiring hour or as to the various astounding small parties that will make this night memorable.

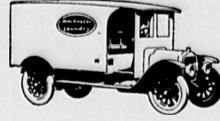

The final session, Thursday morning, opens at 9:15, although it will be hard for delegates to arrive at this hour, due to the activities of the wee small hours of which there is no official record!

Reports from five district directors, Mrs. William G. Potter, Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey, Mrs. George H. Sawyer, and Mrs. P. M. Lynch; report of the Endowment Fund by Mrs. George O. Jenkins; of the Chairman of Transportation, Mrs. Ernest R. Brackett, lead up to the grand climax of the day—the president's address, when Mrs. Potter pays her compliments to the Federation, and they pay their tribute of appreciation. The Resolutions Committee reports, the Elections Committee, Mrs. F. E. Simpson, chairman, and the new officers are then inducted, with all the honor and glory and thrill that make up such an occasion.

Club women should keep this record if they desire it in full for the future, as report of the meeting afterwards will consist only of the high lights of the three days' session.

To go back to details for information of delegates, the Credential Committee will be on duty Tuesday, May 16th, from 11:30 a. m. to 2 p. m., and from 4 to 5:30 p. m. All must register before 11:30 a. m. on Wednesday in order to vote.

ONE THING AND ANOTHER

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

It seems that Newton has at least three matters of deep concern over which it may worry whenever it pleases. I was going to say "at its leisure," but am reminded that the leisure class does not worry. Still, it can take up in public meeting or at annual banquets the question of apartment houses, school appropriations and unaccepted streets and find plenty of material for discussion.

Without dwelling on these particular matters and in the hope of diverting the sober-minded people of our city to more pleasant thoughts may I speak of the things over which we do not have to worry and to which we need pay no attention if we stay within the boundaries of our seven wards.

We in Newton are not called upon to stage monster receptions for trans-Atlantic flyers who are feted here, there and everywhere and who must hate the sight of a silk-hatted reception committee. We don't have to keep on hand a supply of fake keys to the city and pretend we are giving away something worth having.

We haven't any seashore for the landing of the merchandise of rum-runners.

We have no gay resorts where midnight parties are held under cover and where illegal liquor selling is carried on with the connivance of the authorities. We have no "wild life" outside of that which is represented by the birds and other creatures of the woods.

We haven't any slums where the police are obliged to patrol in pairs and where a citizen or a gunman or a policeman is liable to be "bumped off" without warning.

We haven't any subways to become tied-up by trolley cars getting off the track, we haven't any third rate places of amusement that have to be watched and we don't have any strikes and other disturbances.

When you come to think of it there are many things we don't have to worry over. For that reason, I suppose, we should make the most of those we have.

It must be a simple matter to lose an automobile registration plate. Last week I saw two plates which had been found by police officers and turned in as is all "property recovered" to use the official phrase of the department. These had been picked up on the road and an examination showed that they had not been too closely attached to the cars from which they had fallen.

Subsequently I learned that it not infrequently happens that number plates are found, but seldom. If ever, that anybody reports the loss of a number plate, I assume that the owners are either careless or have an idea that it wouldn't be any use to report their loss. Either that or they reason that having passed through a number of towns and cities they would have to do too much telephoning in an effort to locate it.

I can't understand myself why it is thought to be more trouble to telephone than it is to go through all the red tape and incidental rigmarole of obtaining a duplicate or having a makeshift plate painted and tied on in a sloppy way.

However, the police are not to be expected to become excited over restoring property when the owners do not consider it of sufficient value to start a search for it or even report their loss. I should suppose that it might be a sort of house-cleaning idea if the police were to look up the owner by the registration numbers and telephone him, saying "Come get your plate, it is taking up too much room."

The number, it seems to me, is a fairly comprehensive mark of ownership and the lost plate could be traced if one were willing to co-operate. I wonder if the Registry of Motor Vehicles hasn't some suggestion to make. Maybe it is a case of what's everybody's business is nobody's business. So many things are, you know.

I do not wish to appear as picking on automobile owners this week but there is still another thing that puzzles me. The new Registrar of Motor Vehicles, without injecting his personality into his announcements, has publicly stated that his inspectors would be on hand at different places to test brakes and lights and do other things that would establish a condition highly satisfactory all around. In other words, cars officially inspected and approved would run no danger of being held up as unfit to drive.

The chief interest the Registrar has of course, is the protection of human lives. If cars are equipped with brakes that are as they should be and with lights that meet the law's requirements the possibility of accidents is greatly reduced. We all agree that no other cars should be allowed on the road. But they are and nobody knows that better than the Registrar himself.

In order to start the season properly the Registrar offers to have his inspectors look things over. At the same time he makes it plain that he is "going after" cars improperly equipped and will use severe measures when he finds an offender. It must be plain that he has done more than warn owners—he has offered to put them on the right road or better put them on the road right.

What has happened? Many owners have failed to co-operate although the percentage is larger in suburban places than in Boston. The Registrar says that if they don't do so "there are likely to be thousands of revocations of registrations during the coming summer months."

Last year, I recall, there was a great rush to have cars inspected and about every one on the road had a yellow sign pasted on the rear window testifying to the fact that it had been inspected. The work was done largely by private concerns who did so with commendable zeal.

Now we are told that it must be done again but the idea isn't meeting the response it should. Maybe owners who have failed to accept the Registrar's offer think that any old time will do. Let Newton show that it appreciates the Registrar's thought-that the poor child be driven to learn? Many children need discipline when they exhibit unwillingness to study. Still, they may not have "the spark" and is it fair to insist that they plug along in spite of it?

"National Music Week" should do more than call attention to the best of the world's musical composers and greatest artists, it should tell us how to develop our youthful musicians in large numbers. A world with plenty of good music is a more wonderful place in which to live.

TO PLAY LEAD

That Miss Lois Kendall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Faulkner Kendall, 83 Institution avenue, Newton Centre, will have one of the leading feminine roles in the one hundred twenty-fifth anniversary play in June, has just been announced by Miss Mildred Little, head of the Dramatic Arts Department at Bradford Academy, Bradford, Massachusetts. She will act the part of Miss Abigail Hassett, who was for many years Principal of the Academy and an outstanding figure in the early education of women.

Miss Kendall is a Senior in the Junior College, and is President of the Glee Club. She has always been prominent in musical and dramatic activities at Bradford, and was in 1925-26 the President of the Sub-Senior Class. When the Senior play "The Admirable Crichton" was presented, Miss Kendall was very successful in the part of "Mrs. Treherne." She formerly attended the Newton High School.

BOY DROWNED AT UPPER FALLS

Haig Sarofian, the 7 year old son of Sarkis Sarofian of 52 Mechanic street, Newton Upper Falls, while playing on a rock in the Charles River at the rear of the Upper Falls playground Saturday afternoon slipped into the swollen stream and drowned as his little playmates ran for assistance. Serg. McLeod and Patrolman Sheehan of the Metropolitan Police soon arrived and started to drag for the body from a rowboat. There is a swift current in the river at present and the body may have been carried down towards the dam. After dragging unsuccessfully for a few hours the Metropolitan police relinquished the work to the Newton police who dragged the stream without success until dark Saturday and all day Sunday.

EMBASSY THEATRE

Another of the all-feature programs which are making the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder Theatre, the most talked-about playhouse in this section of the country, will be presented next week when "The Crowd" is the feature film and Francis Renault the featured vaudeville star. These features are for Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday only. "The Crowd" with James Murray and Eleanor Boardman is a story of modern days. Francis Renault will present "The Slave of Fashion." He is a female impersonator with an international reputation. There will be four other all-star acts.

Beginning Thursday and running Friday and Saturday there will be "The Shield of Honor" with Neil Hamilton, Ralph Lewis and Dorothy Culliver. It is a vivid dramatic story of the police force. The vaudeville bill the last half of the week will be headed by The Wilton Sisters and Sherry Mattison and the Andre Sisters, who formerly were featured in the Ziegfeld Follies.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the month of April there were admitted to the hospital (including X-ray and Out Patients) 447 patients. The largest number in any twenty-four hours was 159, the smallest 123. The daily average for the month was 138.53. 49 babies were born, 560 patients were treated in the out patient department and 16 in the eye clinic. 221 regular surgical cases and 42 accidents were cared for in the operating room, the X-ray department treated 180 cases, 27 calls were made by the social service department, 15 in the hospital and 12 in the homes.

During the week ending May 5th, 137 patients were in the hospital, 43 of whom paid as much as cost of care or more, 59 paid less than cost of care and 35 (including babies) were treated free. 9 babies were born (4 girls and 5 boys), 152 patients were treated in the out patient department. 8 in the eye clinic and 14 emergency cases were treated in the operating room. 12 calls were made by the social service car.

The Alumnae held its monthly meeting at the Hospital Wednesday, May 2. At the business meeting it was reported that the President, Doris Porter Reed, R.N., is to be a delegate to the Biennial meeting of the National Nursing Organization at Louisville, Kentucky, June 3, 1928. Following the business meeting Mr. Julius Lucht, Librarian at the Newton Public Library, presented in a most interesting talk, "Books for Vacation."

Monday, May 7, the Know More Kokki met at the hospital.

On Tuesday, May 8th, Miss Hosteller, Superintendent of Nurses, with Miss Alice Elliott and Miss Mary Brackett, seniors in the school of nursing, talked to the students of the Billerica High School on the subject of nursing as a profession.

Fourteen emergencies were admitted to the operating room during the past week. Eight of these were the results of automobile accidents: three men, one with lacerated finger, one with contusions of the right leg and arm; one with laceration of forehead and arm; two women, one with a fractured nose and one with lacerations over her right eye and a sprained ankle; and three boys, one with lacerations of the scalp and lower lip, one with fractured elbow and one with lacerations of the face. The other six were: two women, one who fell on the sidewalk, bruising her knee and one who slipped on the street fracturing her arm; two men, one with abrasions over the right eye caused by a falling lamp post, and one with a wound in the back caused by a pick ax. The thirteenth was a man suffering with convulsions and the fourteenth a little girl with lacerations of the forehead caused by being hit by a stone.

COMMONWEALTH COUNTRY CLUB

Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, Mrs. Roy F. Chamberlain, Mrs. Clarence C. Colby, Mrs. Leo F. Emerson, Mrs. Joseph A. Galvin, Mrs. Frank W. Lyman, Mrs. Charles E. Murnan, Mrs. Denman T. McFarland, Mrs. Charles F. Onthank, Mrs. Maurice E. Peters and Mrs. John H. Sullivan, Jr., were the matrons at a Children's May Dance given at the Commonwealth Country Club last Saturday afternoon, May 5th, for the children of the members of the club fourteen years old and under.

Children from Miss Grace Monahan's School of Dancing gave exhibition dances in costume. General dancing was then enjoyed by all the children present after which refreshments were served the children and their parents. A lovely May Basket was given each little girl and a hand carved toy to each little boy present.

The tables grouped around the central one with its May Pole were decorated in an extremely attractive manner.

The entire May Dance was under the direction of Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, whose two daughters, Dorothy and Betty, were among the specialty dancers.

ADDED WATER SUPPLY

For some months the Water Department has been boring test wells on the reservation at Needham for the purpose of finding a suitable location for another large well to add to the supply of Newton's water. Disappointing results have been met but finally in a location about one-third of the way between the old and new supply wells on the reservation a spot has been found where indications point to another appreciable supply of water. It is probable that in the near future the special committee of the aldermen dealing with the water supply of this city will ask for an appropriation to construct another large well.

NEWTON CENTRE GARDEN CLUB

The Newton Centre Garden Club is making a contribution towards the beautifying of the Newton Centre Playground by placing quite a large group of lilacs near the Centre street entrance, bordering Tyler terrace.

There are to be 31 different specimens of lilacs, including both the early and late blooming varieties.

Plans for the group were made by Miss Elizabeth Woolley of Newton Highlands with the co-operation of Mr. Hermann, superintendent of Playgrounds.

The Club is also placing iris along the brook and will be very glad to receive plants for this purpose if donors will notify Mrs. L. R. Speare, C. N. 1255.

DEATH OF MR. JORDAN

Prentiss A. Jordan, founder of the Boys' Club of Pittsfield, one of the earliest and most successful institutions of its kind in the country, died Thursday at his home, 136 Gibbs street, Newton Center.

Mr. Jordan was born in Salem in 1864, the son of Jonas and Josephine Haines Jordan. Prior to 1900, when he went to Pittsfield to live, he was associated in business with an uncle in Salem. Since the time he founded the Boys' Club in Pittsfield in 1900 he had kept up a close interest in this work, and because of his conspicuous success in this field he became an authority on boys' club methods.

He was superintendent of the club from 1900 to 1920, when he was made superintendent emeritus. While holding this position he served the club in an advisory capacity. During his regime he built the club up to a membership of 1600 boys. During the twenty-five years he was in Pittsfield he was steward in the First Methodist Church of that city. Three years ago he came to Newton. He was a member of a Masonic lodge in Pittsfield.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Lillie E. Jordan of Newton, and a daughter, Miss Mildred Jordan, who is a teacher in the Pittsfield High School.

Rev. William E. Huntington, D.D., president emeritus of Boston University, conducted services on Saturday in the Jordan home, 136 Gibbs street, Newton Center. The Masonic service also was used. Representatives of the Boys' Club of Boston and Pittsfield and members of the Masonic fraternity attended the funeral.

MRS. ELLIS J. KELTZ

Word was received in Newton last Saturday of the death at Bradford, Pa., of Mrs. Ellis J. Keltz who for many years resided in this city. She was formerly Mrs. Frank W. Hill of Morse street and before her marriage was Miss Ruby C. Green.

Mrs. Keltz, for the past two years, had made her home in Rawlins, Wyoming, but went to Pennsylvania in search of health, only to succumb to an illness of several months' duration. She was in her forty-seventh year. Funeral services were conducted at Bradford on Tuesday morning by Rev. J. F. Lynd, Episcopal rector of that city, and burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery in Bradford.

Mrs. Keltz is survived by her husband, a son by her first marriage, Raymond Hill, her mother, Mrs. D. R. Riddick of Rawlins, a sister, Mrs. Arthur Champlin of Wyoming, another sister, Mrs. Joseph F. Heinlein of Waltham, and a brother, Fred C. Green of Watertown.

DEATH OF MRS. HINE

Mrs. Ellen M. Hine, widow of the late Augustus Hine, died on Thursday, May 10th, at her home on Central avenue, Newtonville. Mrs. Hine was in her 77th year and had resided in Newton for more than thirty years. Funeral services will be held on Saturday at 3:30 from her late home. Rev. Laurence Emig, pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Church, will officiate. Interment will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Everett.

Mrs. Hine is survived by one daughter, Miss Rosamond Hine.

GIRL SCOUTS

A new Girl Scout Troop which will probably be numbered twenty nine, is being formed at the Sacred Heart Academy on Centre street, Newton. Over 40 enthusiastic girls attended the first meeting of this troop on Thursday, May 3rd, and they have high hopes of passing their tenderfoot tests and becoming registered Girl Scouts before the close of the school year in June. The Captain of the new troop will be Miss Meline Donnelly of Boston, a graduate of the Sacred Heart Academy. The lieutenants are Miss Madden of Boston, also a recent graduate of the Sacred Heart and Miss Marion Bridley, a Girl Scout in Troop 17, Newton Upper Falls.

Children from Miss Grace Monahan's School of Dancing gave exhibition dances in costume. General dancing was then enjoyed by all the children present after which refreshments were served the children and their parents.

A lovely May Basket was given each little girl and a hand carved toy to each little boy present.

The tables grouped around the central one with its May Pole were decorated in an extremely attractive manner.

The entire May Dance was under the direction of Mrs. D. Earl Brackett, whose two daughters, Dorothy and Betty, were among the specialty dancers.

TROOP 25, WEST NEWTON

On Wednesday, April 25, Troop 25 went swimming at St. Agnes School in Newton. A trapeze that hung over the pool provided much enjoyment for the girls. On Tuesday, May 1st, Captain Redfield started 3 girls on their work for the highest merit badge test. On the 5th the troop is going to Camp Mary Day for an over night hike. On a recent Monday the troop had their meeting at Cedar Hill and cooked their supper. Some of the tenderfeet passed the open fire test, and then all played Hare and Hounds before going home at about six thirty.

ANNUAL MEETING

All arrangements have been completed for the annual meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, at the Newton Club, Newtonville, next Monday evening, May 14, with advance indications promising a well attended and successful meeting. The usual dinner will precede the meeting at 6:30 o'clock for which reservations should be made not later than noon on Saturday of this week. In addition to the annual election of officers, annual reports, and other business, an interesting program of speaking and discussion has been arranged on subjects of timely local interest.

The first topic to be considered will be the so-called "Apartment House Problem," with Alderman William B. Baker, chairman of the Aldermanic Committee on Claims and Rules; Ex-Alderman John C. Madden, recent chairman of that committee; and Henry Whitmore of West Newton, a prominent Boston realtor and recently president of the Boston Real Estate Exchange.

The second topic announced is that of Newton's streets, with special reference to the question of unaccepted streets. There are more than eighty miles of unaccepted streets in the city, providing unsatisfactory approaches in most instances to several hundred Newton homes. The question of what to do with these is rapidly developing a problem which is expected to be difficult of solution. The speakers will be Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, and Alderman William E. Earle, chairman of the Aldermanic Committee on public works.

PAINT DEMONSTRATION AND SALE

How much could your home be improved this spring by the use of a little paint? Have you found a room which would become more livable with the application of paint to its woodwork, walls, or furniture? One can do his own painting with but little effort now in these days of improved and easily applied and dried paints. But whether you have found anything that needed painting or not, you are invited to the 25 per cent reduction sale and demonstration to be given at Moore and Moore Hardware Store, Friday and Saturday, May 11 and 12. This is one of the greatest opportunities ever offered to the public in this line and many may take advantage of it. Whether it is the outside of your house or the inside, the woodwork, the floors, or the furniture, here you will find the paint product needed and you have but to see the free demonstration to show you how you may obtain the greatest results.

This is a great opportunity and few may afford to miss it when one of the leading manufacturers of paints and varnishes, the Bay State Products, offer to you through your local dealer, Moore and Moore Hardware Company, this great 25 per cent reduction sale on an article that is in such a demand in the spring of the year and that can make such vast improvements in your home.

Mrs. Hine is survived by one daughter, Miss Rosamond Hine.

An Anniversary Extension Campaign to obtain $100,000 is to be launched on May 18th, according to announcements made at the Newton Y. M. C. A. yesterday. After fifty years of aggressive constructive work for the boys and young men of Newton, the Association appeals for funds to provide for needed improvements and enlarged facilities to meet the ever-increasing demands for its service.

Mr. W. H. Rice, a member of the Board of Directors, has been selected as General Chairman of the Campaign. He is now busy getting his organization, which will be arranged in divisions and teams covering the entire area which the Newton Y. M. C. A. is so well serving.

The campaign will be inaugurated with a Workers' Conference Dinner in the Association Building, Friday night, May 18th. This will be the first meeting of the completed campaign organization. The first report meeting will be held on Monday evening, May 21st, and daily reports will be made until the campaign closes on Monday, May 25th, at which time it is expected the full goal of the campaign will have been secured. Careful consideration has been given by the Board of Directors to the immediate needs of the Association, and a survey has been made of the Association's requirements for added facilities with which to render enlarged service and meet the urgent requirements of its growing membership. The funds to be secured in this campaign are to be used for the following purposes:

Repairs on building and equipment. More locker and shower rooms for expanding physical work which will necessitate taking handball courts from present location and putting in separate outside building. Erection of new fence around athletic field and improvement of facilities for outdoor recreation. Enlarging site of Camp Frank A. Day at East Brookfield and adding to equipment. To balance current expenses for year ending October 31, 1929. Endowment to create a reserve fund for future repairs and replacements and expansion of program.

The Annual Meeting of the Association was held Monday night when L. C. Kepner, C. V. Moore, David Black, W. H. Rice, C. B. Floyd, and F. S. Bacon were re-elected Directors to serve for three years, and C. E. Riley and H. B. Day were re-elected Trustees for four years. Walter C. Wrye was re-elected Treasurer and Edwin O. Childs Clerk.

Following the Annual Meeting the Directors met and re-elected Frederic D. Fuller President, and J. W. Blasdell, Vice President for the ensuing year.

Further consideration was given to plans for the Anniversary Extension Campaign which opens next week. The public is familiar with the work the Association has been doing for the past half century and how its program has enriched the lives of boys and men in an ever-increasing number. The Association privileges have been open to all, regardless of creed or nationality. Its community-wide program has especially made its impression and has met a need which no other organization is equipped to meet.

As it stands on its second fifty year period, it asks for the first time in many years for funds with which to enlarge its equipment and enable it to meet the opportunity for greater service in the days ahead.

The New Ocean House, Swampscott, may be reached from Boston by trolley, or train from the North Station to Lynn or Swampscott. If to Lynn, by trolley from there to Swampscott, which is most convenient. There is much saving on 12 trip tickets from Boston to Lynn.

Arrangements have been made by the management by which meals may be had by Club women who are not registered for the three days. Combination tickets will be issued as follows: breakfast, luncheon and dinner, $5; luncheon and dinner, $4; either luncheon or dinner, $3. This service is in the main dining room, the same as offered the resident guests. Club women not staying at the hotel are requested to purchase such combination tickets in the morning. A modified luncheon or dinner will be served on Tuesday and Wednesday in the Tea Room and Grill Room of Puritan Hall at $1.00 for luncheon, and $1.50 for dinner.

RADIO. Mrs. Alice B. Harrington, director of the Division of Ornithology in the Department of Agriculture will broadcast at WNAC next Wednesday, May 13th, at 10:30 o'clock the delights of a "Canoe-trip Birding." At 10:40 listeners may tune in for the Fortnightly trio with Isabelle H. Winship, soprano; Gertrude Barnes, second soprano; Alice M. Abbott, alto; and Nancy D. Alexander, accompanist. Mrs. Emma Fall Schofield, assistant Attorney General is to broadcast at 10:50 "The Need of Uniform Marriage and Divorce Law."

RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club

At the Annual Meeting of the Shakespeare Club held on Saturday afternoon, April 28th, at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Keeler, the following officers were elected to serve for the coming year: president, Mrs. Mary C. Blakemore; vice-president, Mrs. Charles H. Keeler; secretary, Mrs. William E. Moore; treasurer, Miss Edith M. McCann; executive board, Mrs. Bernard Early, chairman; Mrs. H. W. Drew, and Mrs. William E. Moore.

Several noteworthy facts and achievements were brought out in the annual report of the secretary, Mrs. Moore. The membership of this Club is limited to twenty-five, and of these seven, which is an unusual percentage, have enjoyed extended trips during the past winter, including journeys to such pleasurable spots as Washington, Atlantic City, Florida and even to the Mediterranean. Another outstanding fact is that spite of these journeys afiorded by such a large percentage of the membership, the attendance at all Club meetings has been excellent.

The philanthropies of the year might well be the pride of a much larger Club, and the list is worthy of notice. Ten dollars each have been contributed to the Welfare Bureau, as prizes to the Newton High School for excellence in the study of Shakespeare, and to the Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford on Avon; the two latter being interests that are especially appropriate for a Club studying this great English dramatist; five dollars each have been contributed to the District Nursing Association, Mothers' Rest, Franconia Notch Fund, Newton Y. W. C. A. and to the John A. Andrew Home. Besides these, the Club has presented twenty-four volumes of the Arden edition of Shakespeare to the Newton Highlands branch Library, these to be located at this branch, but circulated throughout the city if desired.

The plays studied through the year that have brought much of value and enjoyment were Macbeth, Twelfth Night, and King John, and a special day on which Mrs. A. L. Pratt, a former president, gave the program on "Leading Motives and Character Traits Shown in These Plays" was a memorable one in the splendid presentation.

Newton Federation

The Newton Federation of Women's Clubs held its Annual Meeting on Tuesday, May 1st, at Newton High School.

The morning session was called at 10:45, with Mrs. J. Porter Russell, the president in the chair, and was held in the Workshop of the Women's Club of Newton Highlands, by invitation of that Club.

Mrs. Solomon Townsend, Jr., recording secretary, read her annual report, summing up the results of the monthly board meetings and the open meetings.

She paid a very gracious tribute to Mrs. Russell to whom a large degree of the success of the year is due. The corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. L. Voshough, reported her year's work and made an earnest plea to all Club presidents to forward to her at an early date the material necessary to an

BOY FRACTURES SKULL

John Mosher, 17, of Elm Avenue, Waltham, fell from the rear of a truck on which he had been riding at the corner of Washington and Chestnut streets, West Newton, last Thursday afternoon. He was taken to the Newton Hospital in the police ambulance where his name was placed on the danger list, it being believed that he had a fracture of the skull. The boy was riding on a truck owned by David Buchanan of 1191 Washington street, West Newton, and driven by William Delehanty of Alden place.

NEWTON CHORAL SOCIETY

The annual meeting of the Newton Choral Society will be held at Central Church, Newtonville, Thursday evening, May 17. All members are requested to be present, as the executive committee has formulated a program involving some important changes of policy, which the society will be asked to carefully consider at this meeting. All who are interested in this movement to develop fine choral music in this city are invited to be present.

WRECK OF 40 AND 8

Tomorrow an initiation will be held at the State Armory by the "Forty and Eight," the social adjunct of the American Legion. Prior to the initiation there will be an automobile parade through the city. Candidates from all parts of Middlesex County will "ride the bumps." Among the guests will be Mayor Childs and members of the G. A. R. A banquet will follow the initiation.

CITY HALL

The following bids were received Wednesday by Street Commissioner George E. Stuart, for furnishing the City of Newton, Street Department, with Crushed Gravel, Bank Gravel, Sand, etc., for the year 1928: Mass. Sand & Gravel Co., Newton Upper Falls, $22,085; Riverside Sand and Gravel Co., Newton Lower Falls, $23,755. The contract will be awarded later.

LEGION AUXILIARY

The Gold Star Mothers of Middlesex County will be entertained at a tea on Sunday afternoon, May 13, at Elks Hall, Newton, by the Newton Auxiliary.

The regular monthly meeting of the auxiliary will be held at Elks Hall on Wednesday evening May 16 at 8 o'clock.

REAL ESTATE

John T. Burns & Sons, Inc., report that they have sold in the Brae Burn section of Auburndale, a colonial ten room house with three baths, located at 115 Windermere road. With the house there are 12,000 sq ft of land and garage, and the total value of the property is $22,000. J. C. Head sold to William C. Carter, who purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

Burns and Sons have sold for Regan and Daley in the Waban district a new brick colonial house located at 72 Moffat road. With the house there is a two car garage and 9,000 sq ft of land, and the property is valued at $15,500. R. L. Spittle purchases for a home and will occupy the premises.

They have also sold in the Newton Highlands district a modern semi-bungalow home of six rooms and bath, located at 5 Josslyn terrace. There are 4,500 sq ft of land, and the value of the property is $7,500. Richard Maher conveys to Gertrude M. Brownell, who will occupy the premises.

POLICE NEWS

Peter Sostilio, 20, of Spring street, West Roxbury, was found guilty in the Newton court Friday morning of the larceny of three tires and tubes from the Beacon Motor Equipment Co. of Newton Centre. He was sentenced to two months in the House of Correction and the sentence was suspended on condition that Sostilio pay $5 each week until $50 will have been paid. According to testimony the youth obtained the tires by telling the sellers that his father would pay for them. Upon the refusal of the elder Sostilio to assume the debt a warrant was issued for the younger man's arrest.

In court Friday Clifford Hall of Worcester and John Plain of Oxford street, Cambridge each was fined $10 for speeding.

ROTARY CLUB

Judge Thomas Weston, Associate Justice of the Newton district court was the guest and speaker at the usual Monday luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club, held at the Woodland Golf Club. Judge Weston was introduced by his cousin Mayor Childs and gave an illuminating talk on his work on the bench. He called particular attention to the good work of the new law which gave the parties at interest the option of a trial either in the district or the superior court, thereby waiving a jury trial if the district court is designated. He suggested that this law ought to extend to cover criminal cases. Drunkenness cases in the Newton court he said had been decreased 20% in recent years and the cases in the entire state also showed a material reduction in numbers. His stories regarding the evidence presented in such cases as driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor and selling intoxicating liquors and in similar cases were most interesting. Judge Weston had also sat in the Roxbury district court and said this court in number of cases was second only to the Boston Municipal court. It has about 18,000 cases a year all of which are in the criminal class. In closing he urged jury service as one of the patriotic duties of the American citizen.

President Cecil W. Clark and Mr. Frank J. Perry will represent the club at the International Convention to be held next month at Minneapolis.

NEWTON LODGE OF ELKS

At the meeting of the Elks last night, William E. Earle, P. E. R., explained about the work of the Elks' Scholarship Foundation which is being organized in this state. Mr. Earle is one of the incorporators.

The Massachusetts State convention of the Elks will be held at Northampton on June 3, 4 and 5. The national convention will take place at Miami, Florida, from July 9 to 14. The New England delegates will leave Boston on a special train on July 2nd.

Dealer

The Buick dealer is in business to stay. His future reputation depends upon his treating used car buyers fairly.

The man who buys a good used car—honestly represented—at a fair price—receives splendid value in transportation.

In his enthusiasm for the car he has bought, and the value he has received, it is only natural for him to look upon the dealer as his friend.

The Buick dealer has many such friends because he represents the true condition of the used cars he offers for sale—because he gives every used car customer a square deal.

Edward D. Baldwin Former Owner and Editor of The Graphic Passes Away

Edward D. Baldwin, a resident of this city for more than forty years and former owner of the Graphic, died Wednesday morning at his residence, 79 Grasmere street. He was born in Spencerport, N. Y., the son of David Edward Baldwin, and was a direct descendant of Major Van Scharke of Revolutionary fame.

Mr. Baldwin was a graduate of Phillips Exeter Academy and a Phi Beta Kappa man at Harvard College, from which he was graduated in 1875.

He gave up the editorship of the Meriden (Conn.) Daily Republican when in 1886 he became owner of The Newton Graphic. For fifteen years Mr. Baldwin devoted his time to increasing the influence and prestige of the Graphic. He was a fluent writer with a delightful style and his editorials always attracted notice.

After retiring from newspaper work he found much diversion in the cultivation of a large garden. He was particularly successful and the flowers grown under his care became the admiration of a large number. He was a lover of good literature and an authority in this and other branches of learning.

Mr. Baldwin was a member of Grace Episcopal Church. He is survived by his widow.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure officiating. Interment will be at Danvers.

Y. M. C. A. Begins Big 50th Anniversary Financial Campaign

$100,000 Needed For Extension

The Fiftieth Anniversary $100,000 Campaign of the local Y. M. C. A. opens tonight with the first meeting of the completed campaign organization. This meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. Building at 6 o'clock. Community minded people of the city are quick to realize the urgent need of bringing the Association's equipment up to date in keeping with its aggressive up to date program. Fifty years of splendid service rendered to all the Newtons and its ever widening community program entitles the Association to carry on with proper equipment and adequate financial support.

The Campaign organization is rapidly taking form under the splendid leadership of General Chairman W. H. Rice. He has been ably assisted by David Black and H. P. Fuller of Newton, J. A. Stafford and H. P. Patey of Newtonville, J. N. Eaton of West Newton, C. B. Floyd of Auburndale, E. A. Cutler and H. H. Bemis of Newton Centre and Chestnut Hill, and J. Earle Parker of Waban. These men acting as Majors of the six divisions which compose the completed organization. The following are serving as Captains: F. L. Tracy, F. J. Perry, F. S. Bacon, Arthur W. Hollis, R. C. Henry, H. C. Fraser, R. Gaskell, H. L. Spooner, S. Lyon, W. H. Sears, Ralph F. Parker, Horace W. Cole, James W. Gibson, Hermon Holt, Jr., Kenneth F. George, S. Holden, L. Alford and Wm. M. Breed.

The Workers' meeting Friday night will take on the form of a Conference in which the Workers will be instructed concerning the Campaign plans, provided with their working kits, and will have the opportunity to select in a unique way the names of the prospects they will call on. This will be done after the delivery of the key note address marking the official opening of the Campaign. 5,000 names have been listed, these all appearing on visible card indexes ready for a selection by the Campaign Workers.

The first report meeting will be held on Monday evening and the Campaign will be continued with meetings each evening up to and including Monday evening, May 28. The fund asked for is to provide for repairs on the Association building and equipment; more locker and shower rooms for expanding physical work, which will necessitate taking the handball courts from present location and putting them in a separate outside building.

Legion Auxiliary Honors Gold Star Mothers of County

Many From Middlesex County Attend

The most impressive occasion in the life of the American Legion Auxiliary of Newton Post No. 48, was the Reception and Tea given in honor of the Gold Star mothers of Middlesex County Unit Auxiliaries on Mother's Day, which was attended by several hundred guests. Elks' Hall at 429 Centre street, Newton, was beautifully decorated with stands of the National Flag. A huge gold star hung in center of the hall. Masses of gorgeous poppies, made by disabled veterans were used and lovely palms, ferns and plants. As each gold star mother arrived she was met by the sergeant-at-arms and an usher and requested to register in the "Memory Book," then being presented with a white carnation as a token of Mother's Day after which she was escorted to the receiving line to meet Mrs. George W. Knowlton, Jr., Department President, Mrs. Janet Hallowell Putnam chairman for the Reception and her committee of the Gold Star Mothers of the Newton Auxiliary, of whom there were 14 present. Mrs. Cora Belle G. Francis, president of the Newton Auxiliary, Mrs. Elizabeth McNamara, chairman of Middlesex County, Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien, Past Department president and now national chairman for the Eastern District of Child Welfare, Mrs. Mary Hines, department chaplain, Mrs. John W. Norton, past department chaplain, with several other department and county officers.

Mrs. Putnam greeted the guests in a most cordial address of welcome, then presented Mrs. Francis as having planned for the informal program, of music and those friends who were to drop in and have a few words to say. There was a delightful musical program arranged by Mrs. DeGrady, county chairman of Music, with community singing; in the first group of songs "America," "America the Beautiful" and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

A violin solo, by Mrs. Shepardson, president of the Reading auxiliary, Mr. William Stevens of Stoneham, sang, "Christ in Flanders" and "Mother Machree." The County Glee Club, "Perfect Day," with Mrs. Ida Needham of Malden, as soloist, Mrs. Margaret Rutherford and Mrs. R. John Henderson in a lovely duet, Miss Edna McNamara sang "Mother of Mine" delightfully, and then another group of Community songs.

Chamber Discusses Apartment Houses And New Streets

Annual Meeting Of Organization Held

Seventy-five members and guests of the Newton Chamber of Commerce attended the annual dinner and meeting of that organization at the Newton Club on Monday night. Two matters of much import to this city were reviewed by men who were quite conversant with their subjects and a general discussion followed. The question of apartments coming into Newton was dwelt upon by William B. Baker, alderman from Ward 3 and chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee of the Board of Aldermen which has been and is considering this matter. John C. Madden, former alderman and chairman of the Claims and Rules Committee, who has given much thought to this problem, and Henry Whitmore of West Newton, a leader in the realty business of Boston and one of this city's most prominent citizens.

President G. Wilbur Thompson of the Chamber of Commerce presided and after asserting that the Chamber had been misrepresented by a local paper which printed an article stating that "the Chamber of Commerce favors apartment buildings in this city," introduced Alderman Baker as the first speaker. Mr. Baker referred to the fact that the remarks he would make would be, in substance, the same as he made at a meeting of the Newton Business Associates, and printed recently in the GRAPHIC.

He called attention to the great growth of this city during the past six years as evidence that people flocking to Newton have done so because of the strict zoning and building code requirements of this city and because they believed that here they will find a refuge from the apartment house environment which has spoiled Brookline and other suburbs as high class residential communities. He emphasized the fact that Newton is finding great difficulty in keeping pace with the large increases in public needs occasioned by the very rapid growth and that the expenses of the city have been increasing disproportionately with the revenues produced by the large number of new dwellings. He asserted that to encourage numerous apartments in Newton will make bad matters worse. He quoted statistics to prove that it would be foolish to argue that apartments are needed in Newton to attract more residents here when more have been coming to the city can provide facilities for conveniently. He added

School Board Asks $25,000 For Field In Secret Session

Still Insists That $2000 Shall Be Maximum For Salaries

The Newton School Committee held a meeting Monday night. The meeting was "an executive session," the committee deciding to discuss the matters before it behind closed doors. Among the things acted upon were the grading of the athletic field at the High School and the increases in teachers' salaries to bring the maximum of those in the grade schools up to $2000. After the "executive session" information was given that the School Committee has decided to exercise its prerogative and will urge that the teachers receiving the $2000 maximum despite the adverse vote on this matter recently passed by the Board of Aldermen. The committee voted to recommend to the Mayor that $25,000 be appropriated to continue the work of grading at the end of Claffin Field towards Hull street and Lowell avenue.

Years ago the meetings of the School Committee were attended by several reporters, just as the meetings of the aldermen were and are. Then, for some years reporters ceased to visit the meetings of the School Committee. So, when a year or so ago, a reporter started to attend the meetings of the Committee, some of the members of that body appeared concerned by the seeming intrusion. There are some matters coming before the School Committee which should properly be discussed in private, just as some matters which are considered by the Aldermen are discussed largely behind the doors of committee rooms. For the most part, however, the business coming before the School Committee concerns the public of Newton. The people of Newton pay the cost of running the schools. Their children attend the schools. They are entitled to know the whys and the wherefores connected with the activities of the School Committee just as they are entitled to know what the Board of Aldermen does, and why. Possibly, if some more representatives of the press appear at the meetings of the School Committee, members of that body will become accustomed to their presence and will be less reluctant to hold their discussions before "outsiders."

George Kellar, secretary of the School Committee was operated on at the Newton Hospital this week for the removal of his tonsils.

NEWTON SECOND IN
B. C. TRACK MEET

The Newton high track team took second place in the ninth annual Boston College interscholastic track meet at University Heights last Saturday with 12 points.
The meet was won by Brookline high with 17 points, which although considered a strong team was not figured as a title contender.
Captain Eugene Record of Brookline was largely responsible for his team's victory by winning the 120-yard high hurdles in 16 1/5 secs., a new record for the meet, and later stepping a fast quarter mile in the relay to send his anchor man away relief on a 50-yard lead. Dorchester, Lowell, and Lawrence, with 11, 10 and 8 points, each finished in that order behind Brookline and Newton.

Carl Pescosolido won the first heat of the 100-yard dash but was shut out in the semi-finals by Thibodeau of Bridgton Academy, and Butler of Dean Academy. Dick Reynolds took second place in the first heat against time in the 440-yard run but the first three men in the second heat, Werner of Brookline, MacInnes of Somerville and Smith of Brookline all bettered the best time of the first heat to divide the points.

In the half Captain James McCruden had to be content with third with Walter Langley of Lowell finishing first 15 yards ahead of the Newton runner and George Kelley of Dorchester nipping him at the tape for second.
Langley's time of 2 m. 1 s. broke his last year's record time.

Arthur Chamberlain of Newton won the mile after taking the lead from Ricker of Concord and Neilan of Lawrence on the third lap. At the finish
Chamberlain was ten yards out in front.

Edward Ebelhare could clear but 5 feet 9 in. to take second place in the high jump which William Androsen of Arlington won at 5 feet 10 in., a new meet record.

In the running broad jump Jimmie Brown, Newton jumper, lost first place to George Newton of Dorchester by the narrowest of margins, probably the marker's judgment decided the issue.
Newton's leap of 19 feet 8 1/2 in. was the best jump of the day, while Brown was credited with 19 feet
8 1/4 inches as his best effort.

In the relay race between Newton,
Lawrence and Boston Latin the orange and black quartet, Romaine Cole, Francis Benton, Malcolm Reed and Dick Reynolds, outdistanced their opponents by about ten yards in 3
min. 43 2/5 secs. Three other teams, Brookline, Dorchester and East Boston, were clocked in faster time to give them the three point places while Newton's time was also equalled by Jamaica Plain and Lowell.

This afternoon on the same track
Newton hopes to get revenge on Brookline in the third annual dual meet of the two teams. The meet should be won with the orange and black pinning its hopes on Pescosolido and Cole in the sprints, Reynolds in the quarter, Capt. McCruden in the half, Chamberlain in the mile. Ebelhare in the high jump, Pescosolido in the

LAWN FETE

The Mothers' Rest Association, one of the leaders in charitable work in this city, are planning a Lawn Fete, to be held on the grounds of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stimson at Chestnut Hill, on Tuesday, June 5.

The principal features of the program include tables for the sale of various articles, a supper, a fine concert in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis K. Liggett across the street from the Stimpson estate, and a cabaret dance.

The affair is under the direction of a large committee of ladies, of which Mrs. John F. Capron is chairman, Mrs. George F. Richardson, treasurer, Mrs. Charles H. Cobb, secretary, and Mrs. Howard O. Winslow, publicity.

Further particulars will be given next week.

NEWTON HOSPITAL

During the week ending May 12, 1928, there were 145 patients in the hospital 33 of whom paid as much or more than cost of care, 69 paid less than cost of care and 38, including babies, were treated free. 16 babies were born, 149 patients were treated in the out-patient department and 11 in the eye clinic. 10 accident cases were treated in the operating room. 12 calls were made by the social service department and 7 patients were transferred by the social service car.

The accidents cared for during the week were two children, one with a thumb cut with glass and one with a bruised head; two women, one who fell downstairs and dislocated her elbow, and one with abrasions on neck and arm; six men, one with a foreign body in his eye, one with lacerations over his eye, one with lacerations of wrist and chin, one with lacerations of cheek and hip, one with a fractured pelvis the result of a fall from a stone wall, and one with contusions on back and hip.

On Monday evening, May 14, the Newton Medical Club met at the Newton Hospital. Dr. Sanford B. Hooker of the Department of Immunology of the Evans Memorial presented the subject "Our Developing Knowledge of Scarlet Fever."

On Wednesday evening, May 16th, the executive committee held its regular meeting at the Newton Hospital.

By Edw. H. Powers

Radio is to play an important part in education. Evidence of this is shown by the installation last week at the Frank A. Day Junior High School at Newtonville of an excellent radio set by Harold Batchelder of the Garden City Radio Company. Mr. Batchelder, who is an expert in this new science, assembled a set which has few equals in this city. Using ZENITH parts, Kellogg tubes, a large, especially built cabinet and four loud speakers which are located in the four corners of the assembly hall at the school, the new equipment affords reception of exceptional power and clarity. Among the lectures which will come to the pupils over the air will be lessons in French, talks on music by Walter Damrosch and other famous musicians assisted by symphony orchestras, instructions in cooking, and lectures on other topics of educational advantage to the boys and girls attending the school.

We read from time to time of the wonderful homing instinct of birds. Because of the rapid growth of this country birds have had their instinct sadly interfered with. Forests, groves and meadows, where for centuries successive generations of birds bred and lived during the warmer months, have, in New England, disappeared before the encroachment of man made dwellings. Not so many years ago where we reside was a large estate. Now it is thickly covered with houses. A few trees of the many which formerly stood there still remain. In one of these trees a pair of robins have built a nest. In all probability at least one of them is the descendant of robins which nested there in by-gone years. The homing instinct has brought them back to the spot which formerly was a secluded place but which is now surrounded by dwellings. At dawn and at dusk the cheerful song of Mr. Robin wafts forth and is enjoyed by those who listen to it.

Not so many years ago this same neighborhood was frequented by numbers of crows. They were comparatively safe there. It is claimed that crows live to be 125 or more years old, provided they don't get filled with shot from some irate farmer's gun, or provided they don't die from some other cause. The other morning a crow, perhaps one of the flock, landed on one of the trees nearby our domicile just as day broke and awakened us with his song. Some persons would not call the cawing of a crow "singing" but after listening to certain jazz compositions and to the modern melody-drama, as regards his vocal efforts. As we listened to the warbling of this crow we thought of the nights we had listened to the nightingales in the forests near Rolandseck am Rhein. Not because the vocalizing of the former resembled that of the latter, but because it was so different. If you want to listen to almost the sweetest, if not the very sweetest melody in the world, travel to one of the Old World countries where you can hear, after darkness falls, during the spring and summer months, the wonderfully beautiful song of the nightingale.

Have you been contemplating taking a trip to Europe this summer? If you have, and your itinerary has not been arranged, why not include Germany in your travels? In past years more American tourists who went abroad travelled in England, France, Italy and Switzerland than in Germany. An increasing number has been going to the Teutonic country the past few years. There are several reasons responsible for this. Germany has been according to tourists more liberal treatment than other European countries. The many thousands of Americans who served in the Army of Occupation in Germany after the armistice, are, with few exceptions, boosters for that country. The scenery along the Rhine, where the Americans were stationed, is beautiful. So, is the scenery in the Black Forest, the Bavarian Alps and other parts of Germany. The hotel and pension rates are surprisingly low. The fares on the German railroads enable one to travel long distances for small sums. The service is excellent. The North German Lloyd arranges excellent tours to the most interesting sections of Germany at very reasonable rates. The Newton representatives of the North German Lloyd, the Newton Steamship Agency at 421 Centre street, will be pleased to furnish information regarding such tours.

Residents of Newton are almost of one mind as regards this city deteriorating into an apartment house community such as has Brookline to a large extent. They are strongly opposed to such an unwelcome change. They want no action taken by the Board of Aldermen which would bring about such a change. And, they need not fear that the Aldermen will take such action. There is one phase of the apartment house problem on which there is a difference of opinion. Some of the residents of Newton are so fearful of the intrusion of apartment buildings into the city, that they oppose the slightest change in the Building Code which would tend, by reducing the present almost prohibitive cost of construction occasioned by the code, to enable apartment buildings to be erected in even the business zones of Newton.

Other residents of Newton, natives of this city, persons whose parents were old residents of Newton, and in some instances whose ancestors were among the early settlers of this community, believe that our Building Code should be modified to permit the erection of a few fireproof, well designed, attractive apartments, with ample setbacks on the outskirts of our business zones. Those who hold this opinion are not, as some of those who differ from them assert and insinuate, tools of real estate speculators. They love Newton just as much, if not more, than the newer residents who disagree with them. They are just as anxious to see Newton remain ing of the Massachusetts Humane Society. This week 197 boys registered for this free instruction.

FINANCIAL CAMPAIGN OPENS FRIDAY NIGHT

The Newton Red Cross has just conducted a campaign in life saving at the "Y" when 36 men passed their senior eligibility test, 16 senior life saving test, 3 passed examiners test, and 2 passed the renewal test as examiners. The Needham Red Cross also send a group of 26 boys to the Newton "Y" for life saving tests.

Many private lessons are given and during the year several hundred boys are taught to swim.

The gymnasium is likewise in demand by Community groups and every spare moment between classes is assigned to Church groups who come to practice basketball, or play games. On Tuesday and Thursday evenings a basketball league of eight church teams play their games during the winter months.

The Assembly Hall is used by the Girl Scouts every Monday afternoon and the Directors' room by many organizations for dinners and meetings.

After 17 years of almost constant use by members and community groups the present building needs remodeling and new equipment so that it can be of increasing service to the young people of our community.

That is the reason that so many men and women are interested in the success of this Fiftieth Anniversary Campaign.

It was expected that this campaign would be held in October, 1927, the date of the Fiftieth Anniversary of the organization of the Association, but it was postponed because the Newton Hospital had not completed its campaign at that time.

It is interesting to note the various activities which have been carried on in the "Y" building for the benefit of the other organizations in the community during the past year. The sunlit swimming pool has been used by the High School swimming team for practice and for meets; the Boy Scouts have used it to pass tests in swimming and Life Saving; Church groups have used the pool regularly under the supervision of an adult leader and boys from the Junior High School in Newton and Wellesley have enjoyed an occasional swim accompanied by their physical directors.

Each year all the boys between the ages of 10 and 16 in our public schools who cannot swim are invited to come to the "Y" pool and learn how under the expert instruction of Jack Man-

The campaign for $100,000 for the Newton Y. M. C. A. has our hearty support and should receive the endorsement of every public spirited citizen of Newton. No other organization in the city approaches it in the value of its work for the future of our city, our State and our nation. Let's go.

UNDER THE GILDED DOME

Gov. Fuller this week signed the bill "authorizing the city of Newton to pay certain sums of money on account of the death of Leonard D. Jackson." The provisions of this measure have already been described fully in the Graphic.

The old age pensions project has advanced further this session than ever before. In fact it now appears as if there would become law a bill providing for the establishment of a public bequest fund for the purposes of distributing old-age pensions. The measure has passed both branches of the Legislature, although some minor amendments have been attached and these must be concurred in by both branches. Whether Governor Fuller will sign the bill remains to be seen. Friends of the idea are confident that he will. For years and years the measure of old age pensions has come before the Massachusetts General Court. Each year it has been favorably acted upon by one branch or the other and then finally rejected. The present form of the project is not an out-and-out old age pension system, but offers private individuals opportunity to bequeath sums that shall be allowed to accumulate until they have reached proportions sufficient to be administered to needy men and women. On the final rollcall in the House, by which the bill was passed to be engrossed, Representatives Hollis, Luttwiler and Saltontall voted against the bill and Representative Thompson was not recorded.

Citizens of Massachusetts will learn more officially of what cities and towns are spending now that the Legislature has authorized, with the Governor's approval, an investigation by a special unpaid commission of municipal expenditures and undertakings in the commonwealth. The commission is to consist of a Senator, three Representatives and three persons to be chosen by the Governor. Its principal duty will be to study laws relating to the appropriations and expenditures of money by municipal authority. The subject should be of interest to Newton citizens and this city might well be represented at some of the public hearings the special commission will conduct. The names of those appointed will not be made known until after the adjournment of the Legislature if the usual custom in such matters is followed.

Senator Simoneau voted on rollcall to pass to be engrossed the bill re lating to payments under the work

men's compensation law for certain specific injuries. The bill was advanced, 19 to 15.

The House has passed to be engrossed a bill to permit Middlesex county to raise money to build a tuberculosis hospital. The measure will come before the Senate next Monday. The committee report was adverse but the House substituted the original bill which permitted the county to borrow the money. Then a substitute bill was introduced to allow the county to raise the money inside the debt limit and this is the measure that has passed the lower branch and is now before the Senate.

Representative Saltontall presided as Acting Speaker at last Monday's session of the House.

As a member of the Committee on Metropolitan Affairs, Representative Hollis has been prominent in securing legislation for the construction of a vehicular tunnel from Boston to East

Boston. When an attempt was made by the House Ways and Means Committee to have substituted for such a bill a resolve for a further investigation of the project, Representative

Hollis spoke for the bill and against the resolve. The bill was advanced.

Newton has an especial interest in the bill now before the House Ways and Means Committee which provides for the establishment of a uniform system of traffic signals for cities and towns throughout the State. At a hearing this week before that committee, Representative Hollis told of the importance of having the law made clear as to the legality of signals displayed automatically or by the so-called "silent policeman" method. He referred to the fact that Frank A.

Goodwin, former Registrar of Motor Vehicles, had stated that the automatic signals were not legal and that drivers need obey only live traffic signals.

—From Acre of Wheat

The number of pounds of bread that can be made from one acre of wheat depends upon the amount of wheat raised on the acre. It requires from 4½ to 4¾ barrels of wheat to make a barrel of flour. A barrel of flour will make approximately 300 one-pound loaves of bread.

KIWANIS CLUB

The speaker at the weekly meeting of the Newton Kiwanis Club on Tuesday was State Senator Samuel H. Wragg of Needham. Mr. Wragg told of the more important problems which have confronted the Legislature at the term now drawing to a close, chief among which was the question of control or ownership of the Boston Elevated. Mr. Wragg commented that "should the Legislature decide on public ownership of the 'Elevated,' he hoped it would also take over the Middlesex & Boston Street Railway." He explained how the "Reading investigation" has caused the Legislature to be in session longer than it otherwise would and the agitation now existing over the alleged gifts of seized intoxicating liquors to members of the Legislature may still further prolong the present term of the Legislature.

Last Sunday was "Go-to-Church Sunday" for Kiwanians and the Newton Kiwanis Club made a very creditable showing in this movement.

RECEPTION AND TEA

A letter was received from His Excellency Governor Alvan T. Fuller, expressing the regret that a previous engagement would prevent Mrs. Fuller and himself from attending.

Commander John W. Roth was also detained by plans of long standing.

Among the invited guests who spoke, were His Honor Mayor Edwin O. Childs of Newton, who always warms the heart of visitors to our uncommonly attractive Garden City.

Mrs. Knowlton met many of her large family of Auxiliary members, who were so interested to hear her wise counsel and heard her for the first time, and those of longer acquaintance, eagerly anticipate each opportunity.

Miss Anna Manion of Waltham, whose Unit had initiated the "Gold Star Mothers" Day for two years past in Middlesex County, under her guidance, expressed much interest in having this day continue to be one of look forward to for being together. The more we know each other, the more our hearts expand in affection.

Rev. Herbert A. MacCombie, the chaplain of Newton Post 48, offered prayer, following a minute of silence for those who had made the Supreme sacrifice.

Father William J. Farrell recalled his personal service to our men in time of stress and danger that caused men to put away all thought of creed or other distinction and difference, in the great ideal of service for country and humanity.

"Sailor" Henry J. Ryan, that ardent, sincere patriot, who arouses us to the depths of our souls, to see our duty as good citizens and to carry on.

Miss Eugenie M. Foss, our state chairman of Americanism, thrills us always in her earnest, honest, thoroughly well informed plea to be alert, open minded and awake to present conditions, and do our part to meet them, so the great sacrifices which have been made will not have been in vain.

Our cup of joy was filled to the brim as the contribution to a "Perfect Day" was made by our Beloved General Clarence R. Edwards, who was a "Daddy" to our boys, so many of whom served with him in the 26th division. He gave a stirring and appealing review of past and present conditions, reminding us we are all put into this world for some sort of service and it is well to make the most of the opportunities that come to us. We sincerely missed Mrs. Edwards who was unable to come at this time, but who is an interested member of our Newton Auxiliary.

The refreshments were served by the officers of the Auxiliary, with Mrs. Francis J. Cook as chairman, assisted by a large group of members. The past presidents and senior vice-president poured at the table, which was very effective with decorations in red, white and blue color scheme for candles, red and white pink, sherberts, candy and cakes.

Mr. Stuart showed that there are 12,000 motor vehicles, by far the largest in proportion to population of any city in this State. Newton has 163 miles of accepted streets and it is a difficult matter to keep this mileage in condition without incurring great expense. Last year the work done on these streets cost $146,369.77, an average cost per mile of $874.15. Of the total amount spent—$82,424.86 was for patching; $46,497.27 was for cleaning; $13,359.20 for oiling and $4,088.44 for corporation work. In 1927 the city spent $54,706.55 in building 1.85 miles of new streets, a cost of $28,987.20 per mile.

Mr. Stuart advocated that the city start to build some modern, cement streets. Such a move would eventually save the city much money as a large amount is now spent yearly in resurfacing the old type streets which have only tarvia surfaces. Last year the city spent $90,444.64 in resurfacing 3.6 miles of streets; 50,614 square yards being resurfaced at an average cost of $1.79 per square yard. One mile of the present type of roadway, 24 feet wide costs $25,123.20 to resurface. A mile of cement roadway 18 feet wide would cost $42,240 to build; a mile of cement roadway 27 feet wide would cost $63,360 to build.

Following Mr. Earle's and Mr. Stuart's remarks a lively discussion ensued. Frank L. Richardson urged that the city start to afford some relief to persons residing on unaccepted streets. He suggested that the bumps be removed and the hollows filled in on such streets so that they will be more passable for automobiles. He was informed by Alderman Earle that "the city is forbidden by law to perform any work on unaccepted streets other than to remove snow so that fire apparatus will have access to them. Other members present related the hardships they endure because of residing on unaccepted streets which are in terrible condition.

One man criticised the city because in his opinion, undue delay results when petitions are sent to have streets accepted. John D. Babbage asked "Why does the city delay laying out and accepting streets after receiving petitions for such work when only $142,000 is involved in such construction?" Mr. Earle answered that others from special bond issues to complete such work and it may be necessary for Newton to do likewise. He commented that "of the 88 miles of unaccepted streets in Newton, petitions have been received to have only 5 miles accepted."

Alderman Baker, replying to Mr. Babbage's criticism of the city government for its alleged failure to improve unaccepted streets, explained that the city can raise money to do such work either from taxes or by issuing bonds and that all the 88 miles of unaccepted streets could be laid out and improved if money could be found. He commented that it has been the practice to wait until 75% of the abutters petition before starting such work to reduce the possibility of law suits. Mr. Baker explained that "the reason why the work has not proceeded more rapidly is because the borrowing capacity of the city is limited to $518,000." He added that "the city might petition the Legislature for authority to borrow outside the debt limit."

Frank L. Richardson explained different kinds of borrowing done by municipalities. Money borrowed on bond issues for the purpose of building schools and such public necessities is not returned, but money borrowed on bond issues for street construction results in profit to the city. Such loans can be negotiated for 4%. He said, "It should be pointed out that inasmuch as the entire cost of laying out and improving streets is assessed on abutters, and such assessments become a final lien on property (underlying mortgages, etc.) the city receives back not only what it borrows at 4% or less to finance the work, but all that it appropriates from tax levy as well, plus interest at 6% on any installments unpaid from date of assessment. Such work does not, therefore, affect the tax rate adversely, regardless of work done. On the contrary, the city benefits from interest where payment in full is not made in full as of date of assessment."

"City loans for such work," continued Mr. Richardson, "which in itself provides for repayment in full, plus an interest profit, should if necessary, be arranged outside the debt limit in order that the work be done promptly." "If the Street Department is not large enough to take care of especially increased demand for this work, without resulting in an excessively manned department for the inactive seasons of the year, the work should be done by contract which we have been informed, would probably cost the abutters less than if this work were done by the city."

STREETS DISCUSSED AT CHAM-

Mr. Richardson answered, in answering Mr. Earle's explanation that "work in improving and accepting streets is delayed because one-quarter of the cost of such work must be taken from the tax levy," that "there is no reason why this 25% of the cost must be taken from the tax levy, other than it is a lawful requirement."

One of the gentlemen present told of irrigation projects in the West being financed by private companies and suggested that a similar plan be used to finance the improvement of our many miles of unaccepted streets; the work to be done by private contractors. Alderman John Temperton suggested to Mr. Richardson that "the Newton Trust Company finance such work in this city." Mr. Richardson replied that "the laws forbid the Trust Company loaning money for such a purpose, but if that if the company could be permitted to do so and would enjoy the security that the city has in such a case, it could profitably engage in this enterprise, and the money would be made available."

Henry Whitmore suggested to Mr. Richardson that "banking institutions might use their excess profits to follow up the methods used by automobile financing corporations and assist in financing the acceptance of streets."

103RD COMMENCEMENT

The 103rd annual commencement of the Newton Theological Institution will be held from June 3 to 6th. The program includes the following:

3:30 p. m. Annual Business Meeting of the Society of Alumni in Colby Hall Chapel.

5:30 p. m. Annual Dinner at the Woman's Club house. Representatives of the Alumni and President Hill of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School will speak.

8:00 p. m. The Alumni Oration, in the Chapel of the First Baptist Meeting-house, by Rev. Frank B. Haggard of Hartford, Connecticut. Subject: "The Minister as a Truth Seeker."

Wednesday, June 6, Commencement Day. 10:00 a. m. Graduating exercises at the Baptist Church, with addresses by members of the graduating class. Presentation of diplomas.

Special address by Professor Rufus M. Jones.

12:30 p. m. Trustees' Luncheon at the Woman's Club house.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

Marjorie Whitaker and Samuel Douglas were the leaders at last Sunday's meeting of the Young People's Forum of Waban on the topic: "Choosing One's Vocation." Next Sunday's meeting will be in the form of a "Question Box," conducted by the Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald. The "Question Box" has been one of the most popular types of meeting held this year.

Among the questions discussed at the meeting on "Choosing Our Vocations" were the following: "What is a Good Job?" "What Job Should We aim for, one which we can easily reach or one far on the horizon?" "Should we work for wages lower than what we might draw?" How much service should we give outside of what is required?

Following these various types of occupations were discussed according to the following outline: hours, services rendered, wages, training required and chance for advancement. No effort was made to decide upon particularly good occupation for the right occupation differs with each person, but rather to set a standard code by which each occupation might be judged by the prospective employee.

Plans for the last meeting of the Forum, which is to be one of unusual interest, will be disclosed at the meeting next Sunday by Mary Stephen, vice-president of the Forum and chairwoman of the Young People's Forum of Waban on the topic: "Choosing One's Vocation."

Parents and friends are always welcome at the Forum. The meetings are held in the Union Church of Waban every Sunday evening from October to June. Supper is served at 6:10 and the discussion begins at 6:30. Membership is open to all Waban Young People of high school age.

Yields Two Fleece

It is said that an Ohio farmer has a sheep which in one year yielded two fleeces, one black as ink and the other as white as snow.

Artificial Marble

By the use of colored silks and a special cement Italianni have been able to produce blocks which bear a very natural resemblance to marble.

BRADY-BELL

Miss Hazel Arline Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elliston Herbert Bell of Newton, was married to Mr. George Todd of Goldensbridge, New York, on Tuesday evening, May 15th.

The ceremony was performed at the Newton Methodist Church by the Rev. J. West Thompson at eight o'clock.

Mrs. Carleton Philip Bell of Auburndale was the matron of honor. The bridesmaids were the Misses Lucy Brady, a cousin of the groom, of Somers, New York, Elizabeth A. Wetherbee of Newton, Alice E. Dorling of Malden and Lilla Fries of Dorchester, the latter two being sorority sisters of the bride. Mr. Fred C. Earl of Tabor, New Jersey, was the best man and the ushers included Stebbins Q. Brady, a cousin of the groom of Goldensbridge, New York; Philip Frink of Seattle, Washington; Carleton P. Bell of Auburndale and Elliston H. Bell, Jr. of Newton, two brothers of the bride.

The bride wore a gown of ivory satin in period style embroidered with pearls and a headress of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The matron of honor wore a pink satin period dress and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and blue forget-me-nots. The bridesmaids' dresses were in pastel shades of georgette and they carried colonial bouquets to harmonize with their dresses.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 56 Waverley avenue, from eight until ten. The couple were assisted in receiving by the parents of the bride and the bridal party.

The decorations at the church were palm, snapdragons and pink carnations.

The home was decorated with white jonquils, and at the four corners of the tables were shepherds' crooks with bells of white lilies and satin ribbon.

Mr. and Mrs. Brady will reside at 38 Clearway street, Back Bay.

The bride attended Boston University and is a member of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority. The groom graduated from Culver Military Academy and is now attending M. I. T., where he is a member of the Scabbard and Sword, an honorary military fraternity.

UNUSUAL ACCIDENT

A peculiar accident took place on Monday afternoon, when Joseph Russell, an employee of the Flower Balloon Co., narrowly escaped serious injury in making a parachute jump from a balloon sent up from Waltham Common.

Russell made a high ascent and remained with the balloon too long before cutting loose. The parachute opened perfectly, but Russell misjudged the force of the wind and instead of making a landing in an open field near Derby street, West Newton, was carried as far as Adella avenue. Here he almost made a landing, but a gust of wind carried the parachute upwards and upwards and Russell crashed into a window on the second floor of the double house occupied by Mrs. Wm. H. Leach and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic M. Mitchell on Adella avenue. The window, glass, screen and frame was badly damaged. The parachute then caught on the chimney and Russell was able to reach the piazza roof, and to climb into the house through another window.

The balloon meanwhile dropped to the ground on the Albemarle golf course. The fire department was called upon to rescue the parachute.

POLICE NEWS

John Saitis, arrested last week by Serg. Moan and Patrolman Walsh as he zig-zagged on the footbridge over the Charles River at Newton Lower Falls while carrying a jug containing a gallon of strong "hicker" and while also carrying considerable "hicker" inside his vest, was tried in the Newton court yesterday on the charge of "illegal transportation of liquor." He was found guilty and fined $100. He had but $30 so he was sent to the House of Correction at East Cambridge. Also Saitis was sentenced to 30 days in duration at the county jail for drunkenness; also he was sentenced to linger another 10 days at this resort to serve a suspended sentence hanging over him from a previous conviction for drunkenness. The police alleged that Saitis has been peddling "hooch."

Fred Delventhal of 71 West Pine street, Auburndale, was fined $25 and given a suspended sentence of one month in the House of Correction on the charge of committing assault and battery on an 11 year old girl, the daughter of a Newton policeman.

Joseph Beattie, who runs a market at 2992 Commonwealth avenue, was fined $25 in court on Monday on the charge of having in his store with intent to sell fish not sufficiently fresh, which he appealed. William Sullivan of the Division of Fisheries and Game of Massachusetts was the prosecutor. Beattie was in court a couple of weeks ago on this same matter, but because of a technical error in the drawing of the charge, the case was continued. He had as an expert witness Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher, who is a piscatorial expert. At that time there was a difference of opinion between Mr. Sullivan and Dr. Gallagher as to whether, or not, a fish (a dead fish) starts to decay at its gullet or near its tail. The doctor contended that decay started around a fish's bow, while the state inspector asserted that decay started near the tail. According to local fish experts, the doctor was correct.

The doctor contended that decay started around a fish's bow, while the state inspector asserted that decay started near the tail. According to local fish experts, the doctor was correct.

John Saitis, arrested last week by Serg. Moan and Patrolman Walsh as he zig-zagged on the footbridge over the Charles River at Newton Lower Falls while carrying a jug containing a gallon of strong "hicker" and while also carrying considerable "hicker" inside his vest, was tried in the Newton court yesterday on the charge of "illegal transportation of liquor." He was found guilty and fined $100. He had but $30 so he was sent to the House of Correction at East Cambridge. Also Saitis was sentenced to 30 days in duration at the county jail for drunkenness; also he was sentenced to linger another 10 days at this resort to serve a suspended sentence hanging over him from a previous conviction for drunkenness. The police alleged that Saitis has been peddling "hooch."

Fred Delventhal of 71 West Pine street, Auburndale, was fined $25 and given a suspended sentence of one month in the House of Correction on the charge of committing assault and battery on an 11 year old girl, the daughter of a Newton policeman.

Joseph Beattie, who runs a market at 2992 Commonwealth avenue, was fined $25 in court on Monday on the charge of having in his store with intent to sell fish not sufficiently fresh, which he appealed. William Sullivan of the Division of Fisheries and Game of Massachusetts was the prosecutor. Beattie was in court a couple of weeks ago on this same matter, but because of a technical error in the drawing of the charge, the case was continued. He had as an expert witness Dr. Thomas M. Gallagher, who is a piscatorial expert. At that time there was a difference of opinion between Mr. Sullivan and Dr. Gallagher as to whether, or not, a fish (a dead fish) starts to decay at its gullet or near its tail. Ald. Earle Explains About Acceptance Of New Streets

At the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night, Alderman William E. Earle, Chairman of the Public Works Committee, explained in detail the process of laying out, improving, and accepting new streets in Newton. The very rapid growth of this city has made it difficult for many new streets in sections recently developed to be improved and accepted. The delay has caused much inconvenience to persons who have built homes on such streets and who find them almost impassable for automobiles. Mr. Earle's remarks will be of interest to those who have been criticising the city government for not accepting streets more rapidly.

New streets are constructed by two different plans, under the General Law and under the Betterment Law. Under the General Law the property owners arrange with a contractor to have the street constructed to City specifications, that is—to the satisfaction of the Street Commissioner and the City Engineer, the owners paying all the bills. The street is then accepted by the Board of Aldermen and the next regular session, and the Street Department takes care of the maintenance of the street from that time on. Under the Betterment Law, some of the owners file a petition with the Board of Aldermen for the construction of the street under the Betterment Law. They secure as many signatures of the property owners as possible, and all if they can, and this petition is then referred to the Public Works Committee of the Board for action. Unless the petition is signed by more than 75% of the lot owners the committee very seldom considers it, holding it up until a greater number have signed for the improvement. On the recommendation of the Committee a hearing is ordered by the board at the next regular meeting and all property owners are given the opportunity to say whether or not they desire the street improved. There being only one mild objection or no objection, the Public Works Committee then recommends to the Board the order for construction of the street. The City finances the work by an appropriation for the whole cost of the work as given by the estimate of the City Engineer. When the work is completed the actual cost of doing the work is assessed on the different lots of the property owners, they paying the city one-tenth each year for a period of ten years, a charge of 6% interest on all unpaid balances each year. They have the right to pay up at any time for the full charge if they so desire, and thus save paying any interest charges. The City finances the work of all streets accepted under the Betterment Law in the following manner. It is required that an appropriation of 25 cents for each $1000 of valuation be taken from the Tax Levy, and in the City of Newton this means that the Mayor must recommend taking $36,000 from the Tax Levy for this class of work before it is possible to issue any Street Improvement 10 year Bonds. The Mayor usually recommends this amount and later a Bond issue of $50,000 so that there is usually $35,000 for Street Improvement work. This year we have an unexpected balance from last year of $18,000 so that we hope to be able to do about $100,000 of this class of work during the present year.

The City Engineer's Department has a big job on each street to be accepted. When a hearing is ordered by the Board the Engineer sends one of his men to the Registry of Deeds at Cambridge and correct list of all properties, names and home addresses of all owners are brought back so that the necessary legal orders of hearing can be drawn up by the City Solicitor. Notices of the hearing are sent to the correct owners, and the hearing is held before the full Board of Aldermen. The matter is then referred back to the Public Works Committee for action. If the Committee votes to order the street constructed, that report is made at the next regular meeting of the Board. The Board then voting for the acceptance of the report of the Committee the work is ordered, and the full amount of the Engineer's estimate is appropriated. This order is then sent to the Engineer who sends out releases to all owners to be signed, releasing the land which is being taken for the public way, the releases then being returned to the Engineer and City Solicitor for approval. This part of the work usually takes a lot of time, for in most all cases the different owners have one or more mortgages on their property, and it is necessary for the banks to also sign release before it is legal. In many cases the delay in signing these releases holds some construction up for a long time, and even over until the next year, when a new Board of Aldermen is seated, making it necessary to order a new hearing before the actual cost of doing the work is all in and properly signed the Street

PICTURE OF A LADY WHO PLAYS TO EXTEND HER WARDROBE THIS SUMMER

There are quite a few ladies—and gentlemen—who plan to extend this summer's wardrobe without going to too great an expense. There's a way, and here's how.

There are frocks and coats, sport sweaters and hats, that are hardly presentable right now. But there is no reason at all for having them stay in this condition. Through the medium of Howes, Dry Cleaners' Community Plant here in Newton, working on synchronism with their headquarters plant at Allston, convenient, fast, perfect dry-cleaning service is available to bring cleanliness and the resulting lustre, freshness and liveliness to every garment you possess. The cost is an item, the result is surprising, and you have put unused and unpresentable garments into service. You still have your regular Spring clothing budget practically untouched, and you may, therefore, add those new things that everyone likes to have a touch of the very latest style to their wardrobe.

You may leave pressing orders on the way to work in the morning and pick them up on your way home again at night. If you must have rush dry-cleaning service you may have one-day time on that also, 'tho we prefer not to rush your dry-cleaning work. In any event, you may be assured of all kinds of dry-cleaning service in three or four days, practically one-half the time it formerly took until Howes discovered the quicker, more modern way.

Dressing rooms for ladies and gentlemen add to the convenience of the service. If you cannot call at the plant, telephone WEst Newton 2100. "We Are On Your Street Twice Daily For Collection and Delivery".

MALLORY STRAWS ARE HAND-MADE

Commissioner orders the work to be done.

"All streets must be constructed 40 feet wide except in a case where a private way has been open to public travel prior to Jan. 1st, 1874, in which case, it is constructed to the width at that time, or wider if it is possible to do so. Two years ago North street at Newton Centre was accepted with a 30 foot width, as it was one of these exceptions that come along every so often. A 40 foot street has a 24 foot roadway, two sidewalks 5 feet 6 inches wide and two lawn and grass borders 2 feet 6 inches wide. The roadway is constructed of 8 inch coarse gravel with a coat of penetrating tar surface. The sidewalks are of gravel unless a separate petition has been signed by each lot owner for cement concrete walks, in which case, the City pays one-half and the abutter one-half of the cost of the walks. One of the most important and most expensive items is the drainage of the street. Catch basins are built both sides of the street at intervals of not more than 300 feet, and at all low places and also near the corners. The catch basins are connected with drains having man-holes at intervals of not more than 400 feet with a permanent drainage outlet, duly and permanently secured to the city by proper and legal instruments, or such drains may be constructed to the limits of a public way of the city intersecting such street. All corners of intersecting streets shall be rounded as approved by the Engineer, and curbing of granite, or cement concrete shall be set on the gutter-line for the full length of all such rounded corners. Granite bound stones shall be set at all angles, and curves, under the direction of the City Engineer.

"Of the 88 miles of unaccepted streets now in Newton we have before the Public Works Committee petitions for 3 1/2 miles which are signed up 75% or better, and 1 1/4 miles that are less than 75%. We are planning to construct as many streets as possible, that is as far as the $100,000 will go, and it will be in the vicinity of 2 miles. In 1922 we had 153 miles of accepted streets and 78 miles of private ways, whereas today we have 163 miles of accepted streets and 88 miles of private ways, a gain of 10 miles on each. Our private ways are increasing faster than our accepted streets, and it may be necessary to have a special bond issue for this class of work, as has been done in some of the other cities and towns around Newton. The gain of 10 miles in accepted streets the past five to six years, was made up of 7 miles constructed under the Betterment Law, and 3 miles constructed under the General Law. In 1922 there were $323,000 Street Improvement Bonds outstanding. Since then we have issued $260,000 and we have retired $300,000, so that today we have $283,000 due on outstanding Street Improvement Bonds. These bonds also provide the money for street widenings, cutting of corners, and relocating the same, and not all money raised by these bonds is spent for acceptance of streets. There has been a trip around the City each year by the Public Works Committee for the purpose of seeing the actual conditions of the streets on which we have petitions, and it certainly is the desire of each and every one, that these streets be constructed as fast as possible, and we trust it will be possible in the near future to secure an additional bond issue that will enable us to order the construction of all streets on petition."

LASELL SEMINARY

On Monday evening, May the 14th, Mary McAvey of the class of '28 and Frances Boothby '29, gave a recital in the chapel. Miss McAvey is graduating this year, majoring in voice, and Miss Boothby is a student of piano forte and cello.

Annual Field Day was held on Gardner Hall Campus on Tuesday of this week. There were many inter-class events. Picnic supper was served by the Seniors.

Miss Estella Coe, teacher of English in a large girls' school in Tokyo, Japan, addressed the students at chapel on Wednesday morning.

The Glee Club and Orchestra will give their Annual Concert in the Auburndale Club House on Friday evening. They will present the operetta "The Dragon of Wu Foo." Christina Finlayson '28 of Jamaica Plain will lead the Glee Club. Marjorie Winslow '28 of Auburndale will direct the Orchestra. The accompanists are Gwendolyn McDonald '30 of Ottawa, Canada, and Ruth Enders '28 of Co-hasset.

The Vesper Service speaker for Sunday afternoon will be Rev. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church in Newton.

A Students' Recital will be given on Monday evening next by members of the Music Department.

Another all-star program will be given by the Embassy Theatre, Waltham's Wonder theatre beginning Monday and running until Wednesday. The feature photoplay is "Rose Marie," the sweetest musical romance ever adapted for the screen. Joan Crawford, House Peters, and James Murray are the three stars featured. The 5 vaudeville acts will be headed by Alah Axion, the mystic seer, the man "who knows all, sees all and tells all."

Beginning Thursday the feature photoplay will be "Surrender" featuring Mary Philbin and Ivan Mosjukin. Alah Axion will be retained for the whole week as the vaudeville feature.

The Sunday program will include "The Show Girl" with Gaston Glass and Marie Carr and special vaudeville for Sunday only.

RESCUES DOG, GETS MEDAL

Judson Albright of Indiana terrace, Upper Falls, has been presented with a medal by the M. S. P. C. A. in recognition of his rescue of a dog which he saved from drowning recently at the silk mill dam in Upper Falls. The dog, a collie, was swept down the river to the dam and exhausted by his struggles in the cold water was slowly drowning when Albright at the risk of his life crawled out on the boom above the dam and rescued the animal.

The Vesper Service speaker for Sunday afternoon will be Rev. Boynton Merrill, pastor of the Second Church in Newton.

Vaughan Returns to Lineup

Last Saturday the Yale varsity nine triumphed over the Brown University team at Providence 10 to 7, the victory nearly becoming a costly one. Captain Dick Vaughan of Newton Centre, was struck over the heart by a fast ball in the third while Ford was on the mound. He became a base runner and scored on Alrich's first home run but after returning to the bench was sent to the Rhode Island hospital for an X-ray as it was believed he might be suffering from a slight rupture of the lung tissue. Fortunately the injury was not as severe as it might have been and Vaughan returned to the Yale lineup in the game with Columbia on Tuesday. Although slightly off form in the field where he made three errors, Vaughan showed no shyness at bat and singled in his only official time up.

Vaughan showed further proof that he is not shy at the bat because of his injury by collecting two hits in three times at bat off Singmaster, the William's pitcher Wednesday, when the Blue led the Purple, 3 to 2. It was Yale's ninth straight win from a college team.

Newton Trio Gets But One Hit

Boston University defeated Worcester Tech Tuesday afternoon 6 to 4, at Worcester with Meader on the mound. The local trio of Lawless, McCullough and Whitmore were held to but one hit among them by Robinson and Graham, Tech twirlers. Lawless was the only one of the three to hit but he collected but one in five trips. Whitmore handled twelve chances at first without a slip while McCullough was charged with one error and credited with two putouts. Lawless also had two chances.

Hemeon's Pinch Hit Wasted

"Buster" Hemeon, former Newton high athlete and now at Cushing Academy, was sent in to pinch hit in the ninth inning of the Exeter-Cushing Academy game on Wednesday, and came through with a single. It went for naught as his teammates failed to push him around. The pitching of Captain Coombs of Exeter featured the game which Exeter won 5 to 2, with the Exeter twirler fanning seventeen.

Tigers Defeat West Newton All-Stars

In a twilight game Wednesday evening on the West Newton Common the Boston Tigers defeated the West Newton All-Stars 4 to 3 in seven innings. The Tigers found Bright for nine hits while Dupree was holding the locals to three safeties.

Hill In Double Win

Malcolm Hill, captain of last year's Harvard freshman tennis team and a member of this year's varsity, won his singles match from Cleary of M. I. T., 6-0, 6-0, last Saturday in the Harvard-Tech matches which the Crimson won 8 to 1. Teaming with Trask in doubles Hill and his partner lost but three games in two sets to the Engineers' pair.

NEWTON BEAT SOMERVILLE

Somerville got three singles in the seventh but failed to score. Corbett was thrown out by Spain. Wells singled, his third hit of the game, Escort singled and when Wells tried to make third deMille's perfect throw to Warren nailed him. Donovan singled but Spain threw out Leveroni by a fast play. In Newton's half Wilson fouted out, Leveroni threw out Andres, Warren singled and Gatchell hoisted to Corbett.

It was one, two, three in the first of the eighth. Reilly left off in Newton's half and flied out to third. Spain doubled and route in on Mullen's single. Mullen took second on the throw home and third on a passed ball. DeMille's effort was right at the pitcher and Mullen was caught at the plate by inches. Fletcher fanned to end the inning.

Again Somerville came from behind to tie the score. O'Brien got a two-base hit close to first base that went into the crowd in right field foul territory. Corbett pushed him along with a sacrifice. Wells fanned to Mullen, the latter making a pretty running catch. O'Brien could have scored had he been on the base but he was half way home and had to go back. It made little difference as Escort scored him with a single to right. Warren threw out Donovan to end it. Newton's efforts in the ninth were nil. Wilson and Andres flied to left and Warren to short. Leveroni, Somerville's first batter in the tenth, found one of Reilly's shots to his liking and clicked it over the canvas to apparently put the game on ice.

NEWTON MAKES IT TEN STRAIGHT

Newton high stretched its consecutive string of victories to ten straight by turning back Brockton high 6 to 4 on Claffin field, Wednesday afternoon. Roland Combs was on the mound for the orange and black and although found for ten hits, two more than gathered by Newton, he kept them well scattered. Newton garnered eight hits, a triple and a double by Andres and two timely singles by Fletcher, providing the punch.

After Spain had flied out and Powers had been forced at second by deMille in the first, Coach Sullivan's team put across its first tally, deMille had reached second on a wild throw to first on the play which retired Powers and Fletcher scored him with a single to centerfield.

Brockton took the lead in the second scoring two runs on a double, triple and a single. In Newton's half another run tied it up. Andres hit for two bases to left field and when the throw was made to second, broke for third. O'Connell, Brockton's shortstop, threw wild to third and Andres came home.

In the third Newton counted four more tallies to put the game on ice. Powers drew his second pass, deMille beat out a bunt and when the throw got away from Semino both he and Powers moved along. Fletcher came through with another single to score his teammate and took second on the throw-in. He went to third on Wilson's out at first and counted on a wild pitch by Pileski. Andres tripled after getting another chance when Keough in left field dropped his foul fly and Warren squeezed him in with the fourth tally of the frame.

Spain got on in the fourth when hit by a pitched ball and again in the sixth on a single. Warren hit for two bases in the fifth and reached third but in all three cases Brockton tightened up and no more runs scored.

In the first of the sixth Brockton tallied when Willis singled, stole second and scored when Andres threw over Warren's head on an attempted steal. In the next inning another came across when Sutcliffe, who had been hitting well, was hit by a wild pitch. In the next inning another came across when Sutcliffe, who had been hitting well, was hit by a wild pitch. In the next inning another came across when Sutcliffe, who had been hitting well, was hit by a wild pitch.

Powers made a spectacular catch off Balorion in the fourth after running back close to the canvas. A fast double play from Warren to Fletcher to deMille ended Brockton's chances in the ninth.

Newton Trio Gets But One Hit

Boston University defeated Worcester Tech Tuesday afternoon 6 to 4, at Worcester with Meader on the mound.

The local trio of Lawless, McCullough and Whitmore were held to but one hit among them by Robinson and Graham, Tech twirlers.

Lawless was the only one of the three to hit but he collected but one in five trips. Whitmore handled twelve chances at first without a slip while McCullough was charged with one error and credited with two putouts. Lawless also had two chances.

Hemeon's Pinch Hit Wasted

"Buster" Hemeon, former Newton high athlete and now at Cushing Academy, was sent in to pinch hit in the ninth inning of the Exeter-Cushing Academy game on Wednesday, and came through with a single. It went for naught as his teammates failed to push him around.

Howard Whitmore

Howard Whitmore, former Newton high pitcher star, started his first game of the season for the Harvard varsity Tuesday and let Middlebury down with four hits and kept them scoreless while the Crimson was hitting 18 runs and an avalanche of hits.

The only real clout made off Whitmore was a triple by the first batter in the fourth but the former Newton star bore down and fanned the next three men in order. In the entire game nine Middlebury batters were Whitmore's victims by the strikeout route.

Two Local Runners in First Ten

Two local runners were among the first ten to finish in the annual race of the Waltham Chamber of Commerce, a feature of Merchant's Week, Wednesday. The distance was over a 6 1/2 mile course from the common to Weston, Auburndale and back to the starting point. Leo Brown of Newton finished sixth and Vincent D'Anjelo another local runner, tenth.

STUDEBAKER'S $795 ERSKINE SIX

Sets Ten New Records

by Traveling

in 984 minutes

ON April 26, two strictly stock Erskine Club Sedans—exactly like those you can purchase from any Studebaker dealer—each traveled 1000 miles in less than 1000 consecutive minutes.

The run took place at Atlantic City Speedway, and was supervised by officials of the American Automobile Association who verified the stock design of the cars.

As a result, ten new records for stock cars under $1000 were established by the Erskine Six. And Studebaker has demonstrated that its 76-year-old traditions for careful building are carried through in the design, materials and workmanship of this low-priced fine car—named for Albert Russel Erskine, Studebaker's president.

Although sold at the lowest price at which any Studebaker-built car was ever offered ($795 f. o. b. factory), Studebaker has not permitted any compromise in the materials or workmanship entering into the Erskine Six. That is why this car was able to travel 1000 miles at better than a mile a minute—why you can drive your Erskine Six 40 miles an hour even when NEW—why the Erskine is so economical to maintain and to operate.

A few minutes behind the wheel of the New Erskine Six will introduce you to a type of performance as sensational for its price class as that of the World's Champion Commander is to the field of higher priced cars.

Newton Track Team at Banquet

The members of the Newton high track team with trainers and coaches were guests of the Worcester Polytechnic Institute alumni Tuesday night at a banquet at the University Club. George H. Abercrombie of Melrose, president of the Franklin company and an alumnus of W. P. L., gave an interesting talk on "Optimistic Salesmanship."

Hunnefeld Playing Second

Bill Hunnefeld has been playing regularly at second base for the Chicago White Sox the past ten days while Bill Barrett, the former Cambridge youth, went out into rightfield while the regular rightfielder was indisposed. While the Chisox were in Boston last week "Honey" played a nice game as he has been doing since in Washington, New York and Philadelphia. Bob Dunbar in the Boston Herald commented on the playing of Hunnefeld, Cissell and Kamrin in the infield and said that if their hitting was on a par with their fielding that the Sox would be a first division outfit.

Country Day Wins

Country Day school defeated Dummer Academy 5 to 3, Tuesday on the Country Day diamond. The visitors threatened by taking the lead with a three run rally in the fourth but were held at bay by Frank White thereafter. Country Day started the scoring in the third with a lone tally, added another in the sixth and took the lead in the seventh, scoring two runs both on errors and adding another in the eighth for good measure.

Noble Reaches Semi-Finals

Arthur Noble, ranking player on the Newton high tennis team and a junior champion in many tournaments, reached the semi-finals of the singles tourney at the Yale Interscholastic meet on Monday where he was eliminated by Ed McKnight of Roxbury School 3-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2. McKnight then won from Kennedy of Kent School to win the final.

Crowley Allows But Six Hits

Leo Crowley pitched Northeastern University to its third victory of the season last Saturday by allowing Lowell Textile school but six hits. The score of the game was Northeastern 10, Lowell Textile 6. Infield support on both teams was ragged. Lowell's hits were kept well scattered by Crowley who fanned seven and issued but one pass.

GIRL SCOUTS

On Saturday, May 12th, the Boston Arena was the scene of the annual State Review of the Massachusetts Girl Scouts, 6000 Girl Scouts from all parts of the state, a solid mass of khaki and green on the floor of the Arena, took part in the opening exercises, which included a salute to the flag, the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, and the repetition of the Girl Scout promise and laws. These exercises were preceded by the entrance of Governor Fuller and his aide and prominent Girl Scout officials. Newton Girl Scouts played a prominent part in the program of the State Review this year for the Newton Bugle and Drum Corps was ranked with the Holyoke Corps as the best corps in the state. These two corps gave a splendid demonstration of music and marching and with the Needham Corps formed the letters M. G. S. before they marched from the floor. Drum major Armada Lemont, of Troop 13, Newton Centre, received the State Banner for the Corps from the hands of Governor Fuller, and each member of the Corps was given a little gold "1928," to wear on her hat in recognition of the honor won this year.

Notes From the Field

The new Girl Scout uniform of grey green is making its first appearance among the Newton troops and is very favorably received by girls and officers alike. By this time next year we hope that all the troops will have received their new equipment as it is far more serviceable, as well as more becoming, than the old khaki colored suit.

Troop 4, Waban, gave a very successful party for their mothers on Thursday, May 10th. A great many mothers were present and enjoyed the program of scout work and singing, followed by ice cream and cake.

Mr. Louis Fabian Bachrach, the well known Newton photographer, is giving a course in photography to an enthusiastic group of Senior Girl Scouts from Troop 15, West Newton, and Troop 18, Auburndale, on Monday afternoons at his studio on Maple street, Newton. The work covered in this course will lead up to the photographers merit badge.

There will be no large Newton rally this spring as it has been decided to have each village plan its own local get together with emphasis laid on a good time and getting acquainted. Some of the villages have 3 and 4 troops and they will have a chance to have nice little rallies, giving each girl an opportunity to take part in the events as well as to look on. Some villages are planning banquets, and others are going to have picnics at Camp Mary Day, but in every case a chance will be given for merit badges and other awards to be given out by Miss Caroline Freeman, Director for Newton. It is hoped that this form of ending the year's work will result in a deepened and broadened feeling of village consciousness and loyalty.

Ex-Ald. Madden and Mr. Henry Whitmore Give Views on Apt. Houses

One of the most important questions facing the residents of Newton at the present time is that of apartment houses. Because of its rigid Building Code Newton has seen no apartment buildings erected here for many years. While nearby communities such as Brookline, Allston and Cambridge have changed largely from districts of detached dwellings into apartment house suburbs, Newton has continued as a city of attractive one and two family homes. In the past few years there has been a growing demand for a modification of the Building Code which will lower the almost prohibitive cost of erecting apartments in Newton. This demand has come partly from men interested in a speculative way who realize that Newton would be "virgin territory" for this type of buildings, and partly from elderly persons who desire high-class apartments in Newton where they may reside after giving up large residences which they have occupied here for many years. Because of the growing interest in the apartment house problem, the Newton Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting, held last Monday night at the Newton Club, invited Alderman Baker, former alderman John Madden, and Henry Whitmore of West Newton to address the gathering on this matter.

Mr. Baker's remarks on this subject were practically the same as he made before the Newton Business Association a few months ago and which were printed at that time in the Graphic. Mr. Madden and Mr. Whitmore both agreed that Newton should maintain its present character and should discourage the building of apartments within its confines. Mr. Madden is more extreme in his views than is Mr. Whitmore. He believes that the present Building Code should be retained. Mr. Whitmore favors slight modifications should be made in the code to permit a few apartment buildings to be erected on the edges of our business zones so that facilities will be afforded for elderly Newton people who must reside in apartments and who wish to remain in this city. The views of these two gentlemen, as presented at the meeting of the Newton Chamber of Commerce, follow:

MR. WHITMORE

"Before entering upon a new course, it is well to consider the present condition of affairs in the City of Newton. From the busy centre of Nonantum Square to the wooded heights and meadows of Oak Hill and from the noble group of buildings on University Heights to the river at Auburndale, one may travel over a territory unsurpassed for suburban beauty. New England and possibly in the United States. The numerous hand-some churches evidence the people's devotion to religion; the fine school buildings bear witness to their intention that all shall have a chance for education; the numerous public libraries, built by popular subscription, testify to the interest in culture; and the neatness and general care shown in the whole city speak of the pride and interest of the people in their municipality. Newton is blessed with a good city government and its affairs are administered efficiently and economically.

"All of these things are not the result of chance, but come about because Newton people are home loving and to an unusual extent home owning. The real question in any proposition to encourage the building of apartment houses is whether or not they will influence for good or ill the condition of the city.

"While a large part of our area is zoned so that only single and two-family houses may be erected, there are certain sections of considerable size scattered throughout the city in what is known as the general residential zone, which means that apartment houses may be built within it. This general residential district is shown in blue on the zoning map and is therefore referred to as the 'Blue Area.' It is being rapidly built up with small and modest single houses on lots of limited area and with two-family houses. Both classes of property are largely owned by people of moderate means who are paying for them little by little through savings which mean a real sacrifice.

"It is my opinion that this numerous group of home owners should be protected in their investment and in their living conditions against the intrusion of apartment houses. It is more vital to them than it is to people of larger means, even though the latter have more expensive homes, because the former can less well afford to have their property depreciated and have less open land around them. Furthermore it is my opinion that the building of apartment houses among these single and two-family houses would work a serious and irreparable damage. The loss would run into millions of dollars and would be shared by mortgagees such as savings and co-operative banks, as well as by the owners.

"All this being true, the first and essential thing is that these blue areas be closed to apartment house building and these people and their investments be given protection. This would leave open apartment houses what is known as the business zones in the centre of the villages. These locations are those best suited to apartment houses because of the convenience to stores and transportation and would afford opportunity, in the parts of the business zones not now in demand for stores, to erect a re-

"The question here is—shall we change that section of the building code requiring apartments to be constructed of concrete and steel materials, to permit wooden partitions and floors in that type of buildings, or covered with wire lath and plaster; in other words shall we cheapen that class of construction in order that builders may trade and rent them in this City in competition with builders in Brookline and Boston.

"We have a stringent building code for all classes of construction, but the home owner and home builder has shown a wonderful spirit of co-operation with the City in carrying out the provisions of this law; he has even gone beyond the letter of the law, and has taken a certain pride in adding certain things not required such as insulating buildings, plastering cellar ceilings; it has had a tendency to raise the standard of building, and as a result we have the finest type of building here in Newton that can be found in the Commonwealth.

"But one class of builders has rebelled and that is the apartment house builder; he has refused to build apartments here unless we change the code and cheapen that class of construction and put it on the same plane as that in Boston and Brookline. The reason is, he is not a home owner or home builder, but builds to sell or trade and not to own or occupy, as the majority of those who have built here and made this a City of Homes.

"The consensus of opinion here is that we don't want apartments here as they have been built in Brookline and Boston, and yet that is what this proposed amendment will lead to.

"The strange thing is—that those who advocate this change decay conditions in Brookline and Boston, but still argue that we should try the experiment here. They have not pointed out a single City or Town which has successfully controlled the apartment house evil, and the conditions which they describe in those districts where apartments had been built is the best argument that can be adduced to warn us not to tamper with any Law which has successfully barred them from the City.

"They say that a few apartments will not harm the City but that is true of the places which are referred to as an example of such building. A few apartments would not have injured Brookline or Dorchester. No finer suburb of Boston could be imagined than either of these places with a few apartments only.

"They say that the Zoning Law will confine these buildings in certain defined areas or districts. As a matter of fact several enterprising local builders have acquired some of the older and larger properties which they believe adapted for apartments, and if the Board fixes any small Zone which excludes these properties, and the law is changed so that apartment building is profitable here, these men will not hesitate to test the constitutionality of such arbitrary Zoning in the Supreme Court, and judging from some of our experiences such as the Barney Atlas case on Walker Street where the Building Code itself was held invalid in 1922, this class of buildings may not be confined or controlled as easily as we think. The Supreme Court held that Zoning was unconstitutional provided we placed districts of like characteristics in like zones, but if we select one small district for apartments and districts of similar characteristics are excluded, the Supreme Court may be called upon to review our action. There is no emergency or demand in this City which would warrant us inviting this class of litigation. Brookline is a good example of this; in attempting to control the speculator, it has on several occasions been obliged to defend its Zoning Law in cases before the Supreme Court, whereas this City which has had to contend with the home builder has been fortunate in avoiding that kind of litigation.

"It is said that apartments will be an improvement over some of our two family house developments; as a matter of fact we have some of the finest two family houses in Newton that can be found in New England, some of them cannot be distinguished from single houses, and judging from the mortgage loans made by banks they are of equal value. If there has been objectionable two family house building it may be laid to the speculator who is now clamoring for a change in the Law that will make apartment house building lucrative.

"We have a stringent building code for all classes of construction, but the home owner and home builder has shown a wonderful spirit of co-operation with the City in carrying out the provisions of this law; he has even gone beyond the letter of the law, and has taken a certain pride in adding certain things not required such as insulating buildings, plastering cellar ceilings; it has had a tendency to raise the standard of building and as a result we have the finest type of building here in Newton that can be found in the Commonwealth.

"But one class of builders has rebelled and that is the apartment house builder; he has refused to build apartments here unless we change the code and cheapen that class of construction and put it on the same plane as that in Boston and Brookline. The reason is, he is not a home owner or home builder, but builds to sell or trade and not to own or occupy, as the majority of those who have built here and made this a City of Homes.

"The consensus of opinion here is that we don't want apartments here as they have been built in Brookline within a few feet of and directly opposite the other, the unhealthy odors from store refuse, the inability to drive a car to the front door are constantly brought to the attention of city officials.

"The wisdom of the Aldermen who framed our code and amended it to require fireproof construction in this class of buildings is receiving practical recognition in Boston and Cambridge where many fireproof apartments are now being erected. The firm of Chace and Gilbert who erected the Colonna apartments in Newtonville is making a specialty of this fireproof building, and recently erected a 150 family apartment on Charles Street, Boston, one that is absolutely fireproof, and are now erecting one called the Ambassador in Harvard Square, just below Memorial Hall. It is the finest type of construction, reduces fire losses to a minimum, and does not depreciate as rapidly as the lower type.

"Would we not feel badly in five

boasts of its supremacy as a pioneer in Municipal improvements, the first city in New England to adopt and enforce a Zoning Law, the first in Streets and Schools, should in an era of building of the highest type and standard, now back down and lower its standards in order to admit apartment houses, compromise and cheapen a code which has enabled us to satisfy the most fastidious home seeker, and then find Boston and Cambridge ahead of us.

"It is urged that several of the older people desire a cozy corner in an apartment house here as their ideal of living, but in thinking of these few, we must consider the thousands who have invested fortunes here because they relied implicitly not only on the stringency of our Code but also upon its stability.

"An apartment may bring revenue but we should also consider the positive of and directly opposite the other, the unhealthy odors from store refuse, the inability to drive a car to the front door are constantly brought to the attention of city officials.

"To regulate by petition in the general residence districts is out of the question. The Board has all night vigils now in transacting City business without adding to the burden a flood of petitions that would follow a cheapened Code.

"A fixed apartment house area or zone would be difficult to establish in the first place and would create a monopoly and thereby lead to exploitation of values of land as in the store sites making the cost of the land greater than tenants should be asked to pay for in rent, and the persistent attempt to extend and enlarge that district might be met by the Courts or by some future Board in a manner not contemplated by us.

"Where does the demand for all this come from?"

Newtonville Woman's Club

The Newtonville Woman's Club is putting on a most delightful entertainment for the children on Saturday, the 19th, in Temple Hall, with Miss Marion Bassett in charge. It becomes a real May Party in a May pole dance by the children of Claffin School, who will crown one of their number their May Queen. This charming affair is open to the public, and although the admission fee is stated to be small, the total should be large because of the wide appeal of the program.

Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club

On Monday evening, May 21st, the Newton Upper Falls Woman's Club presents their annual dramatics in the Emerson School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. The program consists of a farcical comedy, "A Regiment of Two," under the direction of Miss Marion D. Bassett.

The cast which includes well-known amateurs is as follows: Arthur Sewall, a theoretical warrior; Jos. Murphy; Ira Wilton, his father-in-law, another; Robert B. McLaughlin; Harry Brentworth, Arthur's Friend; Kenneth Newcomb; Reginald Dudley, an Englishman; Caliph Alexander; Jim Buckner, known as the parson; William Wildman; Conrad Melzer, a plumber; George Shannon; Eliza Wilton, Ira's better half; Edna Roberts; Grace Sewall, wife of Arthur; Elizabeth Wildman; Laura Wilton, daughter of Ira; Frances Warren; and Lena, a German maid; Alice Evans. Music will be furnished by Irene Forte, violinist; Ruth Masters, Cellist; and Agnes Olsen, Pianist. The Dramatic Committee, composed of Mrs. Warren H. Hoey, chairman, Miss Linda Nickelson, Mrs. Donald Hinckbaugh, Mrs. Robert Sawyer, Mrs. Thomas E. Lees, Miss Katherine Sullivan, and Mrs. Robert B. McLaughlin, will be able to supply tickets to those desiring them.

Homemade candy will be on sale as usual, by the Committee.

Newton Federation

The Executive Board of the Newton Federation holds its final meeting of the season, which is likewise the first of the new regime for another year, on Tuesday afternoon, the 22nd, in the Library of the Technical High School building, Newtonville, at 2:30 o'clock. All Club members are welcome at these meetings. Because of appointment of new chairmen and of plans for another year to be discussed at the meeting will be of special interest.

RECENT EVENTS

State Federation

Addressing a vast throng of expectant, enthusiastic Clubwomen from all parts of Massachusetts, Mrs. Arthur Potter, State president, said in welcoming them on Tuesday afternoon: "Coming together in beautiful Swampscott has become a happy annual event. Greetings to you all and to the many Clubwomen all over the State who for various reasons, are unable to be with us here. We have come here to conduct the annual business of the Federation. In doing this we have the inspiration of helpful human fellowship, the stimulation of a knowledge of the aims and achievements of the State organization. Our key-note is to be Deep Thinking. The knowledge that the work which we have been trying to do must be carried on through far off years gives us that sense of eternity which steadies us in our course. In the years to come may the Federation increasingly contribute to the advancement of those things which add honor to the Home, the State, the Nation, the World."

With which satisfying of expectation, which Mrs. Potter, in her fine sensibilities, is ever able to do, and arousing of inspiration, there opened the vast volume of reports of a year of progress and hard work.

In eloquent token not only of the "deep thinking" which is adequately proven as going forward, but of deed doing, there followed the stewardship of the routine work of the clerk, Mrs. Edwin L. Pride, of the assistant clerk, Mrs. Mosher, and ofances, by the treasurer, Mrs. Davis. Deed doing was indeed and in fact the part of Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles, corresponding secretary, who infused a bit of welcome amusement in saying of the amount of material sent her in care of Uncle Sam: "The mail received has been most interesting, containing as it does every kind of plea and every known variety of advertising matter, from a very enticing invitation to invest our money in oil, to the advertisement of the latest improved cigarette-lighter!" In contrast that is significant, she said: "The mail that is most worth while is that which comes to me from Clubwomen all over the country."

Of the vast extent of her work for the Clubs this gives an idea—that she has received about 650 pieces of mail and sent out over 1,500. She has sent out, also, about 8,000 white tickets and 300 green tickets to the conventions. Besides this, it is her duty to arrange for the printing and distribution of stationery. Truly her work is a labor of love!

She reported admission to membership of eleven Clubs and of one affiliated—this latter being the Women's Circle of the Florence Crittenton League. One Club, the Athena Club of Dorchester, has resigned from membership, and the State W. C. T. U. has resigned from affiliation—leaving 336 Clubs, 4 City Federations, and 6 affiliated organizations.

Mrs. Carl L. Schrader, second vice-president, and charming hostess of Headquarters, gave an interesting allegory that held attention, a blessed oasis in the desert of dry fact, carrying forward the metaphor consistently, with Headquarters as the residence of the chief of the army, her staff being committee heads as division of staff, called in conference, with officer Clubwomen reporting as the scouts from the outlying trenches of the firing lines; and other Clubwomen seeking advice or information being seeking captains of units. The Federation secretary, H. Lois Houghton, she dubbed chief attache, with knowledge of ammunition of barrage and poison gas. Of Headquarters she said: "this denotes the residence of the chief of the army whence orders are issued. It is usually far from the firing lines, hence a fairly safe place to be. To be sure in our advance day of civilization a bomb may be dropped into Headquarters from a clear sky any day, a situation always upsetting. Headquarters serve as a shelter for the privates in the ranks who seek a dugout from the battle strain of shopping and dodging."

She also listed a most interesting array of gifts that attest the interest and loyalty of these same privates. Perhaps the most outstanding among them was the Civil Service Reform medallion presented by the Civil Service Department, which is a replica of the original model for the school medal designed by Miss Frances Grimes, with the criticism of Augustus Saint-Gaudens for the Women's Auxiliaries of the Massachusetts and New York Civil Service Reform Associations. The majestic figure of a woman, representing the State, rests with one hand on the national shield, while in the other she holds the scales of justice to weigh with equity competition for public service. The motto "The Best Shall Serve the State" written for the medal by the well-known philanthropist, Mrs. Charles Russell Lowell, has become widely associated with the ideals of this Reform association. Over one hundred of these bronze medals have been awarded to boys and girls in school competitions for the best essays on the Merit system.

Other gifts much appreciated include a floor lamp, from the Presidents' Club; a high-backed Windsor chair, from the Gardner Woman's Club; a print of General Federation Headquarters, at Washington, from Mrs. Poole and Mrs. Smith; a plaster cast, from Miss Marion C. Nichols; two pairs of yellow candies for the Committee Room, from Mrs. Baker; various books: "Cancer Control," report of the International Symposium at Lake Mohonk, N. Y.; "Looking Backward," from the Chicopee Falls Woman's Club, of which Mrs. Bellamy, wife of the author, was a charter member; Club Cook Book, from the Medway Woman's Club; volume of Poems, from the author, Mrs. Grace Wight Buckley; the Golden Book, which is a history of printing and paper, McMurtrie, from Mrs. Thomas J. Walker; "Much Loved Books," Best Sellers of the Ages, by Bennett, from the Literature Committee of 1927-28; Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson, chairman; and checks, one for $15 from the Kalima Club of North Attleboro, and one for $5 from the Marblehead Woman's Club.

Mrs. Thomas J. Walker, reporting on the new Department of Club Institutes was delightful because of her modesty. Like many another who has gone about her task unassisted, she came out far ahead of the brace, who have antagonized by their all-sufficient self-satisfaction in ability to meet every situation. She naively said that last November, with fear and trembling lest they have no audience at their first Institute, they arranged chairs for twelve, and had forty-seven, and at the next conference there were 106. She stated that the Department given over to the solving of Club problems, such as finances, programs, parliamentary procedure, courtesies, Club houses, all of which have not been solved she weekly admits—has had a busy profitable, happy, and thrilling year; that her committee was new at the work, but dauntless. Is it to be wondered that a committee that can feel a thrill and be dauntless has been successful?

One statement of hers was so amazing that it must be quoted, although it may get her into vast trouble with profers of such positions as corresponding secretary in all manner of Clubs. She has written 571 letters answering inquiries, and is only sorry that these were not more to answer.

Mrs. George H. Lang, chairman of Federation Pin, took the opportunity to correct a wrong impression that seems to prevail that the owning and wearing of the pin is the sole privilege of a presiding officer. Any member of a Federated Club is entitled to wear the pin. All she needs in the price—$5 for a gold pin, and $2 for a silver one. During the past year, $252 has been received for pins ordered by Club members, and in trying to fill such orders "promptly and accurately," Mrs. Lang stated the work had been most enjoyable, because of being brought in touch with so many clubs in such a happy way.

Mrs. Bert S. Currier, director of the 7th district, made a most happy combination of seriousness and humor in reporting the good works of the Clubs of her district, and her own viewpoints and personal experiences. "Always entertained and interested, she is often touched and sometimes deeply moved by glimpses into the minds and hearts of Club women. Facing as they are a bewildering change of living standards, called upon to make decisions regarding ethical values that their grandmothers never dreamed would be questioned, upholding spiritual ideals in a materialistic decade, they stand first in every good movement, helping, as Mrs. Sherman has truly said, to steady a rocking world."

Of the Home Club of East Boston, beginning its 53rd year, she said "it is proving to wear as well as did the silk dresses of those Victorian days. The caption over their list of charter members is "the debt immense of endless gratitude."

In the same delightful flavor of lavender as her artistic description: "It is in receipts that she receives inspiration as the kindly word and offer of friendly hand makes her realize the value of such an array of splendid women. Some are young and blooming with health and vigor, promising years of service; many are in the useful middle-age, the backbone of community work; occasionally a soft little hand is laid in ours, delicate as a roseleaf—these dear charter members and founders are not old, from them we get our keenest opinions and brightest anecdotes—cheerful and attractive elderly Club women."

Among good works she listed scholarships; one small study Club assisting a young man at trade school to be a "good" plumber; a Club of young business women has a lending fund, quietly helping cases of illness and unemployment; Americanization, hospitality, and like.

Turning to her own personal experiences she was equally entertaining. Lest it be thought that her travels as director were monotonous, she enumerated the excitements and adventures of covering her district—crossing the ocean, to Winthrop; twenty thousand leagues under the sea, to East Boston; journeyed over Paul Revere's route to Lexington in a bus built to carry 49, and containing 940 riotous school children; following directions to Watertown, she "stopped at the graveyard"; with the intrepid second vice-president at the wheel, she has successfully evaded traffic cops of Revere Boulevard; (horrible admission!) she has started for Revere City Hall, carefully parked her car at Chelsea City Hall, without knowing the difference, until she faced its locked doors, and still arrived at her correct destination triumphantly on time. All of which varied experiences, Club and personal, are the intriguing lot of all directors, but only a few have the ability to chronicle them with the appetizing

By L. D. G. BENTLEY

A request has been made by a former resident of this city that I strive, with the aid of this column, to do something to improve the souvenir postcard condition in Newton. Frankly, until this gracious lady spoke to me concerning the matter I had supposed that the situation was perfectly satisfactory. I thought it was right in assuming that we were able to buy all the first class postcards of the souvenir type that we desired and always find on sale a wide variety of photographic views from which to make our selection.

Her statements proved a revelation to me. My notion that colored cards or the reproduction of photographs set us off to great advantage as a municipality seems to have been completely upset. Personally I am not much on art or color work with printing ink, or any of those nifty pursuits. I take things much as I find, being helpless to do anything. This woman, who is both witty and resourceful, has strong convictions. Said she:

"I don't see why there are not some new cards with pictures of Newton on them. Goodness me, think of what I found! A picture of a street in Newton with a young woman sitting in an open buggy. What would they say in New York at that? They'd laugh and ask if Newton hadn't any automobiles and if we were still driving oxen."

"The scene was pretty enough but it represented things of at least a generation ago. I don't care for pictures of automobiles particularly but if they are willing to show a street in Newton they might have something to prove the city is up-to-date. I perhaps might send away this picture of the girl and the horse and buggy and write underneath, 'When you and I were young, Maggie.' But I really would like some souvenir postcards of modern Newton. Won't you do all you can?"

I promised I would help it whatever I could. As a matter of truth I don't know in just what way I can be of assistance unless I refrain from buying souvenir postcards made from photographs taken before the advent of the twentieth century.

Long ago somebody propounded the query, "What shall we do with our ex-Presidents?" Since then similar questions affecting other people and things have been raised. I have never heard the answer to any one of them. Still, I assume solutions have been obtained or at least decided upon and the decisions withheld or reserved.

Now I have one I should like to place before the community and that is, "What shall we do with our ex-flivvers?" When I say "ex" I mean those that have reached that stage of decrepitude which precludes further use in any form, shape or manner. And to flivvers I would add "and other automobiles."

The matter was called forcibly to my attention by a view of the North street dump where there is an accumulation of old cars, or parts of old cars. The people who haul or drag these worn-out vehicles to their final resting place expect that the wheels, frames, etc., will be allowed to rest.

The trouble is, I am told, that boys take a different view and make sport of dragging the wreckage here, there and everywhere. I can understand the attitude of mind of these youths who find diversion in mischief of this character. It may not be proper but it is a boyish prank so we can't say they should be severely punished.

However, the situation exists and maybe there is a way of correcting it. If there is it should surely be done. The danger of accidents and fire is always to be considered and these are not to be passed over lightly.

But the general problem remains. With more and more cars on the road everywhere and their inevitable destruction, through unexpected happenings or merely by the ravages of time, we shall soon have to establish larger dumping grounds. In fact I am wondering where it will reach. Soon there will be need of acres of vacant land devoted exclusively to this purpose. Or, maybe as a friend has suggested, these wrecks of cars will be placed on a scow and towed down Boston harbor and thrown into the ocean. Well, anyway, we will be glad to receive suggestions.

It was a surprise to me to find our own village of Newton Centre the butt of spicy humor in a French farce. Such is the case, however, and the attraction is now playing at one of the theatres in Boston. I said it was a French farce. That is not strictly true. The scene is laid in Paris and three of the characters have left their home in Newton Centre to come to the European center of gaiety.

The author has selected Newton Centre as an example of the staid community, the residents of which are descendants of the Puritans and possess many of the qualities for which their forefathers were noted. In short, if you come from Newton Centre, according to the dramatist's view, you are prudish and frown upon jazz, cocktails and cabarets. All through the play allusion is made to Newton Centre and whatever humor there may be in it is given ample repetition.

One of the biggest laughs of the piece is when a small statue of Venus is removed in anticipation of the arrival of an austere matron from Newton Centre. The figure is replaced by one of a Pilgrim Father. As the man orders the maid to remove the Venus he remarks, "We don't have those in Newton Centre."

I don't suppose that Newton Centre people will take offense at the playwright's work and I doubt if they enjoy the possible fame it may bring to the village. It is just one of those things that one may expect to find in modern shows that appeal to a certain class. The best of it is one isn't compelled to attend a performance.

It has more than once occurred to me that Newton might do well if it should establish a forum where citizens of all classes might assemble. Free and full discussions of important matters affecting the city's interests as well as those of the State and Nation is usually beneficial. Certainly it cannot be harmful if the forum is properly conducted.

When I read in the Graphic of the success of a forum conducted by young people in Waban I decided to put on paper some of the views I have long held regarding free speech in a community. The success of any forum is due largely to the choice of subjects presented. Something close at hand, affecting the individual or the group before whom the matter is laid, is worth while.

There is always the danger of propaganda when we wander far afield. All over the country there are those who jump at a chance to present to an audience their ideas of reform. Many are radical in their notion—and notions are about all they possess—but they employ the arts of oratory, along with their personal magnetism, and get a portion of the community all excited over something which is frivolous in the extreme.

We have examples, at least one notable example is a not far distant city, of the absurdity of a "one-way" forum. Speakers are invited to spread forth their so-called views, which are nothing but criticism of existing institutions. If the audience is made up of "advanced thinkers" they applaud what those of less active minds consider arrant nonsense. I am not in favor of that kind of forum.

The kind of forum which I believe would prove of value is that in which discussion could be held of matters of concern. If, for instance, somebody has an honest conviction that this, that or the other method in city government is wrong, let him say so with all the eloquence in his power. Then give the person or persons whom he has assailed opportunity to make reply.

After all, there is nothing like free speech as a safety-valve. Much depends, however, on the engineer. I mean by that the forum should be conducted by a body of representative citizens. They should determine by unanimous vote the topics to be taken up. In this way nothing could be "put over" our citizens by any one class. Instead, we would have a sort of town meeting arrangement where everybody would have an equal chance to relieve his mind or as the phrase goes, "get his worries off his chest."

If Newton is to try to stop book-borrowers from its free library from mutilating or stealing volumes," writes "Mrs. G. H. W." "I think it might include among the offenders those who make dog's-ear pages and do other things. I had a book from the library the other day which reeked with tobacco smoke. There was a good deal about politics in it, although it was fiction, and I judged at once that it had been read by a man. In fact, so strong was the odor of the more or less fragrant weed that several men must have devoured the contents of the book."

"Other books that I have taken out showed that the readers, or some of them, had been eating candy with their reading. Unmistakable evidence of chocolate confetti still remained on the pages. That is, I suppose, a personal matter. Some people are neater in their habits than others. How are we going to change that? Haven't you some suggestions?"

The above letter interests no little. I wish I could offer a solution of the problem. The only thing that occurs to me at this time is that we set apart, by order of the Mayor, a "Be Kind to Books Week" and see what happens.

DISPUTE OVER LOT LINES

Mrs. Adelaide Hews of 32 Richardson street, Newton, on Monday filed a bill in equity in the Middlesex Superior Court at Cambridge to enjoin Thomas Cahill and Anthony Troiani, owners of adjoining properties, to remove fences which they had erected on what she claims is her property. The bill states that a wooden fence which marked the eastern boundary of her land for 30 years was taken down on May 5 by her husband and another fence erected on the same line by him. She states that Troiani removed the new fence and erected another fence further over the line on her property. Soon after, according to her Cahill built a wire fence 10 feet over on her property. Both these fences were erected against her objections and leave her with a narrow approach to the street. She asks that the defendants be compelled to remove their fences, that the land enclosed by the former fence be returned to her, and that damages be awarded.

HONOR LIST

The following Newton boys were on the honor list at the Country Day school for the term just closed:

PASSED THE TEST

As a result of the two weeks' Life Saving Campaign held by the Red Cross at the Y. M. C. A. pool at Newton the following men passed the Examiner's Test: Mr. N. B. Stoney, Mr. A. McCarthy, Mr. V. A. Anderson, Mr. F. M. Simmons and Mr. R. E. Miller had their Examiner's rating renewed. Sixteen men passed the Senior Test and thirty-six qualified sufficiently so that many, or most, of them will pass the Senior Test later in the season.

In spite of the cold which seemed to handicap the work, the campaign was a distinct benefit to the community and showed the interest felt in this sort of work. Mr. Britton F. Boughner, who was the instructor last summer for the Red Cross at the Crystal Lake and Auburndale, was the instructor for the course.

WEST NEWTON GIRL ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Johnson Burge of West Newton announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Marion Eveleen Burge to Mr. Harry Edgar Moore of Boston. The announcement was made on Wednesday, May 16, to a group of Miss Burge's more intimate friends at a luncheon followed by bridge at the Brae Burn Country Club.

Miss Burge for the past few years has been active in musical circles of Newton and is a graduate of the Longy School of Music. Mr. Moore is well known to the insurance fraternity of Boston and New England; prominent in numerous civic and social organizations and an active member of the Apollo Club of Boston. The wedding is planned for the early Fall.

Pension Bill Passed

By Legislature and Sent To Gov. Fuller

The contributory pension bill presented by the City of Newton to the Legislature was passed upon favorably last week by both branches of that body and sent to Gov. Fuller for his signature. The creation of this contribution system in Newton can be attributed to ex-alderman Benjamin S. Hinckley of Park street, Newton, who gave freely of his time and money to collect the necessary data in connection with this matter. In the course of his duties as an alderman Mr. Hinckley observed that while some classes of employees of this city enjoyed pensions, other classes equally deserving received no assistance when old age, or disability forced them to cease work. He also feared that the constantly increasing cost of conducting the affairs of the city might result at some future date in a retrenchment which would necessitate the abolishment of the present non-contributory pension systems.

Accordingly he devised a system, with the assistance of some of his colleagues on the Board which provided for contributory pensions for all classes of city employees in Newton. Present employees, if they so elect, can continue under the existing non-contributory systems but all persons entering the employ of Newton in the future must participate in the new system. Mr. Hinckley has been deeply interested in seeing this system enacted into law and its acceptance by the Legislature crowns his efforts of the past two years.

ROTARY CLUB

Mr. William F. Garcelon was the guest and speaker at the weekly luncheon of the Newton Rotary Club held as usual at the Woodland Golf club. Mr. Garcelon touched a number of subjects in this brief talk, ranging from golf to politics, apartment houses, the extraordinary growth of Newton and the imperative necessity for a financial policy which would look to at least ten years in the future. Mr. Garcelon expressed his regret that the unification of the men of the city under the old Newton club had declined so that with a population of over 50,000 there is no one organization in which public opinion could be obtained and expressed. Mr. Garcelon stressed the value of such clubs as Rotary and Kiwanis and wished their influence could be extended.

Next Monday the Club will have members of Charles Ward Post, G. A. Re, as their guests.

Tuesday evening the Club was host to an interclub meeting in which Rotary clubs from Waltham, Watertown, Belmont and Wellesley participated.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

The new officers of the Women's Auxiliary of the Master Plumbers Association of Newton were installed at an enjoyable meeting held last Friday night at the Nashoba Tavern, East Acton.

The installation exercises followed an sumptuous banquet. These officers were installed: Mrs. Joseph B. Davis, president; Mrs. Harry McGourty, vice-president; Mrs. John J. Burke, recording secretary; Mrs. George Kerr, financial secretary; Mrs. John Ryan, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Warren, auditor.

An entertainment then followed, consisting of piano solos by Mrs. Fred Perkins; a recitation by Mrs. John J. Burke; a character sketch by Mr. Fred Perkins, and a reading by Mrs. Landers. Dancing followed.

HONOR LIST

The following Newton boys were on the honor list at the Country Day school for the term just closed:

MR. PETERSON BURIED

Funeral services for Mr. Charles H. Peterson, were conducted Saturday in the Newton Methodist Church by the pastor, Rev. J. West Thompson.

Fraternity Lodge of Masons and the Reciprocity Club of Boston were represented by delegations and many business houses in various parts of the country sent representatives. John Whitmore of Newtonville represented a Cincinnati manufacturer; Frank Duncan represented Hallahan & Co. of Philadelphia. Frank Fowler represented Dodge Brothers of Newburyport and Sidney Currier, owner of the firm of Ordway & Clarke, attended.

Six members of the official board of the Newton Methodist Church served as pallbearers. They were Samuel Leonard, Frederic B. Fuller, Frank O. Barber, George W. Barber, Henry Urquhart and John Lang. The church quartet sang "Lead, Kindly Light," and "Hark, Hark, My Soul."

Burial was in the Mayflower Cemetery at Duxbury.

DEATH OF MR. WRIGHT

Mr. Charles H. Wright a resident of Woodward street, Waban, died last Sunday at the Phillips House, Boston. He was born in Marion, O., and after his early schooling went to work for the American Express Company. For the past 10 years he has been employed by the First National Bank as an assistant cashier in the foreign department. He leaves a widow, two daughters, Alice and Helen, and a son, Joseph.

Funeral services were held at his late home on Tuesday morning and the burial was in Cincinnati, Ohio.

WANT WEEKS TO RUN FOR SENATE

The Boston Review in its last issue states that former service men are actively at work to draft Col. Sinclair Weeks of West Newton as the Republican candidate for United States Senator this fall. The article states that: "Capt. Weeks is easily one of the most popular Legion men in this State. He has been a factor in every big undertaking of the ex-service men in this Commonwealth, and in addition he has been prominent in the Republican party ever since he reached the voting age. He is treasurer of the Republican Club of Massachusetts, and for years has been an active executive in one of Boston's largest banking institutions, as well as a successful business man with large industrial plants in Boston and Taunton."

The young man's father was for years one of the real pillars of the Republican party. He was in the class with Henry Cabot Lodge, Murray Crane and leaders of that type. His name alone would get him thousands of votes, and the fact that he is a son of the late John W. Weeks would give him entree which any political aspirant would envy.

If the ex-service men can draft Capt. Weeks they will have as a leader a man of men, one who can and will command the respect and confidence of every Republican in the Commonwealth who has at heart the interest of his party.

MORE DOG BITES

The long period of restraint which Newton dogs suffered recently does not prevent certain "rough neck" canines from continuing to commit assault and battery on peaceful humans. Two more victims of disorderly dogs were reported to the police last Friday. David Grodsky of Marble street, Chelsea, reported that he had been attacked by a dog owned by Joseph Goodwin of 119 Ward street, Newton Centre. Dr. Bouteille was notified to inspect this animal. James Molley of 251 Lexington street, Auburndale, reported that he had been bitten by a dog at the West Newton railroad station. This dog made a get-away after committing mayhem on Molley. If the canine pets of Newton and other places persist in biting people a law may have to be passed compelling owners of dogs to have the teeth of the animals extracted. The dogs then would have to eat hamburger steak, hash or mush.

NEWTON CENTRE GARDEN CLUB

An exhibition of tulips from the gardens of Club members is to be held in the Library Hall on Monday, May 21st from 1 to 8 p. m.

It is open to the public and it is hoped that many friends will show their interest in this latest Newton Centre Club by dropping in to the Hall during the afternoon or early evening.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES ON

Mr. Edward Everett Bird, for fifty years a resident of Newton Highlands, died Wednesday at his home on Chester street in that village after an illness of several months. Mr. Bird was born in Dorchester and was 67 years of age. For many years he has been engaged in the leather business in Boston.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gertrude A. Bird, and a daughter, Mrs. Louise Bird Thoma, of West Newton. Funeral services are being held this afternoon.

DEATH OF MR. BANKS

Mr. William F. Banks, a resident of this city for over forty years, died suddenly on Wednesday morning at his home on Park street, Newton. Mr. Banks was a native of Kent, England, where he was born in 1859. For nearly 40 years he has been the verger at Grace Church, Newton.

He was a widower and is survived by one son and four daughters, Mr. William F. Banks of South Easton, Mass., Miss Lillian Banks of Newton, Mrs. Louise Thwing of Belgrade Lakes, Me., Mrs. Mabel Barnes of Cohasset, Mass., and Mrs. Edith B. James of Jamaica Plain, Mass. There are also six grandchildren.

Funeral services are being held this afternoon at Grace Church, the rector, Rev. Dr. Laurens MacLure, officiating.

DEATH OF MR. KELLY

The funeral services for the late George Reed Kelly, who died last week, Tuesday, at his home on Lake avenue, following an illness of several months, was held Saturday afternoon. Rev. Dr. E. M. Noyes, pastor of the First church officiated and the remains were cremated at Forest Hills.

Mr. Kelly was born in Haverhill, June 30, 1859, the son of Ezra and Samantha Reed Kelly. Soon after graduation from Harvard College in 1880, he became identified with the window glass industry as a jobber. In more recent years he had been the New England representative of the American Window Glass Company, with offices in Boston. He is survived by his widow, who was Margaret A. Kelly of England.

Mrs. Fannie F. Johnson, wife of Seth L. Johnson, died on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Stevens of 3 Robbins place, Waltham. Her funeral was held Wednesday afternoon from the home of her other daughter, Mrs. Fred Estabrook, 408 Crescent street, Waltham. Mrs. Johnson was born 63

Of the forty-four men who enrolled in the Life Saving Campaign conducted by the Newton Chapter of the Red Cross in the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming pool from April 30th to May 12th, sixteen passed the test for Senior Life Saver, three who had already passed the Life Savers' test were made Examiners, and two Examiners passed the test for renewal. The class met for ten periods, six for instruction and demonstration and the last four for tests. Mr. Britt Boughner, a Special Examiner in the Red Cross gave the instruction and tests.

Two hundred boys from the schools of Newton, Watertown and Waltham have enrolled in the Free Swimming Campaign being conducted in the Newton Y. M. C. A. pool this week. The classes which meet each day this week are instructed by Mr. Jack Manning of the Massachusetts Hume Society, a former crew coach at Harvard College. Six classes have been organized with an average of about thirty boys to a class meeting for a half hour each from three to six o'clock every afternoon. On the first day of instruction one hundred and seventy-four of those who had enrolled were present.

The Quincy Y. M. C. A. bowling team played a match on the Newton "Y" alleys Saturday evening. The honors were divided, each team winning two points. Tomorrow night two teams will roll the Hunnewell Club first and second teams on the Hunnewell alleys.

EXCITING CHASE AT WEST NEWTON

At 1 a. m. last Friday Patrolmen Condrin and Dargan observed an automobile being driven in a haphazard manner through Newtonville square. Entering another car they gave chase down Walnut street and along Craft street to the Waltham line at High street firing their revolvers several times without causing the driver of the pursued car to stop. Near the Waltham line the driver of the chased car turned down a side street doubled back onto Craft street and thence speeded down Waltham street to Washington street at West Newton. There it hit a curbing and stopped. The driver leaped out and ran along Chestnut street to the B. & A. bridge, where as the officers drew near him, he climbed over the rail of the bridge and dropped to the tracks over 20 feet below. The policemen hastened down to the tracks expecting to find the fugitive seriously injured because of the fall onto the hard rails. To their surprise he was uninjured although considerably shaken up by the drop.

He proved to be James F. Lowney, 23, of 211 Mount Auburn street, Cambridge. He will be tried in the Newton court today charged with drunkenness and with driving while under the influence of liquor.

LITERARY LIVES NEWLY TOLD

Many of the world's greatest authors have been such picturesque individuals that it is not surprising to find their biographies more interesting than a large per cent of novels. Modern biographers, "knowing a good thing when they see it," have seized upon material available concerning literary people and have produced some extremely interesting books.

George Sand, with her insouciant attitude and eternal cigarette furnishes the interest in two new volumes, "The Seven Strings of the Lyre," by Schermerhorn, and "George Sand, the Search for Love," by Howe. Lewis Browne, in "That Man Heine," attempts to explain the freaks and foibles of the famous and eccentric German poet; while Peck, in a scholarly two volume work, views "Mad Shelley" and his brief tempestuous life.

Now are new biographies of American authors lacking. Such unique characters as Poe and Whitman naturally attract chroniclers. Poe has received all attention in Hervey Allen's "Israfil, the Life and Times of Edgar Allan Poe," while there are several works on Whitman, such as "The Magnificent Idler, the Story of Walt Whitman," by Rogers; "Walt," by Burnett, and "Whitman, an Interpretation in Narrative," by Hollaway.

Other recent books of interest are: "The Father of Little Women," by Willkie; "The Rebellious Puritan; a Portrait of Hawthorne," by Morris; "Hawthorne, a Study in Solitude," by Gorman, and "The Bronte Sisters," by Dimnet.

These books and similar ones may be obtained at the Newton Free Library.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES WATERTOWN MASS

Mrs. Paul A. Peters thrilled with the statement that over 200 of the 377 Federated Clubs had helped her committee—Co-operation with War Veterans—this year. This means that a great deal of valuable practical aid and inspiration has been given. Over $1,200 in cash has been given by Clubs to this work, and this is but a tithe, for there have been the visits to hospitals, the entertainments, and cheer of conversation, the aid of families, and the supplying of necessities. She asks that all remember to buy goods at the Disabled Veterans Store, to consult the Legion and Red Cross Chapters to see if there are families of the boys that need assistance. "Remember it is not a charity but a sacred privilege," were her closing words.

In the Literature field, Mrs. Harlan T. Stetson reported 192 such chairmen, and 141 drama chairmen; for study courses, three distinct demands: books for review and exchange; definite study courses, and a general survey of literature in several fields. Classified books lists, a study of the Bible as Literature, a study course in Modern Poetry, a course in critical analysis of books, a list of summer fiction, and finally a list of plays, successfully tried out by Clubs, one, two, and the more pretentious three-act royalty and non-royalty, are a few of the splendid leaflets that this thorough committee can supply to all Clubs having worked them out for their special needs.

Continuance of this report for the remainder of the Convention will be found in this Column next week.

Enthusiastic Rivalry Between the Teams Brings The Total to Over $50,000

Figures given last night in the campaign for the $100,000 needed by the Newton Y. M. C. A. show that over half the desired amount has already been pledged, the total being $53,229. The five leading teams for the day were those of Capt. Bacon $2594, Trask $2194, Alvord $1925, Henry $1792, and Perry $1755.

The first report dinner of the campaign held on Monday evening was largely attended by the enthusiastic workers who are backing the Fiftieth Anniversary Campaign.

After the dinner, General Chairman W. H. Rice called upon the Majors and Captains to make their first reports. Enthusiasm mounted higher and higher as the reports were received and tabulated, the final results being $23,937 for the first day.

Tuesday evening the total was brought up to $32,774. The teams are meeting every evening at the Association building at six o'clock. The last meeting will be a victory dinner on Monday, May 28th, when it is hoped the final amount will be raised.

Team 1, with F. L. Trask, Captain, carried off the honors for the highest team total for the first two days which amounted to $1,192. Team 3, with F. S. Bacon Captain, was second, with $1,190. Team 5, with R. C. Henry Captain was third with $1,119. Team 4, with E. J. Perry Captain, was 4th, with $1,094. Other teams made good records and are sure to receive honors before the campaign is over.

LEGION SHOW A SUCCESS

Despite the rainy weather of Sunday night, a good sized audience attended the entertainment conducted by Newton Post, American Legion, at Norumbega Park, for the benefit of its welfare and charity funds. In addition to moving pictures a vaudeville program was given, featured by Emmet O'Brien and the orchestra of Cecil Foggy Post, A. L., of Hyde Park. The advance sale of tickets assured the financial success of the affair.

WABAN FAMILY OVERCOME

Monday night William Duncan of Kelvedon road, Waban, his wife, his son, and Theodore Rousseau, a relative, all were seized with fainting spells. Duncan became ill after retiring and shortly afterwards he and his wife became unconscious. Their son then fainted and Rousseau, after telephoning for assistance to Dr. George May, became unconscious. When Dr. May arrived and found the condition of the four people, he phoned the police. Dr. Duncan attributed the illness of his family to some meat which had been eaten at supper on that evening, but one of the attending physicians believed that hysteria might have caused the fainting spells.

AUTO HITS WOMAN

Mrs. Della Garvey of Grant avenue, Newton Centre, was hit by a car at Commonwealth avenue and Lake street on Wednesday night. She received multiple injuries and was taken to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. The car which struck her was driven by William Haney of Francis street, Brookline.

Child Health Program Observed in Schools

Pupils of the Underwood School
For Monday

Elaborate preparations have been in progress for some weeks in the Underwood school to prevent an out-door Maytime Health Pageant on Farlow Park. It was intended to give the pageant on Tuesday afternoon and when that proved rainy it was postponed until Wednesday afternoon and as the weather man continued unkink, another postponement was made until Monday evening.

The pageant presents the May Queen with her retinue of pages, attendants, heralds and flag bearers and when she is seated, a garden is made for her by children representing the different flowers in the garden, each group giving its own song and dance as it takes place in the garden. The queen then receives visitors from Health land, with the Health Fairy and King Milk as leaders. These groups also give their little dances as they are presented to the queen. Then comes Robin Hood and his merry men followed by more than 50 children from Underergarten in a parade with decorated doll carriages, wagons and tricycles. This is followed by folk dancing and three maypole dances. Columbia then honors the queen with a visit and the entire school give the salute to the flag and sing "America the Beautiful."

Mrs. Kuntz will then award posture pins to one boy and one girl from each room from Grade 3 up and Miss Bragg will present health banners to over 400 of the children. The pageant will close with the Underwood School health pledge.

The children will march from the school to the park with Billy O'Hara, drummer and Lincoln Adams, bugler. They will escort the May Queen, Emily Young, with her flower girls, Lillian O'Hara and Margaret Lambie; her pages, Burton Thorquist, Edward Kasebian, Bobby West, and Teddy Emerson; her attendants, Jean Patterson, Phyllis Eaton, Harriet Conel, Helen Ford, Jane Dennison, Barbara Beebe, Katherine Durkee, Lorraine Jones, Zoe Church, Harriet Ramsey, Barbara Watkins, Florence Farnsworth; heralds, Bruce Cummings, Roger Cottrell, Jones Jackson and Herbert Jackson; and numerous flag bearers.

The garden for the Queen will be built under the direction of Betty Lloyd as the Springtime fairy with Betty Tohey as Sunshine, Thelma Cutler as Fresh Air, and with groups of children representing violets, dandelions, daisies, buttercups, tulips, daffodils, roses, grasses, raindrops, bluebirds, bees, butterflies, and gardeners and birds.

The visitors from Health land representing milk bottles, vegetables, fruit, water, bath, teeth, sleep and outdoor play will be led by Barbara Hansen as the Health Fairy and Arnold Magazine as King Milk. There will be

Every child of the more than five hundred attending the Underwood school will take part in the pageant which is under the direction of Miss Mary Higgins and the other teachers in the school.

In case of rain the pageant will be given the next fair day with the exception that the Concert will be given as stated and the Cabaret dance will be given in Bray Hall, Newton Centre, instead of on the Stimpson estate.

Memorial Day Program Of Charles Ward Post

Newton Veterans of the Civil War
Still Active in Honoring Their Dead

Charles Ward Post, 62, G. A. R., will observe Memorial Day next Wednesday, in the usual manner. Mayor Edwin O. Childs will serve, as he has served for the past 13 years, as Chief Marshal, and he will be assisted by Past Commander of Newton Post, A. L. Julius B. Ramm as adjutant general, and by Past Commander Charles Ward Post, Wilfred A. Wetherbee as chief of staff.

Details of Post members will decorate the graves of their departed comrades in the Newton Cemetery, Evergreen Cemetery and St. Mary's Cemetery in the morning, with the usual special services in St. Mary's church yard, Lower Falls, and on the banks of the Charles River.

Luncheon will be served at the Newton Centre Woman's Club House by the Newton Centre Improvement Association and afterwards the usual parade to the Newton Cemetery will take place.

The line of march will be as follows:

Detail of Police
Chief Marshal

Many Protests Against Location For New Fire Station at Newton

Owners of Poverty Block Object to Taking of Their Property
For Such Purpose

The Newton Board of Aldermen at its meeting Monday night held a hearing on the matter of taking land on the northwesterly side of Washington street and southeasterly side of Thornton street at Newton, as the site for a new building to house Engine 1 and Ladder 3 of the Newton Fire Department. These two pieces of apparatus are located now in the old fire station on Washington street, below Nonantum Square. This location is a poor one for a fire station. Most of the alarms answered by Engine 1 necessitate its going through the heavy traffic at Nonantum Square and while the apparatus has never been in an accident there, it is apt at sometime to be delayed because of possible congestion at this busy spot. The present fire station is much too small to afford decent accommodations for the firemen quartered in it.

For a score of years there has been a demand for a new fire station at Newton Corner. Until the past few years it was commonly understood that the lot of land owned by the city on Washington street, opposite Channing street, would be used for this purpose. For the past few years there has been a certain amount of agitation for the taking of the long wooden structure on Washington street for this purpose. The block has not for many years been kept in proper state of repair, and it has become unsightly. It has been owned, and is owned by six different parties. Some of these have been demanding such exorbitant prices for their section of the block that the sale of it for business purposes has been prevented. Many persons have reached the conclusion that the only way to bring about the removal of the building would be for the city to take it. Apparently the special committee of the aldermen appointed to consider the matter of the new fire alarm signal system and a new fire station at Newton Corner are inclined this way; hence the hearing Monday night.

The block is located on a parcel of land which has a frontage of 158 feet on Washington street and about 90 feet on Thornton street, containing 14,658 square feet. At the rear of the property is an alley about 12 feet wide containing 1,657 square feet. This alley is right of way. The owners of the tenements in the block have, within the past two years, been offered prices very much higher than the assessed values of their property. Some of them were disposed to sell at the high figures offered but a couple asked unreasonable prices. As the bid began promptly at 2 o'clock.

After the concert there will be a cabaret dance on the Stimpson estate with music by Bert Lowe's orchestra. The cabaret numbers will be originated and directed by Mr. Charles Capron. Mrs. Roger Hall is chairman and Mrs. Worthington L. West is president of the Junior Mothers' Rest Club which is in charge of this event. Other features include Books and Phonograph records, Mrs. Everett C. Winslow; Candy, Mrs. Gifford Le Clear; Donation table, Mrs. George A. Remick; Drinks and Smokes, Mrs. John E. Whittlesey; Flowers, Mrs. Walter H. Jenney; Grabs, Mrs. J. Edward Patterson; Gate Chairman, Mrs. Hartley Rowe; Home Cooked Food, Mrs. Earl G. Manning; Household, Mrs. Joseph W. Briggs; Ice Cream, Mrs. Reginald Bankart; Membership Booth, Mrs. W. H. Raye; Transportation, Mrs. T. J. Booth; Mrs. Elmer Davis will be the fortune teller. The question before the aldermen regarding the location for the new fire station is well defined. The city owns the property extending from 334 Washington street, the location of the police station, to the Centre Place (or Centre avenue) bridge, a distance of 156 feet. This lot varies from 73 to 84 feet in depth and contains 12,200 square feet of land. The police station is used merely to hold prisoners arrested in and around Nonantum Square until the patrol wagon arrives from West Newton, a matter of a few minutes. Other prisoners arrested near more distant boxes are held at such boxes until the wagon arrives.

FULTON'S STEAMBOAT

Robert Fulton with the aid of his friend Washington, built the first steamboat in America. His enterprise was greeted by jeers when his first attempt to start the craft failed. He never gave up, however, by making a trip from New York to Albany and back in 72 hours. From that time on, steam navigation forged ahead and the U.S. became a power in merchant marine.

THE WEEK IN NEWTON SPORTS

R. I. NINE OUT TO STOP NEWTON

Newton High has had poor luck in trying to stage its game with Everett this week. The stretch of wet weather spoiled all chance of playing the game originally scheduled for Wednesday afternoon at Everett. It was postponed until yesterday and the rain yesterday caused a further postponement. No definite date has yet been set and it is rather doubtful if it will be played next week as open dates for both teams at this time of the year are few and far between. Coach Sullivan's team is enjoying a well-earned rest these days and keeping in shape by light workouts in the gymnasium in preparation for the game with Pawtucket High of Rhode Island tomorrow—provided the weather man decides to turn off the sprinkler system.

While little is known hereabouts of the team from Little Rhody or the Redjackets as they are called we have gleaned the information that follows. Pawtucket stands fourth in the Rhode Island Interscholastic league comprised of the leading nine in Massachusetts' neighbor state. Despite the fact that they are fourth they would probably be playing a much better rating but for the fact that they have lived up to their name as "Redjackets" by blowing up like firecrackers. Not including this week's games, two of which were scheduled, they have won three out of seven contests, their victories being at the expense of West Warwick, Commercial High of Providence and Classical High of Providence. Their best game was turned in against the fast Hope High nine which they had tucked away in the tenth only to lose out under a rally which beat them 4 to 7.

A lad named Ivy Fletcher is the first string pitcher for Pawtucket and if he is as good a pitcher as Newton's Alie Fletcher is a second baseman. He is some pitcher. Several sport writers in Rhode Island hail the Pawtucket Fletcher as the best pitcher the school has had in five years. He was slated to oppose two league teams this week on Tuesday and today but the rain may permit Coach Jack Reed, a fellow-alumnus of Coach Sullivan, both having graduated from Rhode Island State college, to use him against Newton tomorrow. If Fletcher does not toe the mound the visiting team will have "Babe" Sutcliffe in there throwing his shots at the hard-hitting outfit the Newton mentor has wielded together. By a curious coincidence Newton has a Sutcliffe on the first squad in the person of Bill Sutcliffe, substitute outfielder.

If Fletcher pitches for Pawtucket it will be interesting to see what kind of treatment Alie Fletcher, Newton's leading batter, will give his slants. Sutcliffe, the more likely of the two to take the mound held the Rhode Island State College freshman team to five hits in a recent game. He has a fast ball that he can use to advantage when right.

The Pawtucket team has several good hitters in its lineup among them Fred Murphy, left fielder, who boasts the highest batting average in the R. I. interscholastic league with a mark of .444. "Red" McCabe, catcher, Leo Barsamian, centrefielder, Captain Danny Kenough, shortstop and leadoff man, all are said to be dangerous men at the bat. Fletcher, the pitcher, plays right field when not in the box and he too is a hitter of note. Jack O'Halloran at first base, with his height and weight make a great target for the fielders to throw at but when the Pawtucket team sees Captain Spencer deMille of the Newton team for the first time they are apt to think of the Custom House tower.

Cochs Sullivan of Newton will probably send Don Wilson to the mound and have Reilly or Coombs for the Brookline game next Wednesday. Wilson has won three games this year with Lawrence, Everett, and Rindge as his victims and with the rest that he has had he should be in fine fettle for his fourth win tomorrow. All in all it should be a good game with Newton having its chance of stretching its string of victories to an even dozen or Pawtucket having the honor of upsetting the orange and black for the first time this season.

SPORT NOTES

Lawless Second To Weston

John Lawless, West Newton youth and leftfielder of the Boston University baseball team, has the second highest batting average of any Eastern college player that has participated in seven or more games this season. In the list of averages including games of last week Thursday, Lawless had an average of just .500 but in Saturday's game with Clark University he went hitless and was at bat three times bringing his average down to .444. Inasmuch as Tufts was rained out of its game with the Mass. Aggies Fitzgerald, the third batter in the list, with .435 did not alter his mark. The only batter above Lawless is Al Weston whose mark of .528 is far and way ahead of the pack for games up to last Saturday. The game with Clark was the Pioneers' final contest of the season so Lawless will not have further opportunity to increase his percentage. Carleton McCullough, Newton Centre youth, who has been playing centre field for the Terriers was in the .390 class until ten days ago. Holmes Whitmore, a third local product, on the B. U. squad, has not played in seven games but has played well when he has had his chance.

Whitmore Chalks Up Second Win

Tuesday afternoon Coach Mitchell of the Harvard nine started Howard Whitmore, former Newton high ace, in the box against the Kielo University of Japan and he turned in his second consecutive victory allowing but five hits. He passed two and fanned five. The Japanese played a strong game in the field and Harvard had a stiff fight to win 4 to 3.

TWI-LEAGUE TO START NEXT WEEK

The City of Newton Twilight league race will get under way next week with four games scheduled. Monday evening the Newton Highlands team will play the West Newton Town Team on the Highlands playground. Tuesday night the West Newton Town Team and the West Newton A. C. will cross bats at the West Newton Common with the former team as the home club. Thursday night the West Newton A. C. will play its second game of the week with the 1927 championship Upper Falls outfit as the visitors to the West Newton Common. Friday night the Upper Falls team will entertain the Highlands outfit at the Upper Falls playground in another of those exciting games which marked the close of last year's race for the Graphic cup. The Upper Falls team is out to repeat this year and the other teams are determined to prevent them and win the honors themselves.

A meeting of the league was held Tuesday night at the Newton Centre Playground house with President Wm. T. Halliday in the chair. John Lane, playground supervisor, succeeds Rufus Bond as secretary-treasurer. The next meeting of the league will be held a week from tonight (June 1st) at the same place when it is expected that several other teams will join in.

Any team desiring to enter the league should communicate with Mr. Lane.

YOUNG PEOPLE'S FORUM

The Officers and Executive Committee of the Young People's Forum of Waban held a reception at the home of Mr. Rufus P. Cushman, Chairman of the Board of Counselors, for Mrs. Carl H. Gove, who has just retired from her position as vice-chairman of the Board, last Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Gove were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cushman for dinner and after dinner Mrs. Gove entered the living room to find the officers and several of the older members of the Forum awaiting her. Mr. Dunbar Holmes, President of the Forum, presented Mrs. Gove with a set of Eugene O'Neill's three latest books as a memento of her four years of service on the Forum Council. After the presentation games were played by two teams under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Gove, Mr. Gove's team winning and the evening ended with refreshments. This party was an entire surprise to Mrs. Gove who knew nothing at all about it beforehand.

The Rev. Joseph C. MacDonald conducted a "Question Box" at the last regular meeting of the Forum on Sunday evening. The "Question Box" type of meeting, which was an innovation this year, has been very popular among the young people. Questions on any topic are handled in on the night of the preceding meeting and then Mr. MacDonald discusses each one and gives the various important points about them.

Among the questions which Mr. MacDonald answered Sunday were the following: How can young people influence men and women to go to the polls and vote? What good does it do to criticize the "younger generation"? How would you treat a person who refused to believe in any form of religion? Have we more or less reason to believe in immortality now than in Jesus' time? How far can socialism be carried in Christianity? How shall we choose our college? What is the danger in a Roman Catholic president? Compare the results and future of our democracy and the limited monarchy of Great Britain? How would you like a limited monarchy instead of our democracy which has been and always will be a paradise for politicians?

After the regular "Question Box" Mr. MacDonald asked the Forum several questions concerning our relations with people of other religious creeds such as Catholics, Jews, Christians, Schistists, Mohammedans, Buddhists, Mormons and Atheists. Among them were the following: Which of these would you vote for as President of the United States? Which of these would you approve of as a public day school teacher for your children? Which would you admit to the United States as a citizen? Which would you have as a guardian of your child?

The final meeting of the Forum will be next Sunday at 6:00 p.m. Members are to bring a picnic supper and transportation will be provided to a nearby picnic-ground where there will be games and a "camp-fire" talk. The exact place and time to be a surprise. This meeting is under the direction of Miss Mary Stephen, Chairman of the Program Committee.

SONS OF VETERANS

Camp 31, Sons of Union Veterans of Civil War, invited eligibles to be present with us on May 27, Memorial Sunday, at Newton Centre Baptist Church at 10:15 a.m., also on Memorial Day to meet us at Newton Cemetery at 8 a.m. to assist the Grand Army in decorating graves and to be in the Parade at 1 p.m.

J. H. WENTWORTH, Commander.
L. T. PUTNAM,
Secretary.

NEAR EAST RELIEF

During the remainder of May and the first two weeks in June the Near East Relief is making its final appeal in Newton for funds to complete its work.

The Newton quota has been set at $28,908, and of this amount a little over $6,000 has already been given. This quota represents Newton's share in the amount needed to bring every orphan to full self-support. According to Albert Scott, Massachusetts Director of the organization, as soon as this amount is secured, Near East Relief appeals in the Newtons will stop. The work overseas will continue until every orphan is ready for self-support.

The Newton appeal will be held simultaneously with similar efforts in all parts of Greater Boston for which a total quota of $200,000 has been assigned.

Hon. Augustus P. Loring, State Chairman, says "Near East Relief has accomplished more than anyone dreamed could be done. More than 1,000,000 lives have been saved from starvation and 132,552 children have been cared for over long periods of time in the orphanages. Thousands of families have been reunited throughout the Near East. By raising health standards, improving methods of education, and increasing agricultural production, America is making history where three continents meet."

Now the end is in sight. The quota has only 32,131 children in its care. It cannot abandon them.

Mr. Charles E. Riley is chairman and Mr. Frank L. Richardson, 805 Beacon street, Newton Centre, treasurer for Newton.

AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary of Newton Post 48 has been invited by Charles Ward Post No. 62, Department of Massachusetts G. A. R., to assist in the Memorial Day exercises.

To attend Sunday morning Memorial services May 27th, to be held at the First Baptist Church, Newton Centre, at 10:30 a.m. On Memorial Day the Auxiliary is invited to march with their Post. A. L. Newton, No. 48.

Report to the Adjutant General of the Parade, Past Commander Julius Ramm on the Green near the flag staff at Newton Centre promptly at 1 o'clock. At the conclusion of the services in Newton Cemetery the line of march will be to the Armory, West Newton, where the Memorial Day dinner will be served.

Auxiliary members are urged to march on this occasion which is history making, being the first time they have been honored by the G. A. R. Veterans to join in the Memorial Day Exercises. Telephone Mrs. C. G. Francis, President, N. N. 2474-W regarding uniforms to be worn.

STATE SOCIETY D. R.

The State Society Daughters of the Revolution enjoyed a program of talented Newton "artists" on Wednesday afternoon at the Hotel Vendome, with Sarah Hull Chapter of Newton acting as hostess. The business meeting, presided over by the State Regent, Mrs. Adelbert Fernald, opened with the singing of the national D. R. song "Our Task," followed by the salute to the flag. Most interesting reports of the business and social sessions of the recent national convention held at Old Point Comfort, Va., were given by Mrs. Gertrude Whitney, and Mrs. Adeline Fitz. Mrs. Daniel M. Goodridge, newly-elected regent of Sarah Hull Chapter, presented her first program for the State Society, introducing most graciously Clair Leonard, pianist, and Maurice Brown, baritone. Clair Leonard of Newton acted as accompanist, keeping in the background his own great ability as piano soloist, until later in the afternoon, when demands were made upon him—and acceded to—by the many Newton members who have enjoyed his concerts in the past. Mrs. Goodridge then introduced Mrs. Irving O. Palmer, paying tribute not only to her place in the hearts of Newton folk, but with a word for Mr. Palmer, whose work at Newton High has made him so beloved. Mrs. Palmer gave her delightful lecture "Braids and Bobs," reminiscing as only she can with the touch of sentiment, happy memory, pathos, humor, wit, and fine idealism that holds an audience and makes them friends forever.

Washington Elm Chapter held a Food Sale and proved the fame of members for delicious cooking by having "nary" an article left.

In the social hour coffee, fancy cakes, and pineapple frappe were served, with Mrs. Sidney Porter, Mrs. John G. Godding and Mrs. Warren F. Gregory presiding at the coffee urns.

EDITORIAL

The plan to take a part of the so-called "Poverty Block" at Newton, for a fire station is only a makeshift and ought not to be endorsed by the city government. If the entire block was taken for that purpose it might be worth considering even though the cost of the remaining portion of the block was excessive. Over 25 years ago we protested against the proposition to build a police station on the Armory lot and advised the building of a fire station on that lot and remodelling the present fire house for a police station. The progress of years has shown that that protest was justified. The present police station is rarely used either for police or other purposes. We still believe that the police station should be in Nonantum square and that the fire station should be in a location where the apparatus could easily and quickly get under way in responding to an alarm. Alderman Powers is justified in his position that the fire station should be erected on the Armory lot, rather than in the proposed location on part of "Poverty Block."

Prof. Munro is right in his belief that a 100% vote at elections would not be a panacea for our political ills and might even be worse than the present apparent apathy on the part of a large proportion of the electorate. This belief is based on the fact that the average voter is often an unintelligent voter and more voting by the indifferent would merely add to the dangerous amount of unintelligence now being exercised. Few voters are well enough informed about all the candidates on the ballot as to give an intelligent vote for each. The more popular offices or the more popular candidates are usually known by most of the voters but when it comes down to comparatively unknown offices, the chances for a hit or miss decision are very good. The real remedy is the adoption of the Short ballot, with the election of important officials and the appointment by elected officials of all of the minor officers.

We note that with the $5000 appropriated by the aldermen it is proposed to remove two departments from City Hall to the old church building next door and give other departments in the City Hall, much needed room. We presume this matter has had a sufficient consideration but we wonder if it would not have been better to review the aldermanic chamber and committee rooms into the church building and allowing the present crowded departments to use the room thus vacated in City Hall. The old church auditorium is still intact and could easily be made into an ample chamber for board meetings, while the rooms adjoining would give plenty of space for committee meetings. Incidentally we wonder where West Newton residents will vote at future elections if the present polling places are used for other purposes.

Gov. Fuller still has under consideration the bill enacted by the Legislature to provide retirement allowances for city employees based on annuity and pension contributions. The measure first went to the Governor last week and he had five days within which to sign or veto it. He desired further opportunity, however, and so he had the Senate recall the bill and later return it to him. He has now until next Tuesday to decide what his course will be. Meanwhile he is studying its provisions closely in order to learn exactly what its operation will mean to the taxpayers and all concerned.

Both branches of the Legislature did the unusual thing and overrode a veto of the Governor. In consequence the bill now becomes law notwithstanding his written disapproval. The bill provided that the city of Boston be permitted to pay to the widow of City Councillor John J. Heffernan of Brighton the balance of the year's salary he would have received had he lived. Mr. Heffernan was president of the Boston City Council when he died. He had been a member of the House of Representatives and was well liked and extremely popular. Representatives Hollis, Luitwieler, Saltonstall and Thompson voted to override the Governor. In the Senate, when the veto came up, Senator Simoneau was not recorded.

It may interest members of our city government and other close observers of municipal affairs to note that the Legislature has referred to the next annual session a bill on petition of the Mayor of Melrose to compensate members of the board of aldermen of that city for their services.

The joint convention of the Senate and House for the purpose of considering three proposed amendments to the State constitution did not attract a very large gallery of spectators. This means the public was not interested to any noticeable extent. As a matter of fact the proceedings were rather dull. Two of the proposed amendments were rejected and one was "agreed to" as legal form.

That which was agreed to must be similarly acted upon by the next Legislature and also ratified by the voters in 1930. It relates to the apportionment of Representative districts and provides for the division of towns of 12,000 inhabitants and places of Suffolk county on the same basis as other counties where the apportionment is made by county commissioners. Representatives Hollis, Luitwieler, Saltonstall and Thompson and Senator Simoneau voted for the amendment.

The convention then took up the proposed amendment to permit qualified voters who, by reason of physical disability are unable to vote in person, to vote by the absentee method. This was rejected by the convention. Representatives Hollis, Luitwieler and Saltonstall voted against the proposed amendment and Representative Thompson and Senator Simoneau were not recorded. The third amendment was that to provide for biennial sessions of the Legislature. It was rejected without debate. Representative Saltonstall voted for biennial sessions. Representatives Hollis and Luitwieler against them and Representative Thompson and Senator Simoneau were not recorded. Speaker John C. Hull of the House was recorded in favor of biennial sessions.

The objection that "the proximity of the railroad to a fire house on the city owned site will interfere with the reception of telephone calls," does not carry much weight. The Boston Consolidated Gas Company's office building is located just as near to the tracks and hundreds of calls are received there by telephone daily.

Despite the availability of the city owned site, it is quite probable that the other site will be seized by right of eminent domain because of the fact that the two parcels of land owned by the city—the lot on Washington street near Centre avenue, and the lot where the old fire station is located, can be sold for sums which ought to defray the cost of taking the site near Thornton street. Should, however, the special committee recommend the taking of but part of the site near Washington and Thornton streets, a vigorous protest will be entered by residents of Ward 1. If this site is taken, in addition to removing the old block, another needed improvement could be made—the widening of the corner of Washington and Thornton streets.

The House rejected a Senate order for an investigation by a joint special committee as to what changes may be advantageously made in the General Laws with a view to removing the necessity for the annual introduction into the General Court of certain special petitions and bills. Representatives Luitwieler, Saltonstall and Thompson voted for the order and Representative Hollis against.

The Senate has substituted for an adverse committee report a bill authorizing the County Commissioners of Middlesex county to provide adequate accommodations "for House of Correction and jail." The measure also provides for the establishment of a prison camp.

After having passed the House and one stormy session of the Senate the bill to impose an excise tax on automobiles and repeal the local tax was rejected by the Senate, by rollcall, 17 to 14. Senator Simoneau was not recorded.

Friends of the act of this year to impose a two-cent tax on gasoline feared that the passage of an excise tax on automobiles would arouse opposition to the gas tax and contribute to its defeat on the referendum at the State election next Fall.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

On Thursday evening, May 24, 1928, Miss Blanchie Olive Berry, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence T. Berry of 957 Washington street, Newtonville, gave a surprise dinner party to a group of her girl friends. This was the occasion of Miss Berry announcing her engagement to Mr. Norman Pierce Hall of West Roxbury. The color scheme and the table decorations were in rose-amber, and were arranged by Mr. A. W. Burgess of Kingston, Mass. There were individual corsages of sweet peas at each place which were miniatures of the old-fashioned bouquet which served as centerpiece.

Miss Berry received the degree of B.S. from Boston University. There she was prominent as leader of the Girls' Glee Club. She is now State Chemist, Department of Public Health, and Assistant Editor of the Nucleus, a publication of the American Chemical Society, of which she is a member.

Mr. Hall, who is the younger son of Mrs. Edwin M. Hall, formerly of Lexington, received the degree of B.B.A. from Boston University. Miss Berry is a member of Delta Delta Sorority, and Mr. Hall is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity. Both Miss Berry and Mr. Hall are members of Trinity Choir of Newton Centre. Mr. Hall trained at General Wood's Camp at Plattsburgh during the war. He is member of the firm of Sterling Engineering and Manufacturing Corporation of Hyde Park.

SCHOOL NOTES

FRANK A. DAY JUNIOR HIGH

Newton is striving for better health standards in schools and homes and is one of the leading cities in the health drive throughout the United States.

At the F. A. Day Junior High School, Child Health Day was observed in assembly on Wednesday morning. Miss Bragg opened the program by speaking of the work done in the Newton schools in bettering health conditions.

We were greatly impressed by her talk for it made one feel proud to be a pupil of the Newton schools.

The second part of the program was a play entitled "The Keeper of the Key." It was given under the direction of Miss Wilson, Miss Kennedy, Miss Hackett and Mr. Grue and was received most enthusiastically by the pupils.

When the curtain was drawn, it was followed by the crowning of Betty Shaw as Queen.

The lower grades entertained their guests with a play, stunts, a drill, a May Pole dance and closed by crowning Lorette Glaser, Queen. The halls and rooms were decorated by health posters made by the children.

The children wore tags marked P for posture, T for teeth, and W for weight. Many of the children carried white banners which indicated that they were the proud possessors of all three tags and that any physical defect had been corrected. A hand marked "gaining" indicated an improvement in weight although not yet up to normal. A tag marked E showed that the child was making an effort to improve his posture, weight or condition of his teeth.

An "Old Traveler" played by Philip Dolan came to the house of the keeper and inquired for the secret of health. "The Keeper" with the aid of his accomplices dramatized the health rules for the "Traveler" who had sought the secret all his life.

"King Milk," Chris McGrath, challenged "Count Coffee." Edward Tenney, to a duel in which the count was defeated.

"Play," George Robertson, proved his need with some athletic boys.

"The Sand Man," James McCarthy proved the necessity of ten hours of sleep with his ten "Sleepy-Ohs."

"Cleanliness," Barbara Hunting, with the aid of a chorus proved the necessity of water both inside and outside of the body. As a final proof to the "Old Traveler" of what these rules bring about "The Keeper" opened the chest and revealed the secret, a healthy, happy boy, Billy Porter, who promised health to all who obeyed the health rules.

From the number of tags signifying perfect weight, teeth, and posture worn by the students throughout the day it is evident that many pupils of the F. A. Day have found the secret of health.

Hyde School

On Thursday, May 17, Health Day was celebrated by the Hyde School. The program, to which each of the grades and the kindergarten contributed, demonstrated, through the medium of health songs, folk dances, group exercises, stunts, and mimetics, the various activities of this phase of the school work. In a very effective and pleasing manner, Miss Tabor, one of the seventh grade teachers, unified the entire program by incorporating these numbers into the play, "Our Child Health Day," which was presented by pupils from the seventh and eighth grades. Miss Tabor and her very capable cast deserve much credit.

Miss Bragg, the assistant superintendent of the Newton schools, who has been one of the pioneers in child health education in this country, added to the enjoyment of the occasion by a short but inspiring talk.

It is significant of the results of the stress now being laid upon health education that out of a school enrollment of approximately 600 children, 437 were awarded health banners, which meant "no physical defects."

The graduating class has presented to the school a gift of sixty dollars, part of which is to be used in the purchase of two pictures and the remainder to be put into the school fund.

In memory of Jean Carver, there has been presented to the school by her mother and her brother a re-

THE WARREN JUNIOR HIGH

Health Day was fittingly observed last Friday with an elaborate program carried out in a most excellent manner by the pupils of the various grades.

"America" was first on the program followed by Elizabeth Kershaw who presented "The Goal of Child Health Day." A play "Our Child Health Day" was then given by Curtis Beach, William Leighton, Richard Shaw, Ruth Chase, Barbara Livermore, Dorris Elliott, Mary De Santis, Dwight Newell, Alber Guzzi, Florence Bell, Julia Harvey, Richard Stoddard, Hugh Owens, with James Chandler as the bugler and with the assistance of the Glee Club.

A skit "How to Keep the Food Rules" was then given by Phyllis Wood, Aera Freeman, Genevieve Gill, Thelma Prouty, Grace Gai, Helen Shepard, Frances Morton, Betty Cotter.

This was followed by a gym drill in which Robert Andrews, Leon Ober, Gerard Hegarty, Dickinson Goode, Arthur Soule, John Parker, Thomas Shaughnessy, Marcel Orleans participated followed by an athletic dance by Roy Wyeth.

Barbara Ordway, Carolyn Young and Alice Burton then gave the song entitled "The Task of the Toothbrush."

The indoor program then ended with the singing of "America the Beautiful" and the announcement by Mr. Scarborough that grade 7 had won the Poster Campaign and grade had the largest number of 100% banner pupils.

Notwithstanding the dubious weather, the school was able to carry out its outdoor program. The principle feature of these exercises was the dance, "Inspiration of Youth." Polly Godfrey took the part of Youth, with Dorothy Nichols, representing Newton and Curtis Leach, Uncle Sam. The other parts were taken by Mary Dempsey, Marie Parkhurst, Dorothy Martin, Velma Sullivan, Dorothy Wright, Mildred Hoban, Mildred Fogwill, Helen Cavallo, Thelma Robbins, Jerry Miller.

Prizes were awarded by Mr. Paul Scarborough, the principal of the school. Virginia Rudolph won first place for the best poster, Ruth Grandaw was second and Elizabeth Kershaw third. Grade 7 was first in poster work, grade 8 was second and grade 9, third.

Grade 7 had the largest number of 100% banner pupils, with grade 8 second and grade 9 third.

BIGELOW JUNIOR HIGH

The Bigelow Junior High School observed "Health Recognition Day" Wednesday, with appropriate exercises. The hall was filled with parents and children. Every pupil wore one or more badges, indicating that weight, posture, and teeth met the required conditions, and those who had all defects corrected were given a banner.

During the program, no aspect of the ways and means toward good health was overlooked. The Vegetable Girls and Milk Maids who helped with weight. We heard a scientific discussion concerning the teeth. We heard a French man tell us in his own language, his ideas of health. We witnessed gymnastic drills and posture exercises. We were privileged to be present at the secret meeting of Room 10's Alphabet Band, each member of which represented an element of Good Health. We were delighted with Health songs. Last of all, we willingly applauded when Henrietta Witten and Clifford Kirttredge were presented with badges signifying that they stood first on the Health List of the eighth grade. Then we found that the most inspiring bit of all was the banner Parade coming at the end and including all pupils who were standard in weight, perfect in posture and teeth, and had no physical defects.

As a climax to this, Miss Bragg honored us in telling of the value of Health Work, of some of Newton's accomplishments in this line during the past eight years, and of the increasing interest being taken in Health throughout the State.

In all, it was a fine performance, and we offer our congratulations to those who took part.

ANGIER SCHOOL

On Monday, May 28th, the Angier School will celebrate Health Recognition Day. A short play written by one of the teachers, "Cinderella in Healthville" will be presented. During the play all those entitled to health banners will be awarded them before the entire school. Over 90% of the pupils will receive banners which indicate perfect physical condition.

St. Charles School of Waltham defeated the Waban playground baseball team 4-2 on Tuesday afternoon. Horace Wood won the Waban championship, but lost the Newton championship in the third round to Bobby Dunn of Newton Centre.

A class of 25 interested boys are learning the construction of airplane models on the playground and it is hoped later that they will be entered in the Waban playground tournaments. The models are made to fly and the decision as to the winner will be governed by the length of time the models remain in the air.

The Representative American Child Health Association is to make a study of 100 pupils in the fifth and sixth grades in the city of Newton. The Angier School has been chosen for this purpose.

Robert Cookson, the Mason pitcher, was in fine form and let the Bigelow batters down with two hits and fanned ten. Fred Perkins put up a great game, hitting three singles in four times at the bat.

Mason School easily defeated Warren School last Monday at Newton Centre, with a score of 9-3. The all-round playing of Goodbar and Kevorkian stood out for Mason.

Mason School Juniors baseball team remained undefeated through its victory over Emerson Juniors with a score of 9-1, Tuesday at Newton Upper Falls.

Edited by EMMA D. COOLIDGE

IN MEMORIAM

Annie Irene Eaton

Whose life was one of tireless, loyal, and loving service for others; as devoted wife, as understanding mother, as faithful friend, as beneficent of little children, as high-minded Clubwoman and patriot

Founder of the Shakespeare Club in 1891
President of the Monday Club 1904-1906
Vice-President Newton Federation 1924-1927
Vice-Regent Sarah Hull Chapter D. R. 1925-1926
Vice-President of Fathers and Mothers Club
President Boston Woman's Civics Club 1927-1928.

To her Clubwomen who have come within her wise counsel, atmosphere of peace, and uplift of mind and heart, pay loving tribute and they will hold in life-long memory the inspiration of her life and deeds.

The following Resolution was adopted by the Shakespeare Club: Whereas, our Heavenly Father, in an all wise Providence, has removed from our midst our beloved sister and co-member of the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club, Annie I. Eaton, its founder, and an untiring worker for others. Whereas, her family has lost a loving mother and a faithful companion. Therefore, be it resolved, that the Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club extend to her children and husband their love and sympathy in their hour of sorrow and separation, with the full trust that our Heavenly Father in His love and tenderness will be to them a source of daily comfort and strength, until the Final Reunion where partings are unknown. Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to each member of the bereaved family and also a copy be placed among the records of the Club.

RECENT EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

The last meeting of the Shakespeare Club was held May 12th at the home of Mrs. A. L. Pratt, 67 Fisher Avenue. The work of the afternoon was the Review of Twelfth Night in charge of Mrs. Charles H. Keeler. She brought out many instances showing how perfectly human, love, and poetry were all intermingled, and how full the play is of sweetness and pleasantness. It has little satire, and it aims at the ludicrous, rather than the ridiculous; is of a pastoral and poetical cast, and is justly considered one of the most delightful of Shakespeare's comedies. The fanciful, dreamy, musical nature of the Duke was well brought out, the dignity of Olivia like a princess of romance, and the deep, silent, patient love of Viola, and, finally, the Clown as the Philosopher of the play. Ice cream, cake, and coffee were served by the hostess, and a social intermission enjoyed.

Newtonville Woman's Club

The first annual May Party under the auspices of the Newtonville Woman's Club was held in Temple Hall last Saturday afternoon.

The May Pageant, planned by Miss Marion Bassett, who had charge of the whole affair, was beautifully carried out by children of Club members. Virginia Kyle, attended by her fairies, made a lovely little May Queen. Pupils from the Clafin School, in their bright costumes, danced gaily around the May Pole, and solo dances were given by Frances and Betty Dobbins, Anita Elkins, Louise Butchart, Nancy Costello and Barbara Risden, all in fancy dress.

COMING EVENTS

Shakespeare Club of Newton Highlands

The Newton Highlands Shakespeare Club is invited to the home of Mrs. H. E. Durgin, one of the charter members, at Norwell for its annual June Outing. This is planned for Saturday, June 2nd, and will consist of the usual feast of lobster. It is planned that all members go down in autos owned by fellow Club members. Mrs. Durgin's home is very attractive, and in addition to this pleasure the guests will visit the beautiful woods on the adjacent estate owned by Mr. Fog. This is one of the delightful groves in that vicinity and has many varieties of trees which are well known and which are splendid specimens of their kind.

General Federation

Vital and absorbing contemporary world topics, particularly those dealing with human welfare and progress, will be analyzed and discussed by nationally and internationally known women and men at the Nineteenth Biennial Convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in San Antonio, Texas, May 28-June 7, the president Mrs. John Dickinson Sherman, presiding.

Through conferences, round tables, reports and recommendations, the club women themselves will take a conspicuous part in the deliberations of this great international gathering of women, for every State in the Union and many foreign countries will be represented in the several thousand delegates and visitors who will attend.

The stupendous program on behalf of the American Home which has been carried on with phenomenal success during the past four years by the Federation is reflected in the convention keynote, "The Fine Art of Living: Making the Federation Function in Daily Life." Mrs. H. S. Godfrey of Minneapolis is chairman of the program committee. Addresses on phases of home life and home making will be supplemented with an exhibit showing an entire home fully equipped with modern labor saving and sanitary devices. Exhibits of all departments of Federation work will be a feature, a total of 32,000 square feet of space having been set aside for this purpose.

Memorial Day—a day of reverence of our soldier dead—approaches with all its beauty and significance. I, as a citizen, am proud to say its observance in Newton is not lost sight of. Fitting ceremonies are conducted by surviving veterans, whose solemn and affectionate thoughts are revealed in the decoration of their comrades' graves and by the holding of appropriate exercises.

Until this country entered the World War eleven years ago we had thought only of the men of the Mexican War, the Civil War, the Spanish War and the early Colonial conflicts as our heroes of the battlefield. Today we have these graves and the graves of younger men wherein our tributes are laid. More saddened hearts, more cherished memories.

In each home from which a brave soul has gone in the uniform of his country, never to return, Memorial Day has its deepest meaning. There it can never be forgotten. There loving and tender hands prepare floral tokens of remembrance. There tear-filled eyes look upon a photograph or some belonging of the noble soul who has made the supreme sacrifice. There are the days of his happy presence recalled and there is the silent but most touching observance of Memorial Day.

Other people may forget and make of May thirtieth no less than a holiday—a day of diversion, recreation and lighter pleasures. But they do not understand. They have never been permitted to know the value of that priceless heritage—the love of a patriot who died for his country. That is the spirit that unites the people of our city on Memorial Day and which will forever keep fresh the honors paid the blessed memories of our soldier dead.

It has more than once been said that you cannot change human nature by legislation. Apparently the Massachusetts General Court, or at least a majority thereof, has a different idea. Evidently it is bound to have such an experiment made. The cost, which will not be excessive, will fall upon the taxpayers. Those who are back of the proposition will probably argue that since it is the people who are to benefit they should pay the bills. It sounds reasonable and then again it doesn't.

Behold then a recent act of the Legislature, duly signed and approved by the Governor. It directs the State Board of Bank Incorporation and the State Public Utilities Commission to investigate the feasibility of "enacting additional legislation so as to prevent unscrupulous promoters and operators" and also "the regulation and control of investment trusts and the better enforcement of the Sale of Securities Act."

This means that steps are to be taken to protect certain trusting people from their own weaknesses. Can it be done? I sincerely hope that it may be brought about, thought I must say I have some strong and vigorous doubts. It seems to me that the buying of gold bricks is a personal matter. As long as there are people with money in their possession there will always be individuals engaged in plotting and scheming to get hold of it. Any way will do, but the least violent method, of course, is preferable.

The unscrupulous man or woman who invents some kind of a device for getting an "easy mark" to part with his coin is one of our chief tormentors. He is so slippery that he is hard to catch and he is so thoroughly without principle or conscience that he frequently selects those who suffer acutely from their own foolishness.

Every day or so we read of some ingenious form of bunco game that has netted the operator a lot of money and brought disaster to those who were the victims. "How can people be so foolish?" we ask, and then we put ourselves on the back and say "They couldn't fool me that way."

A husband expects to be busy. That's part of his job round the place. He does what he's told by the missus. Takes orders with fairly good grace; One job at a time is his motto. "Twould seem that was really enough. But when a late Spring brings cold weather.

I must say his lot's a bit rough; The heater must have his attention. That's plenty for one man to do.

At cutting the grass along with it. He kicks. I don't blame him. Do you?

LODGES

In spite of the inclement weather on Sunday, nearly 300 members of the various Masonic bodies in the Fifth Masonic district assembled at the Masonic building on Sunday morning and under the escort of the DeMolay band marched to Central church, Newtonville. The body of the church was well filled by members of the order and the altar was flanked with banners of the different bodies.

The pastor, Rev. Dr. Arthur M. Ellis, gave an earnest and impressive sermon on the "Ideals of Masonry," stressing the fundamental idea of a belief in God, the meaning of brotherhood and the belief in immortality. Did you ever try to tell a man that he was making a foolish investment? If you have you will recall with what scorn your advice or suggestion was received. It is one of the easiest ways to arouse the bitter indignation of even a dear friend. All you have to do is to politely intitiate that his judgment may be poor and he will become wrathy and tell you to mind your own business. The fact that the stock may be worthless isn't what has made him angry. Oh, no, it is your reflection on his mental processes. His pride has been hurt because he resents any criticism of his business ability.

How in the world is the State or anybody else going to fix it so you can tell a man he is a dumb-bell and get him to believe it? He may if he has been through the mill and found himself fleeced, but if he is considering the purchase of stock offered by an oily-tongued promoter he will not accept your views. Rather he will get so huffy you will wish you had never spoken of the matter.

I firmly believe that in view of the fact that so many worthless stocks and securities are being unloaded on the people that they should be saved from themselves. I also am convinced that it is something that will have to be handled delicately. To tell a man he is making a tremendous blunder and still hold his friendship requires the art of a diplomat. But let us make the effort anyway and see what happens.

Americans certainly love courage. It's part of the great American system and that system just can't be beat. Last Saturday several hundred thousand more or less frenzied citizens of Massachusetts, a goodly number of Newtonites among them, yelled their

The Officers Association of the Newton Girl Scouts held their annual meeting at Camp Mary Day, the Newton Girl Scout Camp in Natick, on Wednesday evening May 16th. Supper was prepared by the officers from West Newton and was served on the porch overlooking Nonesuch Pond. After supper all the officers gathered around the open fire in the camp house and discussed various problems of troop management that have arisen during the year. The discussion was very open and frank, and most of the officers felt that they had gained valuable knowledge by hearing the opinions and experiences of others. After the discussion came the report of the nominating committee for officers for next year. The list of new officers was unanimously elected as follows: President, Captain Priscilla Ordway, Troop 3, Newton Centre; vice-president and chairman of the program committee, Captain Adelaide Hall, Troop 8, Auburndale; secretary Lieutenant Widger, Troop 3, Newton Centre; treasurer, Lieutenant Ryder, Troop 17, Upper Falls; chairman supervisor committee, Captain Elizabeth Pilimpton, Troop 23, Newton Centre. Cheers were given for the new president and for the retiring president, Captain Moore of Troop 21, Newton Highlands, and the association adjourned until next October.

The annual meeting of the Newton Council was held at Camp Mary Day on Thursday afternoon, May 17th.

Mrs. Stanley Bolster, deputy commissioner, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Meserve, and reports were heard from the director and the chairmen of the troop committees from each village. The budget for 1929 was voted on and adopted and officers for another year were elected as follows:

Honorary Commissioner, Mrs. Frank A. Day, Deputy Commissioners, Mrs. Stanley Bolster, Mrs. Raymond Collins, Secretary, Mrs. Frances Meserve, Treasurer, Mrs. Maynard Hutchinson, Chairman Executive Board, Mrs. Albert Carter, Chairman Court of Awardees, Mrs. Norman Bingham, Chairman Camp Committee, Miss Sarah Hackett, Members at Large, Mrs. Clinton Tylee, Mrs. Walton Redfield. After the meeting was adjourned tea was served on the porch.

Twelve junior girls from troop 24, Waban and 4 girls from troop 14, spent the night of Friday, May 18th, in the Calf Barn at Cedar Hill. Senior Girls camping in the Rookery gave a surprise party for the Juniors in the evening, a wonderful track meet won by Patrol 3. In the morning the girls played tracking games and in the afternoon they had to go home although they said that they would have liked to have spent a week.

The Senior Patrol Leaders Association of the Newton Girl Scouts spent a successful and happy week-end at Camp Mary Day, May 19th and 20th.

The most important business that came up was the taking over of the Newton Girl Scout Magazine.

The Treasure Hunt, by this Association for another year, A supper meeting will be held at Camp Mary Day on June 3rd, at which time the editor in chief and other members of the staff will be chosen.

The Massachusetts Local Directors Association held its last meeting of the year at Camp on Monday, May 21st.

Fifteen Local Directors were present as well as the State Director, Miss Ruth Stevens, and the Directors for the Western, Eastern and Metropolitan Divisions of Massachusetts.

Camp Mary Day is a very busy camping site this spring. Every Saturday and Friday night are taken by different troops well into June, and dates for day time hikes and get-togethers are equally numerous. Troop 2, Newton, was one of the troops that has enjoyed a happy night in camp 29 girls with Captain Smith, and Mrs. Hodges, the chairman of the Newton troop committee, spent Friday night, May 18th in camp, and in spite of the bad weather they voted this over night like a very successful occasion.

EMBASSY THEATRE

The popular policy of the Embassy, Waltham's Wonder Theatre, of featuring star vaudeville acts with feature photoplays and other screen features will be continued throughout the summer months, the Embassy management has announced.

"The Divine Woman," with Greta Garbo and Lowell Sherman, is the feature photoplay for the first half of next week. For the last three days of the week, Lou Chaney in "The Big City" is the feature photoplay. It's the greatest American character actor in one of his greatest roles. The supporting cast includes Marcelline Day, James Murray and Virginia Pearson.

In addition to the feature photoplays there will be the news weekly and comedy film. These are changed twice weekly. At all performances there will be the regular Embassy features including the music on the Kilgen organ, and Ray Stewartson's Broadcasting Orchestra.

The vaudeville for the entire week has been kept secret. It is new, it is different and will come as a complete surprise to the audience. It contains several sensational novelties.

There will be five acts on each bill.

The special Sunday concert includes "Wheels of Destiny" with Miss DuPont and Georgia Hale, with five star acts of vaudeville, engaged for Sunday only.

FOR USE ON PLAYGROUNDS

$8,000 to war veterans, over $6,000 to Vermont Flood Relief, and over $2,000 to scholarships. The Woman's Educational and Industrial Union contributed over $18,000 to education and nearly $11,000 to social work. The Women's Circle of Florence Crittenton League raised $57,000 for their cause, and the Auxiliary to Morgan Memorial supported their Day Nursery and Kindergarten by raising $10,000. These are but a few of similar examples of good works by many other Clubs. The Woman's Charity Club has accomplished what is possibly the most stupendous undertaking of the year in the entire State—completed the $175,000 Elizabeth Otis Wing to the Massachusetts Woman's Hospital on Parker Hill, taking $59,000 of unrestricted funds, raising $26,000, and erecting, equipping, and furnishing this new building with the "last word" in x-ray and surgical equipment.

Mrs. Edward A. Rice, director of the 15th district, with 22 Clubs having a membership of 2,500, told of a multiplicity of good works. The district forest, comprising 33 and 34 acres of most desirable land, situated in the town of Russell, the generous gift of Mr. Horace Moses of Springfield, a part of his beautiful estate, toward which the Clubs of the districts 14 and 15, have contributed a sufficient fund to plant 11,000 red and white pines was one of the most fascinating to recount. Next in interest, because of its personal touch, the Greenfield Woman's Club, which proudly lays claim to the now State president, Mrs. Potter, has given to the Federation Headquarters, in her honor, a beautiful painting. A stirring bit of work is the sponsoring and bringing together of a Corporation for a Home for the Aged in Franklin County.

Miss Carolyn J. Peck, chairman of Press and Publicity, summed up her endless task of supplying the dozen weekly papers with State news, and at intervals all the 62 of the State that carry Federation notices. Special stories featuring Mrs. Poole were sent as well to Texas, New Jersey and Georgia papers, at meetings in which States she was an honored guest. Similar feature items were sent to Memphis, Tenn., for Mrs. Frances Mayer Carter, delegate for the General Federation for the National Conference of Social Work held this month. Miss Peck has attended 14 district conferences, where speeches and round tables gave suggestions, testing her diligence and devotion to duty, as well as many special Club days. The Scrapbook, radio, and Club Bulletins are another avenue that take much time and show great progress. She announced that 55 stories were sent in on the contest, for which a prize of $25 was offered. She announced the winner as Miss Lena C. Emery of the Salem Woman's Club for her story "Reading Circles for the Blind." Of eight given honorable mention two are from Newton, a percent to be proud of—Mrs. Ernest F. Drew of Auburndale and Mrs. Joseph A. MacDonald of West Newton.

A ripple of merriment spread wild-fire-fashion through the great audience of 1900 women when Mrs. Boyd F. Bowles of Wollaston, conscientious timekeeper and corresponding secretary, unwillingly rang down Miss Peck, just as she was about to name Mrs. Bowles as one of the "honorable mentions." Miss Peck persisted a minute beyond the forbidding bell, however, with the news of the honor coming to Mrs. Bowles, to the laughing confusion of the latter.

Mrs. Arthur J. Crockett, chairman of Community Service, gave one of the cleverest metaphors of the entire convention, likening her department to the making of a patchwork quilt. The general pattern, balanced design of four units, were civics, citizenship, motion pictures, and volunteer-service. The materials used by every Club chairman were foresight, tact, co-operation, and fearlessness of criticism. The result in big squares, tiny ones, bright and sombre, firm in texture, have been sorted into the quilt that is a worthy example of the purpose, versatility and power of the Massachusetts Clubwomen. In the centre on a white circle in golden letters, "co-operation," from this radiates the various arms—one the civic arm, bright scarlet, spelling fire prevention—the fireman, the alarm-box, the fire extinguishers; another arm the squares of junior patrols, teaching the children safety rules of traffic. Then there are the billboard patches; the recreation section with tiny figures of scouts and camp-fire girls, playground apparatus, dancing children, skating-rinks, Christmas trees, pageants, a war memorial; the motion picture section bearing lists of junior programs, patriotic and religious films, and the box-office caption "This is the place to register your protest—money talks." Still another unit is of red, white and blue arranged with orderly squares of three symbolic animals—the elephant, the donkey, and the ostrich. The first two have an imploring look, as if saying "Please come and join us Club-women," while the wily ostrich is daring you to hunt him out and make the citizens who follow his example take their share of the responsibility. Here are pictures of the ballot-box and of specimen ballots, mute witness of practical work done. The last section of the quilt is again of bright-colored interest, tempting to examination—school lunches prepared, milk for children, dental clinics, Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets, motor corps, hospital rooms furnished, entertainments for the blind, valentine parties for the aged—a kaleidoscope of good deeds. And blending these into a durable, harmonious whole, are the strips which have been woven out of the wisdom, tact, fearlessness and friendliness of the many willing workers. Was not that a most warming and comforting, and altogether lovely, patchwork quilt the year had made?

The Department of the American Home, Mrs. Ralph H. Reed, chairman, made clear in what way their year's work had stressed the spiritual forces of home life. Ethics of family became the pivot about which all activities and building of programs revolved. Comprehensive study outlines, especially in the home-making division, gave ideas for programs to Club chairmen—Religious Essentials, Social Essentials, Professional Reading, were balanced in the effort for elements to develop character and richer human relationship through the spiritual, moral and mental phases.

Mrs. Daniel M. Goodbridge's report on Conservation started in with a most breathtaking accomplishment of the Camp Fire Girls, made possible by the co-operation of the State and Metropolitan Forestry Departments—35,000 trees planted in the 7 forest reservations, each of these dedicated to one of the 7 points of the Camp Fire Girls' law. The per cent for Massachusetts is certainly a source of pride for in the United States at this time 100,000 were planted by such groups. The two yearly campaigns for fire prevention, bills on "Zoning of the Public Highways," with protection of scenic beauties against business encroachment, such as hot dog stands, gasoline stations, bill boards, etc., the preservation of Franconia Notch, were the big events of the year told briefly but made clear to all who may not be informed upon them. Of more private enterprise, such as town forests sponsored by Clubs; school grounds beautified with shrubs, gardens, trees; bird study, walking groups, gardens, Camp Fire Girls, Girl and Boy Scouts' phases, by which these young people are wisely trained to participate intelligently in the government of their country, and in problems of careful balance and maintenance of natural resources—as she so aptly put it—she gave an inspiring account.

And on Thursday came the big day of the Convention, with hosts of wonderful flowers, until the great hall seemed a bower of beauty, given to hosts of outgoing and incoming friends. A wave of sadness in seeing valued officers step down from the throne to enter the ranks of Clubwomen; and a wave of enthusiasm and pledged loyalty in seeing the new ones crowned, and entering upon their tasks.

Mrs. Packard, the new president, attended the convention, in spite of the accident which caused a broken ankle bone, the only telltale being a walking stick. It would, indeed, have been a tragedy if she could not have been present to take the gavel, and Clubwomen who had heard of the accident were delighted to greet her.

Before the official announcement of the election returns, and of resolutions adopted, several department reports finished the yearly business of the session.

Mrs. William G. Potter, 3rd district director, added to the list of generosity that have been the style of the preceding days of the convention. Among them were contributions to work for hospitals, Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., disabled veterans, Near East relief, Americanization work, Public Health, Education, Art, Music. The Fortnightly Club of Sharon is sending one student each year to college, and in addition purchasing a bond each year, so that in time their Student Loan Fund will be self-supporting. Fall River gave a $400 scholarship, and a series of four concerts by world-famous artists at expense of time and money. Foxborough in its Christmas Tree, its Caroling, and Chartfests, and in its co-operation with the Town for the Sesqui-centennial which occurs in July, has made a proud record for community service. New Bedford arranges that 25 blind people, ranging in age from 20 to 80, are taken every Wednesday afternoon from October to June in automobiles to the Club House where they are entertained—the one bright spot of the week to many of them.

Mrs. Philip H. Tirrell, director of the 8th district, broadcast from her station the finding of home talent in all Clubs—speaking admiringly of Home Talent Days in her district that were so worthwhile and enjoyed. She raised a ripple of laughter when she said it was now the custom to hold Presidents' Days in the fall to insure better weather this calling to vision for everyone present, no doubt, the faring forth to such festivities almost invariably in the worst blizzard of some memorable year.

The director of the 10th district, Mrs. Lewis R. Hovey, visited 17 of the 15 Clubs in her district, and of "the apprenticeship in the laboratory of experience," said: "Clubwomen are learning more every day of what it means to be a Clubwoman, to have an understanding heart, and to realize more and more the true value of friendship, kindness, sympathy and those finer things of the spirit which become increasingly dear to them as they serve together with devotion and unselfishness." She touched the key-note of Club life. An outstanding activity she reported, was that of the West Newbury Woman's Club, which is responsible for definite work now being carried on by Chambers of Commerce reclaiming the beautiful Merrimac River from the Merrimac.

Mrs. George H. Sawyer, director of the 11th district, was clever in opening her report with the following: "A year ago this director expressed the hope that she might acquire some of the Divine graces and virtues, when she accepted the title of D. D. While she can hardly say that these hopes have been fulfilled, she has seen these characteristics exemplified in our State president and other officers with whom she has been privileged to meet and work." Such a pretty tribute makes one suspect that she qualified in Mrs. Crockett's committee for tact. She, too, referred to the weather-man, who had helped to make her travelling easier, except on one occasion, when in the words of the Good Book, "The wicked stand in slippery places," made those who attended that particular conference conclude there was "none good among us, no not one." With which bright spot of witicism ushered in a most inspiring list of Club activities: gifts to Rutland Hospital and the Children's Hospital, not in a mere package, but by the automobile-load; Club husbands carrying loads to Vermont after the flood; scholarships, student-loans; a Sunday afternoon literary vesper service; beautifying public grounds with shrubs and flower beds; and from these "many mighty works," to the more exclusively Club ones of classes in literature, current events, art appreciation, Bible study, rug making, home furnishing, cooking, lamp shade making, garden clubs, and activities for money-making such as plays, rummage sales, fairs, food sales, card parties, dances, silver teas, and many, many more. Surely an amazing array that visualized riches, but heed how she ended: "We have no large Clubs, the average membership being, under 150, and no monied Clubs, with the average dues less than $2.50, but we have ideals and visions and willing workers; we represent some of the best New England towns, and our officers and members are God's noblewomen whom it is a pleasure to serve." If so much is possible under such circumstances what should not the large and wealthy Clubs accomplish!

The director of the 14th district, Mrs. P. M. Lynch said particular stress has been placed the past year on work with the war veterans. Every Club has helped materially to make life happier at the Veterans' Hospital at Leeds. Gifts, entertainments sometimes twice a month visits, made up this splendid work. An open Club meeting for Northampton, Southampton and Easthampton had a gala program for "Hampton Day." "A never-to-be-forgotten pageant depicting the story of the Christchild, with women from 59 different towns in Hampden and Hampshire Counties taking chorus; and character parts proved the great Club consciousness in Western Massachusetts," she said. And she ended, having an unusual opportunity, since from her district come two leaders for the State: "The 14th district with pardonable pride offers you to day one of her choicest and most precious possessions, one whom we all love very dearly, Mrs. A. A. Packard. We know that she is going to make a wonderful president of the State Federation. We know this to be true particularly because the past two years have proved that Western Massachusetts contributed another staunch and fine type of woman. Mrs. Arthur Devens Potter."

Newton was glad of the honor of hearing a most inspiring report from one of their Clubwomen, Mrs. Florence G. Morse, vice-chairman of the Americanization Department, reporting for the chairman, Mrs. Benjamin D. May. She quickwittedly took advantage of the unusual opportunity offered, as it is usually the chairman who has the exclusive chance to command her committee, and paid Mrs. May kindly and loyal tribute for her splendid accomplishments of the past year, which she stated had been largely achieved through her own efforts, the first one before her committee had returned from their vacations. This was the putting on of an exhibit at the Springfield Exposition last September, a varied collection of treasures and handwork loaned by the foreign-born. A different girl, each day, dressed in her national costume, added greatly to the picture and to the charm of the exhibit—this through the co-operation of Chancellor McGow of the American International College.

Mrs. Morse stated that the project for which the committee had worked wholeheartedly the past year had been to create an interest among the American home-makers to extend assistance to home-makers of other lands in obtaining necessary knowledge to adjust themselves to their new conditions and mode of living. As an example as to how splendidly the Clubs had co-operated 14 of the best homes of the members of the Friday Club of Everett, had been opened for Friendly Teas, to 200 foreign-born women. The Newton Community Club also has done excellent work in this hospitality, as well as in practical dressmaking courses. Other Clubs have entertained with motion pictures, parties, garden classes, and have made visits to the homes.

Revised lists of books on Racial backgrounds, names of speakers on Americanization subjects, and practical suggestions for such work in the Clubs have been sent to all Clubs in the State.

Attention was called to the dolls, dressed by foreign-born in various Clubs, on exhibit in their allotted booth at the New Ocean House.

Mrs. Morse ended: "We have endeavored to impress upon our Club women their obligation to our new Americans in whose hands, to so large an extent, is the future of our country. We shall thereby help them to have a greater respect for law and laws and a higher conception of personal liberty—so do we promote community welfare and a Christlike love of our neighbors."

On recommendation of the Executive Board it was voted that an invitation be extended at San Antonio to the General Federation to hold its 1928 Council Meeting at the New Ocean House, as guests of the State Federation.

Mrs. Arthur Potter, outgoing president, was unanimously the choice of the delegate body as the Massachusetts General Federation director, to succeed Mrs. Smith.

Courtesy resolutions, a resolution relative to the adoption of the form of civilian salute to the flag as agreed upon at the last national flag conference, held in Washington, D. C., and a resolution by which the State Federation stood ready to co-operate with the General Federation in raising a foundation fund, if said plan is approved by the General Federation.

The following ballot was then declared elected, and the new officers were introduced on the platform, amidst the bower and shower of flowers, and hearty applause:

Mrs. Azel A. Packard of Springfield was elected president; vice presidents serving with her include, first, Mrs. Carl L. Schrader; second, Mrs. Frank P. Bennett, Jr.; third, Mrs. Thomas J. Walker; fourth, Mrs. John H. Kimball; Clerk, Mrs. Edwin L. Pride; assistant clerk, Mrs. Allen V. Mosher; corresponding secre-

ERSKINE Six, Dictator, Commander or President Eight—they're champions all! Read their separate, sweeping records—officially certified by the American Automobile Association. Champions in performance! Champions in stamina! Champions in durability! Studebaker has taken these three vital tests of value and proved them in the only way they can be proved—by heroic tests of strictly stock cars under official sanction.

Think what this means to you in terms of everyday service—in terms of getting the most for every dollar you invest in a motor car!

Studebaker Stands Supreme

These marvelous records made by Studebaker and Erskine cars are positive proof that they stand supreme and alone in their ability to travel thousands of miles at high speeds without mechanical trouble. These sensational proofs of inbuilt speed and endurance are direct results of Studebaker engineering genius, quality materials, precision manufacture and rigid inspections. For these reasons Studebaker and Erskine cars may safely be driven forty miles an hour the minute they leave the assembly line. Engine oil need be changed only at 2500-mile intervals.

When championship performance and championship stamina can be bought in Studebaker-built cars at One-Profit prices (that in themselves set records of value), why be content with less than a champion?

Today Studebaker alone can offer you a champion in every price class. Come in today—drive a Studebaker champion! Let the car speak for itself.

BROOKLINE WINS ON TRACK IN RAIN

In the downpour of rain last Friday afternoon the Brookline high track team defeated Newton high, 47 to 25, in their annual dual affair on the Boston College track for the second consecutive year. No records were broken but plenty of close competition was had with Captain Eugene Record and John Badaracco of Brookline scoring twenty-three points, nearly enough to beat Newton themselves.

Captain Record won the low hurdles and 440-yard run and took second in the 220 while Badaracco won the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. The most thrilling event of the meet was the half-mile. Arthur Chamberlain of Newton and John Jewett of Brookline ran neck and neck over the entire course with Chamberlain breasting the tape only a step ahead of his opponent. Captain James McCrudden, Newton star half-miler, did not run and will probably lay off until the state meet in the Stadium on June 2nd.

Carl Pescosolido won the shot-put and took third in the 100-yard dash for six points while Romaine Cole took second in the hurdles and third in the broad jump for four points. This pair were Newton's only athletes to score in two events.

The summary:

Putting 12-Pound Shot—Won by Pescosolido, N., 42 ft. 1 in.; Finck, B., second, 40 ft.; Prince, B., third, 39 ft. 7 in.

120-Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Record, B.; Cole, N., second; Duane, B., third. Time, 14 2-5s.

100-Yard Dash—Won by Badaracco, B.; Linsky, B., second; Pescosolido, N., third. Time, 10 3-5s.

880-Yard Run—Won by Chamberlain, N.; Jewett, B., second; Gibbs, N., third. Time, 1 m. 6 s.

Running High Jump—Won by Ebelhauer, N.; tie for second Prince, Barry and Badaracco, B.; Height, 5 ft. 8 in.

440-Yard Run—Won by Record, B.; Werner, B., second; Adams, N., third. Time, 54 2-5 s.

Running Broad Jump—Won by Badaracco, B., 19 ft. 9 in.; Brown, N., second, 19 ft. 4 in.; Cole, N., third, 18 ft. 10 in.

220-Yard Dash—Won by Prince, B.; Record, B., second; Linsky, B., third. Time, 22 3-5s.

SPORT NOTES

Lincoln Awarded Numerals

Hamilton Lincoln, former Country Day swimming star and captain of the Yale freshman swimming team the past winter, is among those awarded freshman numerals and charms at Yale this week.

Yale's Streak Stopped

Captain Dicky Vaughan and his Yale baseball team were stopped from stretching their winning streak over college teams to twelve Wednesday by the Holy Cross nine which out-played and outhit the Elis to win 10 to 5. Vaughan went hitless against the pitching of Fons and Dohens and had but two chances in the field, both of which he handled perfectly.

In their eleventh win on Tuesday with Colgate the victim, 4 to 2 Yale counted twice in the lucky seventh to tuck the game away. Vaughan had one single in three times at bat with four chances in the field. He stole two bases but did not reach the plate once.

Hunnefeld Continues Fine Playing

Bill Hunnefeld continues to play a fine game at second base for the Chicago Whitemen. In the recent series with Cleveland he played a prominent part in winning the last two games. In Tuesday's game his triple, followed by Metzler's home run, was good for two runs which with another run in the ninth enabled the White Sox to nose out their opponents 4 to 3. Hunnefeld's singe in the first inning scored Mostil with the first run on Wednesday Honey drew a walk in the tenth with the score knotted, took second on Barrett's unsuccessful fielder's choice and counted the winning run on Kamm's single. He also scored Clancy with his single earlier in the game.

Hill Wins Again

Malcolm Hill continued his victorious ways on Monday by defeating Banks of Williams 6-4, 6-3 in his singles match for the Harvard varsity against Williams which the Crimson won 6 to 3. In doubles Hill paired with Whitbeck, Harvard star, to capture the match from Wolf and Banks 8-6, 6-4.

Andres Gets Half of Hits

Vaughan Among .300

Captain Dick Vaughan of the Yale nine which increased its string of victories to twelve straight by nosing out Cornell last Saturday, boosted his average to .349 by collecting a hit on his only official time at bat. Previous to the game with the Ithacans Vaughan's average was .333.

Bobbie Dunn is Marble Champ

Bobbie Dunn, 13-year old brother of Willie Dunn, Newton marble champion in 1926 and winner of the Greater Boston championship in that year, won the 1928 championship of Newton this week in the final round of the city wide playground tourney at the Newton Centre playground. Bobbie won the city title last year and has his second chance in the Greater Boston finals to be held early in June on the Boston Common. The winner of the Greater Boston tourney gets a trip to the national finals at Atlantic City the middle of next month. In winning the city title young Dunn opposed Heaton Hickson, West Newton champ. The West Newton lad had the misfortune to have his shoulder left in the ring and the Newton Centre knocked it out, winning both games in this way. He will now have coaching from his brother in preparation for the more important games to come.

Hemeon's Hit Scores Run

Once again "Buster" Hemeon, former Newton high athlete, was sent to pinch hit for Cushing Academy and once again he delivered. Last Saturday Cushing was playing Keene Normal School and in the eighth inning the score was 7 to 6 in the Ashburnham school's favor when Hemeon came to bat for the catcher. His single sent in a teammate with a run, bringing Cushing's total to eight. Keene could get no more runs and Cushing won by a final score of 8 to 6. A triple play by Cushing in the fourth shut off a Keene rally after three runs had scored.

Y. M. C. A.

Of the hundred and eight boys who enrolled in the Annual Free Swimming Campaign conducted last week in the Newton Y. M. C. A. swimming pool in co-operation with the Humane Society of Massachusetts, one hundred and seventy-four boys attended the classes, and seventy-four boys were actually taught to swim at least thirty feet. Six classes were conducted in the pool every afternoon after school and on Saturday morning under the direction of Mr. Jack Manning of the Humane Society, and formerly crew coach at Harvard College. The enrollment came from the schools of Newton, Watertown, and Waltham.

Fifteen boys were awarded medals by the Humane Society for becoming the best swimmers in their groups, eight coming from Newton, five from Watertown, and two from Waltham. The boys are: Frank Farming and Weston Littlefield of the Claffin School; Edward Connolley and Anthony Capadanno of the Burr School; Kenneth Crafts of the Mason School; Alphonse Preedin of the Pierce School; Raymond Quinlan of the F. A. Day Junior High School; Fred Mathews of the Levi Warren Junior High School; Gardner Sherlock, Wm. Dudley, Roger Murray and Frank Operacz of the Hosmer School of Watertown; and John Hovey and Warren Cosgrove of the North Junior High of Waltham.

Captain Record won the low hurdles and 440-yard run and took second in the 220 while Badaracco won the 100-yard dash and the broad jump. The most thrilling event of the meet was the half-mile. Arthur Chamberlain of Newton and John Jewett of Brookline ran neck and neck over the entire course with Chamberlain breasting the tape only a step ahead of his opponent. Captain James McCrudden, Newton star half-miler, did not run and will probably lay off until the state meet in the Stadium on June 2nd.

The Class for instruction and tests in life saving composed of boys from Newton which was organized by the Red Cross Chapter of that place, meets in the Newton "Y" pool on Monday and Wednesday evenings this week. Mr. V. A. Anderson, Assistant Physical Director at the "Y" and a Red Cross Life Saver Examiner, is in charge of this class.

HOUSE WARMING

Mr. and Mrs. Loring Livingston Marshall, former residents of Grasmere street, Newton, gave an enjoyable house warming last Sunday afternoon at their new home on Grove street, Wellesley. They also took this opportunity to announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary L. Marshall and Mr. Robert Emerson Lamb Johnson of Chestnut Hill, Pa.

Miss Marshall is a graduate of the Newton High School and is a member of the junior class at Wellesley College. Mr. Johnson was graduated from Swarthmore College with the class of '27, and is a member of the Delta Upsilon fraternity.

No time for the wedding has been announced.

WILLIAMS—McCoy

Miss Edith May McCoy was married on Thursday evening to Mr. John Barr Williams. The ceremony, which took place at seven o'clock, in the Mount Vernon Church, was performed by Rev. A. Sidney Lovett, in the presence of the immediate families of the bride and groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. William E. McCoy of Wellesley Farms. She attended Ten Acre and Dana Halls schools. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Williams of Hartford, Conn., and is a graduate of Harvard College Class 1923, and the Harvard School of Business Administration, Class of 1925.

After a six weeks' honeymoon in Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Williams will make their home in Cambridge.

LODGES

Following the regular meeting of the Summer P. Lawrence Rebekah Lodge next Monday evening a Pie social will be held.
